Two New Roundtables Formed

Health Sciences Roundtable

by Mary Reimer
College of Nursing
Clemson University

A new roundtable related to health sciences is in the process of being formed. The purpose of the group is to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas among librarians interested in health sciences. The roundtable seeks to provide opportunities for the professional growth of its members, to encourage professional cooperation among those in the health sciences, and to foster high standards of service.

The roundtable will attempt to attract and serve individuals from a variety of libraries; health sciences, academic, and public. It is open to professional and paraprofessional staff members. The Health Sciences Roundtable is one of the new Roundtables on the membership form.

An organizational meeting was held at the SCLA Conference in November. The group's petition to the SCLA Executive Board for official roundtable status was approved at the January meeting.

Please consider being a part of this dynamic new group. If you have any questions or comments, please contact Mary Reimer, Clemson University, 202 College of Nursing Building, Clemson, South Carolina--telephone: 656-5477; FAX: 656-5488.

Hey,
from your
Editor

Merry Christmas!

... some of you might have noticed this is the December issue. The newsletter got kinda behind. No, I haven't been taking lots of coffee breaks, as the coffee mug above suggests. I will save you the usual litany of excuses. Let's just give thanks that this issue is out . . . and I promise to do better. I do apologize to the SCLA officers for missing some important announcements and for not providing a publication schedule so that they could use News & Views as an effective communication tool for SCLA.

And Happy New Year!

Now that we do have a schedule (see schedule at right), I would like to remind the officers to use News & Views as often as they like. It never hurts to have those workshops announced in the newsletter in addition to the flyers you send out.

I would like to welcome Faye Chadwell, of the Reference staff at Thomas Cooper Library, as the newest member of the News & Views team. Faye is starting out by providing us with items for the NEWSMAKERS column.

The next issue is not far off. In it we will have a photo essay on our Convention in Greenville (remember?) and a list of officers and contacts for the 1992 year.

P.S. In order to catch up on publication dates I had planned to make this a combined issue, which would have necessitated combining issues from different volume numbers. Fortunately, I consulted with a couple of serials librarians who said I would commit such a sin at the risk eternal damnation. In the interest of avoiding such a fate, and of avoiding the wrath of my fellow librarians, this is NOT a combined issue.

The 1992 SCLA Convention

It Isn't Far Away!

by Claude Blakely

October seems so far away, and yet look how quickly January has slipped by! Yes, it's time to start thinking about and planning for the 1992 SCLA Convention which will be held October 21, 22, and 23 at the Sheraton-Columbia. Especially if your group is planning a Pre-Conference meeting, we need to know of your plans as soon as possible. We will schedule your programs and speakers as nearly as we can to comply with your first choice requests. Drucie will be sending out "Section Request Forms" soon, and we urge you to make decisions about your speakers, meetings, and whether or not you will co-sponsor with another section, roundtable, or committee. The earlier you submit your requests to us, the easier it will be to work out appropriate scheduling.

Marketing Libraries:

Dynamic Roles in a Global Society

At the January 18th Planning Session, we announced the theme for this year's conference: "Marketing Libraries - Dynamic Roles in a Global Society." As we all know, libraries and the services they provide have changed dramatically in the last ten years. As we move closer to the twenty-first century, change will continue at an even faster pace. We, as any business, must strive to stay one jump ahead of our changing image, and market our libraries to their fullest potential.

Our first session of the 1992 Conference Committee was held on January 31st at the State Library. A listing of the individuals chairing the various committees is as follows: Claude Blakely, Program/Call to Convention; John Landrum/JoAnn Olson, Local Arrangements; Lea Walsh, Exhibits; Jane Griffin, Hospitality & Receptions; Quincy Pugh, Publicity; Drucie Raines, Registration; and Dr. Fred Roper/Pat Feehan, USC Anniversary. Norman Belk has also joined our committee, and will share his recent experiences as the Local Arrangements Chairman of the 1991 Conference.

1992 marks the 20th anniversary of the Library School at the University of South Carolina. The December, 1991, issue of American Libraries reported that enrollment at USC's library school has tripled in ten years. Dean Roper and Pat Feehan have activities planned throughout the year to celebrate the achievement of their 20th anniversary, and they have accepted our invitation to participate in SCLA 1992.

The SCLA Planning Committee at our January 18th meeting distributed a survey of topics for possible convention programs, and asked those present to rate these on a scale of 1 to 5 (1 being the highest interest and 5 being of no interest). For your information we are listing the results of that survey including write-in topics which were given in the "other suggestions" category.

