IAS hosts Dance Extravaganza

By Nwajiaku Nnemka

Students from various backgrounds shared their dance skills.

“Rhythms of the globe filled the Russell House ballroom Sunday evening at the International Dance Extravaganza. Sponsored by the International Students Association (ISA), this event showcased USC’s international students and their cultures through the art of dance.

Second-year pharmacy student Nnemka Nwajiaku, who serves as treasurer of ISA, highlighted the amount of work put into such a large event.

“We put a lot of work into it and some planning… it’s my first time doing this, but this isn’t the first time this has been a thing,” Nwajiaku said.

The evening's organizers and performers were members of international groups comprised of students from Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East.

To kick off the evening, the Korean International Students Association (KISA) performed a non-traditional Korean pop (K-Pop) dance.

The extravaganza pressed on with a performance from Aditi Rakholia, a biomedical engineering masters student, who performed an Indian song from a Bollywood film. Rakholia’s performance was followed up by a Brazilian partner dance from chemical engineering exchange student Luisa Provasi and civil engineering exchange student Lucas Eduardo.

The evening's organizers and performers were members of international groups comprised of students from Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Middle East.

The president of ISA, fourth-year public health student Aditi Zwooqar, organized and oversaw the event.

“This event happens every year. It’s really casual; it’s not just going to be a formal event … [students] just go and dance,” Zwooqar said.

The brothers of Sigma Nu’s USC chapter ran this year’s game ball on the final stretch to Williams-Brice.

When Marcus Lattimore suffered his second knee injury in two years in 2012 and subsequently declared for the NFL draft, everyone knew sooner or later he’d be back in Columbia making an impact. In 2013, Lattimore made his way back — not to the football field, but rather off the field to the 38th annual Sigma Nu Game Ball Run.

The Game Ball Run is a 14-mile philanthropic event hosted and run by USC and Clemson’s Sigma Nu chapters as a part of the annual South Carolina-Clemson rivalry football game. This year’s competition resulted in 6,217 donations with South Carolina supporters totaling 3,554 and Clemson, 2,663.

Students who participated in the blood drive took home a T-shirt and were given free refreshments after donating. However, according to Krystal Overmyer, external communications manager for the SC American Red Cross, the most meaningful reward is knowing that many lives will be forever changed by each donation.

“The real win is the number of lives potentially saved by the generosity of students, faculty, staff and fans,” Overmyer said.

When Marcus Lattimore suffered his second knee injury in two years in 2012 and subsequently declared for the NFL draft, everyone knew sooner or later he’d be back in Columbia making an impact. In 2013, Lattimore made his way back — not to the football field, but rather off the field to the 38th annual Sigma Nu Game Ball Run.

The Game Ball Run is a 14-mile philanthropic event hosted and run by USC and Clemson’s Sigma Nu chapters as a part of the annual South Carolina-Clemson rivalry football game. This year’s competition resulted in 6,217 donations with South Carolina supporters totaling 3,554 and Clemson, 2,663.

Students who participated in the blood drive took home a T-shirt and were given free refreshments after donating. However, according to Krystal Overmyer, external communications manager for the SC American Red Cross, the most meaningful reward is knowing that many lives will be forever changed by each donation.

“The real win is the number of lives potentially saved by the generosity of students, faculty, staff and fans,” Overmyer said.

The brothers of Sigma Nu’s USC chapter ran this year’s game ball on the final stretch to Williams-Brice.

Lattimore attends Ball Run

When Marcus Lattimore suffered his second knee injury in two years in 2012 and subsequently declared for the NFL draft, everyone knew sooner or later he’d be back in Columbia making an impact. In 2013, Lattimore made his way back — not to the football field, but rather off the field to the 38th annual Sigma Nu Game Ball Run.

The Game Ball Run is a 14-mile philanthropic event hosted and run by USC and Clemson’s Sigma Nu chapters as a part of the annual South Carolina-Clemson rivalry football game. This year’s competition resulted in 6,217 donations with South Carolina supporters totaling 3,554 and Clemson, 2,663.

