EDITORS' NOTE

On March 20, 1992, the authors of this Symposium issue also presented their articles at a live Conference in Columbia, South Carolina. The South Carolina Law Review would like to express its appreciation to the authors for participating in our Symposium and Conference. We also would like to thank the following persons who commented on the authors' presentations at the Conference: Professor Lissa L. Broome (University of North Carolina); James C. Frenzel (Greene, Buckley, Jones & McQueen; Atlanta, GA); Thomas B. Henson (Robinson, Bradshaw & Hinson, P.A.; Charlotte, NC); James A. Pardo, Jr. (King & Spalding; Atlanta, GA); Professor Howard B. Stravitz (University of South Carolina); Donald H. Stubbs (Nelson, Mullins, Riley & Scarborough; Columbia, SC); and Charles P. Summerall, IV (Buist, Moore, Smythe & McGee; Charleston, SC).

The Law Review also would like to express its gratitude to the law firms of Adams, Quackenbush, Herring & Stuart, P.A.; Nelson, Mullins, Riley & Scarborough; Robinson, Bradshaw & Hinson, P.A.; and Robinson, Mendoza, Barton, McCarthy & Calloway, P.A. for their generous financial support of the Symposium and Conference. We also wish to recognize the following individuals and organizations for their contributions to the success of the Symposium and Conference: The South Carolina Bankruptcy Law Association; the Corporations, Banking, and Securities Section of the South Carolina Bar; Professor Ralph C. McCullough, II; Mead Data Central, LEXIS/NEXIS; and George B. Cauthen.

We thank each author for his contribution and hope that every reader, whether a member of the bench or bar, finds this issue valuable.
