REPORT

To the Members of the Society:

I submit herewith my Report as Secretary and Treasurer for the year 1937, the first of the Society’s life. This Report, in condensed form, and the Minutes of the 1937 meeting were read and approved at the second meeting of the Society, February 22, 1938.

MINUTES OF THE FIRST ANNUAL MEETING, 1937

In response to an invitation from the President of the University and from its Caroliniana Committee fifty-six persons met at the Columbia Hotel, February 24, 1937, and there organized the University South Caroliniana Society; the constitution proposed by the Caroliniana Committee was adopted and the officers of the Society now serving were nominated and elected. A number of very apt and stimulating short talks were made; but it is the special pride of the members that it was with former Governor D. C. Heyward as the principal speaker that this society was founded.

REPORT FOR 1937

The Executive Committee, composed of the President, Vice-President, and Secretary and Treasurer, at several meetings formulated plans for the year. The Secretary was authorized to draw up a printed statement of the plans and aims of the organization, to be sent out with invitations to membership in the Society and with requests for cooperation with it. These invitations were issued only on nomination of members or friends, the purpose being to acquaint persons with the work of the organization and to enlist their active support, rather than merely to lengthen the roll of members. Among these letters were notices to other institutions in the state, offering and asking cordial cooperation in our work of preserving South Carolina historical material and keeping it in South Carolina. Nearly five hundred letters were written; on our list of charter members there are one hundred and eighty-four names, and we have many active friends besides. With great regret we have to announce the loss by death of three of these members: Mr. William E. Gonzales, Mrs. C. M. Landrum, and Judge C. J. Ramage.

For the first year of the Society dues and other gifts by members and friends amounted to $655.00 in money and about 6,550 items given direct. As provided by the constitution, all expenses of the Society have been met by the University, in order that the entire income of the organization might be devoted to purchases for the South Carolina Collection. All gifts have been marked with the Society's label and the name of the donor. Below are listed the outstanding gifts of members during the year; no distinction is here made between those items bought with the dues and money contributions of the members and those which are direct gifts. In several instances the items are deposits, placed in the South Carolina Collection with intent to make them eventually the property of the University.

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR’S ACQUISITIONS

Books and Pamphlets: 1809-1913, 339.
Maps: 1760-1850, 5.
Newspapers: 1814-1937, 442 volumes.
Manuscripts (bound): 1770-1937, 192.
Manuscripts (unbound): 1770-1920, 5,515.
Miscellaneous Papers and Items: 1856, 58.
Total—6,550.

It will likewise be of great interest to members to have a word on the achievement of several other agencies whose work is directed to the same general purpose as that of our Society. A WPA force sponsored by the University has copied about 120,000 pages of South Carolina courthouse, church, school and society records, private diaries and graveyard inscriptions for deposit in our South Carolina Collection and in other libraries of the State. Another, likewise subsidized in part by the University, is the State division of the Federal Historical Survey, and is making a complete inventory of the public records of the State, a copy of which will be placed in the University library. The skill and tireless enthusiasm of the supervisors, Miss Flora Belle Surles and Dr. Anne King Gregorie, are chiefly responsible for the invaluable contribution made by these projects to South Carolina history. A very different but likewise indispensable aid has been given by a third WPA project supervised by Mrs. Mary E. Scott; this force has sorted and mended near 100,000 South Carolina newspapers for the University library, chiefly county papers of the last sixty years, most of which otherwise would have been lost. As these projects have been financed by State and federal funds the results have not been included in the totals listed in this Report.

GIFTS TO THE SOUTH CAROLINA COLLECTION
BEFORE 1937

The Executive Committee, in consideration of the fact that gifts to the South Carolina Collection made before the organization of the Society were as truly within its purpose as those contributed since, has conferred memberships upon thirty persons who have formerly presented items, and the thanks of the Society have been extended by the Committee to these persons and to others for noteworthy contributions made before 1937. The chief gifts among the number are listed here; the list does not include gifts housed in the museum of the library.

THE ABNEY, RICHARDSON AND SNOWDEN LIBRARIES

The Benjamin L. Abney Library, consisting of 280 books and about 300 pamphlets of South Caroliniana, besides about 250 South Carolina law books given to the library of the Law School of the University, was presented to the University in 1923.

By Mr. John R. Abney of New York.

The Thomas E. Richardson Library, consisting of about 20,000 letters and other manuscripts, chiefly business papers of the 19th century; 7 volumes of bound newspapers (Sumter Banner, 1846-1855, Black River Watchman, 1850-1857, Sumter Watchman, 1872-1874; about 1800 printed volumes and 300 pamphlets of South Caroliniana (besides about 1,200 volumes placed in the main library of the University) was presented to the University in 1934.

By Mr. Bernard M. Baruch of New York and South Carolina.

The Yates Snowden Collection, consisting of about 10,000 letters and other manuscripts, 45 scrapbooks, 2,000 volumes and 5,000 pamphlets of South Caroliniana, built up by the most

{ 10 }
accomplished collector of South Caroliniana of his generation, was purchased in 1933 from Mrs. Snowden whose generous interest in the University and desire to carry out her husband’s wishes made possible this acquisition.

It would be misleading were I not to say that this stimulating and encouraging story is not all of the record. The high-priced item, the rare prize of the book and manuscript collector we cannot hope for, unless it comes to us as an extraordinary gift, or unless we pledge our resources for years to come. Therefore, in frankness we have to point owners of such items to other institutions outside the state, and hope for the day when we can claim our own and keep it here. More depressing than this, because unnecessary, is the constant sight of persons selling South Carolina items which we could afford to buy, or giving items to institutions outside the state which would be prized in the libraries of our own commonwealth.

In other words, we have not yet the material resources needed for our purpose, nor have the people of the State been brought to realize that when they have South Carolina papers to give or to sell they should first think of their own libraries before sending them out of the State.

In communications with the members and friends of this Society I have tried to express the gratitude of the University for their timely, their invaluable aid. I cannot close this report without adding my own appreciation for the hundreds of encouraging, cheering, delightful letters or personal words, and without voicing my feeling that it has been a high privilege to be Secretary of this Society.