Students who participated in the blood drive took home a T-shirt and were given free refreshments after donating. However, according to Krystal Overmyer, external communications manager for the SC American Red Cross, the most meaningful reward is knowing that many lives will be forever changed by each donation.

“The real win is the number of lives potentially saved by the generosity of students, faculty, staff and fans,” Overmyer said.

The brothers of Sigma Nu’s USC chapter ran this year’s game ball on the final stretch to Williams-Brice.

The blood drive competition ran from Monday, Nov. 16 until Friday, Nov. 20. Students could give blood with no appointment necessary in various locations across campus, including Russell House, Greek Village, Blatt P.E. Center, and the Colonial Life Arena. This year’s competition resulted in 6,217 donations with South Carolina supporters totaling 3,554 and Clemson, 2,663.

Students who participated in the blood drive took home a T-shirt and were given free refreshments after donating. However, according to Krystal Overmyer, external communications manager for the SC American Red Cross, the most meaningful reward is knowing that many lives will be forever changed by each donation.

“The real win is the number of lives potentially saved by the generosity of students, faculty, staff and fans,” Overmyer said.
US soldier from SC dies in Iraq

The State reports that Pvt. Christopher Castaneda of Fripp Island, South Carolina, died while on a non-combat mission while serving in the Al Anbar province in Iraq Thursday. Castaneda, 18, was deployed to Iraq in August as part of Operation Inherent Resolve combining ISIS territories. His previous duty assignment was Fort Drum, and Castaneda received six awards for his service. The U.S. Army did not provide any further details of the incident besides "non-combat related.

—Compiled by Mary Ramsey, Assistant News Editor

Presidential hopefuls discuss criminal justice reform at Columbia HBCU

Republican presidential hopeful Ben Carson and democratic candidates Bernie Sanders and Martin O’Malley both spoke at a forum on criminal justice at Allan University Saturday, according to The State. Sanders and O’Malley both spoke about their previous careers in the criminal justice system and the need for an immigrant database. Sanders was also joined by the other Democratic candidates in his position against mandatory minimum sentences for drug-related offenses. Though, many of the candidates opposed mandatory minimum sentences. O'Malley, however, broke step with other Republicans by agreeing with Sanders and O'Malley on some non-essential mandatory minimum sentencing for drug-related offenses and restoring the right to vote to felons. Carson also spoke about his experiences growing up as an African-American in a poverty area and addressed the high poverty areas and addressed the high poverty areas. He also added that the criminal justice system was "broken".

—Compiled by Mary Ramsey, Assistant News Editor

Democrat upsets Republican senator in Louisiana governor's race

CNN reports that Democratic state Rep. John Bel Edwards beat U.S. Senator David Vitter in the election for Louisiana governor this Saturday, the first time a Democrat has won a Deep South governorship in 12 years. Edwards won by a 12-point margin, and he will succeed Republican Bobby Jindal. Much of the campaign centered on a personal and political ad campaign centered on a prostitution scandal involving Vitter that dates back to the D.C. Madam leaks of 2007. Vitter announced in his concession speech that he will not seek re-election to the U.S. Senate in 2016.

—Compiled by Mary Ramsey, Assistant News Editor

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in today’s edition of The Daily Gamecock, let us know about it. Email editor@dailygamecock.com and we will print the correction in our next issue.

+ Approval is based on credit worthiness; existing AllSouth auto loans are not eligible for this promotion; minimum loan amount is $500; minimum term is 36 months; rates are subject to change; monthly payments may vary; AllSouth reserves the right to change or discontinue this offer at any time. For more details on rates, terms, and qualifications, visit www.AllSouth.org.

2012 Harden Street
710 Elmwood Avenue
(803) 736-3110
www.AllSouth.org

ABOUT THE DAILY GAMECOCK

The Daily Gamecock is the student-run, independent student newspaper of the University of South Carolina. It is published daily during the fall and spring semesters and nine times during the summer with the exception of university holidays and exam periods. Opinions expressed in The Daily Gamecock are the author’s and are not the University of South Carolina. It is published daily during the fall and spring semesters and nine times during the summer with the exception of university holidays and exam periods. Opinions expressed in The Daily Gamecock are the author’s and are not the University of South Carolina.

