

South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal

Volume 1

Article 17

2022

SCAMLE Journal 2022 Front Matter

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarcommons.sc.edu/scamle>

Part of the Junior High, Intermediate, Middle School Education and Teaching Commons

Recommended Citation

(2022) "SCAMLE Journal 2022 Front Matter," South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal: Vol. 1, Article 17.

Available at: <https://scholarcommons.sc.edu/scamle/vol1/iss1/17>

This Front Matter is brought to you by the USC Aiken at Scholar Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal by an authorized editor of Scholar Commons. For more information, please contact digres@mailbox.sc.edu.

South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal March 2022

SCAMLE

South
Carolina
Association
for Middle Level
Education

www.scamle.org

An affiliate of the Association for Middle Level Education

The South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal is an open-access, peer-reviewed publication that highlights research-based best practices that improve middle schools and the learning that occurs within and outside of the classroom. Readers of this journal are generally teachers, administrators, and other educators who are interested in the issues that young adolescents ages 10-15 and educators of those individuals face. The South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal is published once a year in an online format.

Editor

Deborah H. McMurtrie, Ph.D.
University of South Carolina Aiken

scamlejournal@usca.edu

DeborahMc@usca.edu

SCAMLE Journal Editorial Review Board 2021-2022

Thea Dirton, Ed.D., Tanglewood Middle School
Sarah Evanson-Atkinson, MA, Ralph Chandler Middle School
Patricia Fears, Ph.D., University of South Carolina Aiken
Brandee Green, Ed.D., Horse Creek Academy
Kayla Hostetler, Ph.D., Aiken High School
Kelli Kilbourne-Williams, MA, Leavelle McCampbell Middle School
Christine Oskar-Poisson, Ed.D., Lander University
Marla Sanders, Ph.D., Columbia College
Dywanna Smith, Ph.D., Claflin College
David Vawter, Ph.D., Winthrop University
Julia Wilkins, Ph.D., Presbyterian College
Toni Williams, Ph.D., University of South Carolina

SCAMLE JOURNAL CALL FOR MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscript Deadline: November 30

Classroom teachers, administrators, teacher educators, pre-service teachers, graduate students, and researchers are invited to submit manuscripts to the South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education (SCAMLE) professional journal. The SCAMLE Journal welcomes high-quality manuscripts of varying lengths that address the issues and needs of young adolescents. We accept practical, theoretical, and empirical papers, literature reviews, and book reviews specific to middle level education. We also accept creative writing and original artwork from middle level students and educators. Your manuscript must be original and must not be currently submitted for publication anywhere else.

SCAMLE Journal

The South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education (SCAMLE) Journal is an open-access, peer-reviewed publication that highlights research-based practices that improve middle schools and the learning that occurs within and outside of the classroom. Readers of this journal are generally teachers, administrators, and other educators who are interested in the issues that young adolescents ages 10-15 and educators of those individuals face. The South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal is published once a year in an online format.

Preparing Your Manuscript

Use the following guidelines to prepare your manuscript:

1. Include a separate cover letter:
 - a. List your name and school name, mailing address, and email address
 - b. List any co-authors in preferred order with the above information for each
 - c. Include a title, abstract (no more than 100 words), and key words
 - d. Confirm that this work is original and has not been published elsewhere, nor is it currently under consideration for publication elsewhere
2. The body of the manuscript should not exceed 15 pages. Text should be double-spaced in 12 point font, preferably in Microsoft Word.
3. No identifying characteristics may appear in the body of the manuscript (i.e., names of participants, authors, or schools must not appear in your manuscript).
4. All submissions must conform to the style found in the 7th edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA).
5. Full references for all citations should be included, following APA guidelines.
6. If student artifacts are included (i.e., artwork, photos, writing, etc.), authors must provide written permission releases for the use of the artifacts.
7. Images should be in .jpg format.

Submitting your Manuscript

Manuscripts should be typed in Microsoft Word and sent as an email attachment to SCAMLEJournal@usca.edu or deborahmc@usca.edu before the deadline.

Review of your Manuscript

The review process includes a preliminary evaluation by the journal editor for appropriateness, followed by a double blind peer-review process with at least two reviewers from the SCAMLE Journal Editorial Review Board. Acceptance is determined by the reviewers' recommendations and balance of topics in the annual issue. Your manuscript will be evaluated using the following criteria: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdpuNFKTt_EbAP6Urfw8qBy68fmMGvV7nBsWvnEP5k-tnK8hw/viewform?usp=sf_link

A decision is typically rendered within 8-10 weeks from the call deadline. Please send questions about manuscript submission to the Editor, Deborah McMurtrie, at SCAMLEJournal@usca.edu or DeborahMc@usca.edu.

ART CREDIT: Woodmont Middle School, Piedmont, SC

Table of Contents

BOOK REVIEWS

Confidence Builds Competence:
Creating Literate Identities as Readers and Writers
Victoria A. Oglan and Janie Riddle Goodman
104-108

ARTICLES

Melody and Memory:
Black Language in the Low Country
Dywanna Smith and Kenesha Johnson
109-115

No Cap: Unlocking the Self-Concepts of Students to Promote Limitless Identities
Walter A. Lee
116-120

Take a P.A.U.S.E. for Student Success
David H. Vawter
121-124

Movement for a Purpose: The Middle School
Classroom and Student Engagement
Emily Fehlig Chestnut
125-127

Connecting Weirdness and Wonder to Mathematics in Middle School
Elizabeth Basile, Deborah McMurtrie, and Bridget Coleman
128-131

Closing the STEM Gap: A University, P-12 School
District Partnership to Engage Sixth Grade
Students in Integrated Computing Activities
Michiko B. McClary, Deidra Morrison, Kamilah Brown, and Y. Rochelle Bennett
132-136

Analysis of Middle School Performance from Pre-COVID to Post COVID
Erik Lowry
137-144

Emergent Bilingual Students and Middle Level
Social Studies: Overcoming the “Huh?”
Asten Leonard
145-147

A South Asian Vice President Takes Office:
A Middle School Teaching Opportunity
Julia Wilkins and Anneda Nettleton
148-152

Learning Hunts are Educational Scavenger Hunts:
A Student-Centered Learning Approach
Leah L. Bynes
153-157

A Creative Solution to the Traditional School
Schedule
Lisa Rivera
158-160

Individualized Professional Development
Thea Dirton
161-163

Are Your Students Held Accountable?
Shauna Bashline
164-166

Advocating for Adolescent Literature
Michelle Rasheed and Deborah McMurtrie
167-171

South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal March 2022

www.scamle.org

An affiliate of the Association for Middle Level Education

The South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal is an open-access, peer-reviewed publication that highlights research-based best practices that improve middle schools and the learning that occurs within and outside of the classroom. Readers of this journal are generally teachers, administrators, and other educators who are interested in the issues that young adolescents ages 10-15 and educators of those individuals face. The South Carolina Association for Middle Level Education Journal is published once a year in an online format.

Annual Timeline:

Manuscript Submission Deadline: November 30

Manuscript Review Period: December 1- January 15

Final Revisions Due: February 15

Publication: March 1

Editor

Deborah H. McMurtrie, Ph.D.
University of South Carolina Aiken

scamlejournal@usca.edu

DeborahMc@usca.edu

