EDITOR'S FOREWORD

Due to the expanded length of the thirtieth Annual Survey of South Carolina Law, we will present it in two issues. The Survey is traditionally composed of students' analyses of cases decided by the Supreme Court of South Carolina and the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit for the period between January 1 and December 31 of each year. Only those cases which appeared to be of particular significance with respect to South Carolina law have been included in order for there to be a more extensive analysis of the cases presented.

Because of the increasing number of reported decisions resulting from the creation of the new South Carolina Court of Appeals, we are re-examining our current policies. We are considering either reducing the number of cases surveyed or reducing the length of individual survey pieces with a corresponding reduction in the amount of analysis presented. Since a primary purpose of the Survey is to assist the practicing bar, we solicit your suggestions, comments and criticisms so that this goal may be achieved.
