

Report of the University Standards and Petitions Committee

The University Standards and Petitions Committee considered a proposal from the Student Government which would change the current drop/add dates. The Student Government proposed that the free drop date be extended to include an additional MWF and TTH class. Further it proposed that the add date be extended to cover the same period, and in addition, the add period would be extended to 5:00 pm to midnight on the last drop\add day to ensure that students would have an opportunity add a course after the drop period had ended. While the Committee felt that it could not recommend extending the drop date, after careful consideration the University Standards and Petitions Committee recommends the following:

The deadline to add a course should be extended to midnight of the last add date.
