THE SOUTH CAROLINA LAW QUARTERLY

VOL. 2

DECEMBER, 1949

NO. 2

FOREWORD

We regret that a few copies of the September issue of the QUARTERLY were printed with an omission of several pages in the back. If any of our subscribers received such copies we will be glad to send them complete copies.

South Carolina Bar Association membership in 1950 will include a subscription to the QUARTERLY. This subscription will begin with Volume 2, Part 3, to be published in March. For this reason those subscribers who now belong to the Bar Association will not be asked to renew their subscriptions, but they will be sent the intervening issues at the usual charge.

With this issue we mark a new high point in student contributions. We feel that this is particularly worthy of comment because the research and writing by student contributors is probably the most valuable training that they receive in law school. In this connection we would like to recognize the splendid work of our Case and Note Editors, Lanville H. Mengedoht and Ralph Bailey, Jr., in guiding and directing these student writers.