Memberships have typically accounted for 35% of the annual SCLA budget. We appreciate your support, and encourage you to get a friend to support SCLA through a new membership. The stronger our state organization becomes financially, the more effective we can be in enhancing services to our membership.

We hope to see all of you at the Sheraton-Columbia in October.

Program Survey Results

Rankings

1. Handling new technologies: evaluating new products, selecting hardware
2. Staff development issues: burnout, changing roles, new technologies
3. Information fair with vendors demonstrating products
4. Future issues in library education
5. Document delivery services
6. Preservation issues
7. Serial price increases
8. Issues in bibliographic control

1992 Convnetion

Write-in suggestions included (in priority order):

1. Political strategies for libraries
2. The growing importance of library support staff, and whether an educational program should be established
3. Long-distance cooperative services - within and without networked arrangements
4. One voice, one organization representing all library disciplines in the state: pros and cons

5. Genealogical sources

6. Session on the relationships of all types of libraries and how each support and enhance the other (re: Public, School, Academic, Special)

* In addition, Frannie Ashburn states her intent to have a Pre-Conference Program (sponsored by APLA & FOSCL, & SC Humanities Council) @ 10 - 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday (open to public) on the topic, "Seeds of Change" - a theme of the Columbus Quincentary.

Thank You From Paul Dove

January 22, 1992

Mr. Steve Johnson, Editor
News and Views of the South Carolina Library
Association

Dear Steve:

Friends from libraries around the state have been very kind and considerate about my daughter Shannon's tragic accident on November 4. I am happy to be able to report that she continues to recover from the injuries and is now back in college on a trial basis. She and I are deeply grateful for all expressions of concern and care, for the calls, cards, prayers, and inquiries.

This has been the kind of tragedy you pray that your loved ones never have to endure, but, if it happens, friends really make a difference with the support they provide. So many, many SCLA members have been wonderful to us, and we are very thankful for your manifold and continuing expressions of love which will be long remembered.

Sincerely,
Paul Dove
Francis Marion College

P.S. Shannon's address is Campus Box 466, Wofford College, Spartanburg, SC 29301.

A(ugusta) Baker's Dozen

The 1992 A(ugusta) Baker's Dozen will be held on Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25. This is a celebration of stories sponsored by the Richland County Public Library, Columbia, and the College of Library and Information Science, at the University of South Carolina.

The celebration honors Augusta Baker and recognizes her distinguished career as a librarian, storyteller, teacher, and author. She is currently Storyteller-in-Residence at the University of South Carolina's College of Library and Information Science.

John Bierhorst, named the August Baker Lecturer, is an editor and translator of American Indian Literature. He serves as a consulting editor for the Center of Inter-American Relations and a reviewer for the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The Colloquium speaker will be Anne Pellowski, founder and former Director of the Information Center on Children's Cultures of the U.S. Committee for UNICEF. She was formerly a children's librarian and storytelling specialist at the New York Public Library. Pellowski has told and collected stories throughout the world and is the author of a number of books for children and adults.

Other plans, including storytellers, for the sixth annual celebration will be announced.

SCLA AWARDS

by Jean Rhyne
Chair, SCLA Awards Committee

The SCLA Awards Committee invites nominations for the Outstanding Librarian Award and the Friend of Libraries Award. There are many librarians and friends of libraries who well deserve these awards; however, someone must first identify and nominate them. The committee is, therefore, asking that you read the purposes and eligibility criteria for each, and then decide whether you know a librarian or "friend" who qualifies. Nomination forms are available from:

Drucie Raines
Executive Secretary, SCLA
P.O. Box 219
Goose Creek, South Carolina 29445

The committee will appreciate your help in honoring a colleague who has enhanced our profession and a "Friend" whose contributions deserve recognition.

---

Outstanding Librarian Award

Purpose

To recognize and honor a librarian who has initiated or developed an imaginative or creative program, service, or work of enduring value, including significant professional writings, for the effective use of or increased interest in libraries or a particular library.

Criteria

1. The recipient must be in active service and a member of the South Carolina Library Association.
2. The award will recognize contributions made within five years preceding January 1 of the award year.

3. The award will be given to a person who has served in any type of library--academic, public, school, or special.
4. Nominations must be made in writing to the Chairman of the Awards Committee. (Nomination forms can be obtained from the SCLA Executive Secretary, as indicated above).
5. The deadline for nominations is May 31, 1992.
6. The award will be presented at a general session of the annual conference, as specified by the Executive Board and the Awards Committee.

Friend Of Libraries Award

Purpose

To recognize a person's or organization's outstanding service to a library or libraries. This service should have furthered the expansion of library service in the state.
