ANNUAL REPORT

University Student-Faculty Relations Committee

The University Committee on Student-Faculty Relations met four times during the past academic year. Among the issues discussed at the meetings were concerns with maintaining and improving academic integrity, the University Bookstore policies on pricing of textbooks and the resale of examination copies of textbooks, the feasibility and desirability of banning smoking in public places on campus, and the development of a Student Handbook. The issues of academic integrity and a possible ban on smoking will continue on the agenda of the Committee for the next academic year.
