SYMPOSIUM: SECURED FINANCING
UNDER ARTICLE 9 OF THE
UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE

FOREWORD

In the Spring of 1967, the University of South Carolina School of Law inaugurated an honors seminar program open to second semester senior students with a record of high academic achievement. The objective of this program is to provide law students with an opportunity to engage in an in depth joint analysis, research and writing effort in a problem area of current importance and concern. The area of coverage selected for 1967 was Secured Financing under the Uniform Commercial Code.

In the hope that this subject reflects the immediate concern of a large segment of the practicing bar, the papers produced in this seminar are printed in this issue of the South Carolina Law Review to provide an introduction to the Code’s more significant innovations in the area of secured financing transactions.
