

1-1-1984

Contributors

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarcommons.sc.edu/ssl>

 Part of the English Language and Literature Commons

Recommended Citation

(1984) "Contributors," Studies in Scottish Literature: Vol. 19: Iss. 1.

Available at: <http://scholarcommons.sc.edu/ssl/vol19/iss1/20>

This is brought to you for free and open access by the Scottish Literature Collections at Scholar Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Studies in Scottish Literature by an authorized administrator of Scholar Commons. For more information, please contact SCHOLARC@mailbox.sc.edu.

Contributors

BLIGH, John. Associate Professor of English at the University of Guelph, Ontario. He teaches the Bible as Literature, Shakespeare, and nineteenth-century fiction. He has published books and articles on St. Paul, St. John, Richard of St. Victor, Shakespeare, Goldsmith, Robertson Davies.

FRYKMAN, Erik. Studied at the Universities of Gothenburg and Uppsala. Lecturer in Swedish, University of Aberdeen, 1946-48, 1950-56. First holder of the Chair of English Literature in the University of Gothenburg since 1967. Member of the Royal Academy of Letters, History, and Antiquities. Publications include studies on John Galt, Matthew Arnold, W.E. Aytoun and Norman MacCaig and (in Swedish) a book on Scotland and one on Victorian writers.

GARSDIE, Peter Dignus. Lecturer in English, University College, Cardiff. Open Scholar, St. Catharine's College, Cambridge; Frank Knox Fellow, Harvard University. Publications on Scott and other aspects of Regency literature have appeared in a variety of journals, including the Review of English Studies, Journal of the History of Ideas, English Literary History and Modern Language Review. Currently at work on studies of Scott's politics and the history of fiction, 1780-1830.

HARKIN, Patricia. Teaches English at Denison University. Her professional interests include theories of reading and of literary history. Is at work on a reader-oriented study of literary change, using Scott's historical fictions as the focal instance.

HOLLINGWORTH, Brian C. Head of English Studies at Derbyshire College of Higher Education. Taught for six years at Methodist College, Hong Kong, and for ten years in School of Education, the University of Leeds. Particular research interest in vernacular literature. Publications include "The Mother Tongue and the Public Schools in the 1860's," "Dialect in Schools--an Historical Note," Songs of the People: Lancashire Dialect Poetry of the Industrial Revolution (Manchester U.P., 1977).

- KINDRICK, Robert L. Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and Professor of English at Western Illinois University. He is the author of numerous articles and reviews on Scottish literature and has written Robert Henryson (Boston, 1979).
- KING, Pamela. Read English at the University of Edinburgh, and medieval studies at the University of York. Has taught at the University of Warwick, University of York and is currently Lecturer at Westfield College, University of London. Co-Editor of York Mystery Plays (OUP, 1984). Is preparing a PhD on the contexts of cadaver tombs in Britain to 1558. Research interests include medieval drama, tomb sculpture and the Scottish Chaucerians.
- LAW, Alexander. M.A., Ph.D., from the University of Edinburgh. Taught for nearly twelve years at The Royal High School of Edinburgh. Was later one of H.M. Inspectors of Schools in Scotland until his retirement. Publications include Education in Edinburgh in the Eighteenth Century and, with Dr. A.M. Kinghorn, Vols. III-VI of The Works of Allan Ramsay for the Scottish Text Society. Also edited with Kinghorn Poems of Allan Ramsay and Robert Fergusson. Recently edited, with Jean R. Guild, Edinburgh University Library, 1580-1980.
- O'BRIEN, Jerry. Received his M.A. from the University of Rhode Island in 1981. Has a critical essay on Mark Twain's The Gilded Age forthcoming in The Journal of Popular Culture and is presently working on the poetry of Andrew Marvell. Teaches Composition at the Community College of Rhode Island. Also a free-lance writer of nonfiction articles and reviews.
- SIEBERT, D.T. Associate Professor of English, University of South Carolina. Has published on Swift, Pope, Johnson, Hume, and other eighteenth-century figures in such journals as Eighteenth-Century Studies, Journal of the History of Ideas, Studies in English Literature, and American Literature. Has also edited the plays of John Hoole for the Eighteenth-Century English Drama Series. Is currently working on a book-length study of Hume in his eighteenth-century context.

WALKER, John. Professor of Spanish and Head of the Department of Spanish and Italian at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario. Is the author of many articles, bibliographies and books on Cunninghame Graham, including The Scottish Sketches of R.B. Cunninghame Graham, The South American Sketches of R.B. Cunninghame Graham, Cunninghame Graham and Scotland: An Annotated Bibliography. In the field of Latin American literature, is a specialist in the work of the English-speaking writers of the River Plate region, and the Argentine and Chilean novel (see his Metaphysics and Aesthetics in the Works of Eduardo Barrios).

WANG Zuoliang (Tso-Liang Wang). Took his degrees in English literature from Tsing Hua and Oxford Universities; is the author of The Literary Reputation of John Webster (Salzburg, 1975), Essays in the History of English Literature (Beijing, 1980), Between Literatures (Nanjing, 1984), and has translated into Chinese some works of Burns, MacDiarmid, Sorley Maclean, among others. Currently he is Professor of English at the Beijing Foreign Languages Institute, Beijing, China.

WATSON, Roderick. Holds degrees from Aberdeen University and Peterhouse, Cambridge; Lecturer in English Studies, University of Stirling. Awarded an Arts Council Poetry Bursary, 1970-71. Has had poems broadcast on BBC radio and published in various magazines and anthologies. Publications include True History of the Walls (1976), Hugh MacDiarmid, Open University (1976) and The Penguin Book of the Bicycle (1978).