—Compiled by Mary Ramsey, Assistant News Editor

FOLLOW US

@thegamecock
“Each pint of blood collected can help save up to three lives, so the impact of this blood drive is great.”

A South Carolina student committee has been planning and preparing for the blood drive since the beginning of the year. Five different committees split up responsibilities such as volunteer sign-ups, food and prize donations and promotion / social media.

Nina Johns, president of this year’s blood drive, said that with the holidays approaching and the recent flooding in Columbia, the blood drive was more important than ever.

“With the holidays coming up blood donations are really in high demand,” Johns said. “This year we had the flooding as well, and the American Red Cross actually lost hundreds of units of blood because of it, so this year we really wanted to do our best to get as many people as possible out to donate.”

USC will be awarded the blood drive trophy during the South Carolina-Georgia football game on Saturday, Nov. 28 at Williams-Brice Stadium. Eligible donors who missed the cut off but would still like to give blood are able to do so at the American Red Cross donation center at 2751 Bull St.

“Students make up 20 percent of the donor base, so they play an incredible role in helping patients here in our backyard and across the country,” Overmyer said. “We encourage students to give blood at the annual drive but also at blood drives throughout the year. The need for blood is constant, and giving blood is one simple way students can make a difference in the community.”

Students made life-saving blood donations as part of the rivalry week event.

LATTIMORE PAGE1

On Nov. 16, police responded to a 79-year- old Caucasian woman reporting a break-in at her home. The door and lock were damaged when she arrived at home, and she saw evidence of theft before calling the police.

She stated that several pieces of gold and diamond jewelry were missing from her jewelry box, and a purse was taken from her closet. Neighbors reported seeing an African-American man wearing a yellow hard hat and dark clothing walking near and around the residence about an hour before she returned, but they did not see him enter.

Between 5:15 and 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 18, an officer responded to a call from Palmetto Health Richland Hospital. A male juvenile suspect had struck a female juvenile in the face with a rock while she was playing outside. Officers contacted the suspect at his home with his mother present. He said that other children were also throwing rocks, and no one saw him hit the victim.

After witnesses confirmed that they saw the suspect hit the victim with the rock, his mother asked the officers to take him to jail, at which point the suspect began shouting.

Late afternoon on Friday, Nov. 20, officers responded to a call of domestic violence on Harden Street. The suspect, a 31-year-old African-American man, first attacked the victim, a pregnant, 24-year-old African-American woman, in a vehicle while they were driving. He initially struck her with his fists around her face and upper body. To keep her from leaving the vehicle, the suspect drove through a red light before pulling into the Chick-fil-A parking lot. The victim occupied the car, and the suspect drove away. Three witnesses gave police the license plate number of the suspect’s vehicle and confirmed the victim’s report.

In his closing remarks, Lattimore highlighted what service means to him.

“The mission of my foundation is to help injured athletes,” Lattimore said. “But the whole thing I want you to know is just want to help people.”

Sports writer Abe Danaher contributed to this story.
Native American film festival provides authentic perspective

Rachel Pittman
2015-09

Expect the Russell House Theater to come alive Monday with a day-long showing of a variety of Native American films to the USC student body. The festival hosted about every type of film from historical to entertainment, with ending.

“Mockingjay” entertaining, disappointments with ending.

Mockingjay
Director: Francis Lawrence
Starring: Jennifer Lawrence, Josh Hutcherson
RKO Pictures
Release Date: Nov 20

While this movie is far from boring — in fact it is filled with action and excitement — the plot line, and the ending in particular is mediocre and disappointing.

“The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series.

Back in town, the 2015 event was held in the Russell House Theater on November 21. Films will be shown from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Director: Francis Lawrence
Starring: Jennifer Lawrence, Josh Hutcherson
RKO Pictures
Release Date: Nov 20

While this movie is far from boring — in fact it is filled with action and excitement — the plot line, and the ending in particular is mediocre and disappointing.

“The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series.

Back in town, the 2015 event was held in the Russell House Theater on November 21. Films will be shown from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Director: Francis Lawrence
Starring: Jennifer Lawrence, Josh Hutcherson
RKO Pictures
Release Date: Nov 20

While this movie is far from boring — in fact it is filled with action and excitement — the plot line, and the ending in particular is mediocre and disappointing.

“The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series.

Back in town, the 2015 event was held in the Russell House Theater on November 21. Films will be shown from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Director: Francis Lawrence
Starring: Jennifer Lawrence, Josh Hutcherson
RKO Pictures
Release Date: Nov 20

While this movie is far from boring — in fact it is filled with action and excitement — the plot line, and the ending in particular is mediocre and disappointing.

“The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series. It’s a film that has been built into two movies, proving that they are able to adapt a story from a single novel. While not a movie to go down in the books as a true work of art or a movie to watch over and over again, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2” delivers as a strong conclusion to the series.
Now hiring

If you’re a self-starter who’d enjoy helping others succeed financially, we’d like to talk to you about becoming a Financial Advisor. It’s a great chance to launch a career with high earning potential—and the training’s on us. In fact, we’ll pay you while we train you, and we’ll provide a competitive salary thereafter that transitions you gradually into a commissioned-based compensation plan.

At Wells Fargo Advisors, we’re committed to ensuring a work environment built on equal opportunity and respect for every individual, regardless of race, gender or sexual orientation. Get to know us better at wellsfargoadvisors.com/joinourteam.
Regular readers of The Daily Gamecock may have noticed a difference in the opinion section last week.

The editorial staff made a conscious decision not to publish our regular staff editorials.

Ed board members, if they are nicknamed in the newsletter, are written into the opinions of the editors who compile the content of that paper. They are written by either the regular staff editor or assistant opinion editor after a discussion held in writing. All editors are present, and they tackle the biggest news stories of the day.

However, in reflecting on the previous semester and planning for the next semester, the editorial staff has decided to no longer publish staff editorials in every regular issue of the paper.

This is a major change in our practices and one that was not undertaken lightly. Editorials are a crucial part of every newspaper and serve as the conscience and voice of the staff. This decision is the result of much deliberation. We strive to provide factual reporting on the stories we cover. If we didn't, we wouldn't be human. Many of the topics we cover affect us just as much as they affect our readership and other news editors. We strive to provide opinions without prejudicing our coverage.

We also believe in editorial freedom. We hold that our newspaper should hold people accountable, which means calling them to action based on what our reporting reflects. Our news editor is never a participant in the discussion but lays out our reporting on the given topic so our staff can express their own opinions.

The largest issues that we tackle with our editorials often produce the most discord on our staff. The editorials we print are sometimes

Congress has cited safety concerns as its justification for reducing the number. Now it is our turn, as the corresponding government, to act responsibly toward those very immigrants, our nation's guests. Our commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.

In May 1939, a ship of mostly Jewish refugees fleeing the oppressive government in Germany managed to escape from the United States. A few comments on Linden Atelsek's column regarding electing another Ronald Reagan: (1) was a charmer with a dearth of political experience and (6) the worst president in American history. As a country, we decided to do what was right then, and that may after all be why our nation is stronger today. President Hollande of France has reinforced his commitment to accepting refugees, increasing the number, has made many of us uncomfortable. In no way, shape or form, are our citizens enduring a worse fate than those in the United States. There is no one worse than the citizens in the United States. No one is suffering greater disparity between the rich and the poor. No one is enduring greater pain than our citizens. A nation of supposed hope and opportunity, that could never be removed.
Housing

Available is December. Spacious 2 bedroom 2 bath. Minutes to hospital. Pets Welcomed. Leases are 1 year. Contact us at 803.629.0629 Email scrossett@soldwithmaxm.org.

Travel

BAHAMAS SPRING BREAK $169 for 5 days. All prices based on double occupancy. Inclusive airfare and 5 nights. Minimize your stress—Book with us today! Book now at www.bahamaislanduu.com 800-528-1918.

Annuonnements

HOROSCOPE

CANCER: Begin a two-day contemplative phase. Your dreams could seem prophetic. Tie up loose ends on a project. Gratitude sets the stage for what’s next. Consider what results you would love to experience. Imagine a beautiful sunset. Love hits you when you least expect it.

LEO: Assess the situation and prepare for inspection. Career matters occupy your time for the next few days. Be aware, someone important is watching. Take on more responsibility. Be prepared. You open the door to romance when it comes knocking.

VIRGO: Travel and study are favored. Dig into theory. Consider attending a seminar or class over the next two days. Listen to the views of others and form your own. Notice solutions. Write them down. Get creative.

LIBRA: Today and tomorrow are good for financial planning with a partner. Private conversation reveals what you agree and disagree on. Support each other. Compromise. Be creative, not picky. Wheeling and dealing may be required. Record each other with a beautiful sunset.

SCORPIO: Love hits you when you least expect it. Work with a partner over the next few days. Take care not to provoke jealousies. Family comes first. Moderate a disagreement. You are further together. Call if you’ll be late.

SAGITTARIUS: The pace picks up. It’s especially busy today and tomorrow. Balance work with health. Consider what’s best for you and your family. Profit from meditation service.

CAPRICORN: Unexpected erosion or landslide might occur. Take more time for play over the next two days. Relax and pay attention to someone interesting. Share fun and games with family and friends. Enjoy favorite pastimes and people. Practice your arts for unpredictable results.

AQUARIUS: Begin a practical domestic phase. Home and family matters occupy attention today and tomorrow. Clean house and cook up something delicious. Preserve resources together. Nudge others to be their best. Share love and comfort.

PISCES: You learn quickly over the next few days, so take advantage. A brilliant idea could arise, or a win-ow. Research study and write. Put thoughts into expression. Use creative languages, like creative writing, music or dance. Listen to your coach.
The South Carolina Volleyball team took the court at the Carolina Volleyball Center for the lead time this season when facing Mississippi State Friday night at 6pm on Saturday afternoon.

Friday night, the team celebrated senior night with a sweep against Mississippi. The three Gamecock seniors, Sarah Blomgren, Darian Dozier and Elizabeth Joulland had performed exceptionally well, combining for 28 of South Carolina's 31 kills. Blomgren led the team in kills with 14 while Doezir led the team in blocks with four. Dozier's four blocks gave her a career total of 423 blocks, putting her fourth in the program's all-time list. Joulland finished her night recording five kills and seven points.

South Carolina started strong against a tough Georgia Tech team in the first set. The Gamecocks took the lead in the first set, winning 25-16.

Looking to bounce back, the Bulldogs tried to keep them out of the third set, but they were not able to do so. They kept it close for a while, but the Gamecocks went on to take the set 29-19 and the match 3-0.

South Carolina then hosted Alabama on Sunday for their final home game. Alabama entered with an early 16-6 lead in the first set, but the Gamecocks fought back to keep it close and tied it at 27. A back-and-forth battle kept the set intense, but the Crimson Tide eventually pulled through to win the 45-27 win.

The second set was another close one; with South Carolina taking an early 8-4 lead. Alabama bounced back, tying it at 16 and going on a run from there. They went on a 9-4 run to close out the set with a 25-20 win. Down in the third set, the Gamecocks went on to take the set 25-18, winning 3-2.

Aiming to close things out, Alabama took a 13-6 lead in the fourth set. South Carolina fought back and pulled out the win in the end, giving Alabama the 25-20 win and winning the match 3-1. Alabama has now won the past four matchups in this series.

Blomgren led the Gamecocks offense with 14 kills against the Tide. Both she and Jacqy Angellini carried 21 points in the loss.

Gamecocks had a season 9-7 home record and now is 12-17 (4-10) on the year. South Carolina will travel to Arkansas on Wednesday and Missouri on Friday to finish out the 2015 season.