Adventures Trips get students outdoors

For some students, planning a trip can be difficult, but USC Outdoor Recreation (ORec) has come up with a way to ease that frustration. With Adventure Trips by ORec, students are able to go on a weekend or day trip that has already been planned for them.

ORec presents the trips in an easily accessible way — with online descriptions, deadlines, costs, an itinerary and what to bring, it eliminates any planning and prepelling that students must do in order to take the trip. Planned by ORec coordinator Blain Foley and the Adventure Trips Committee, the trips encompass a wide variety of outdoor activities planned for students.

Taylor Wood, fourth-year global supply chain and human resources student and the rental shop manager at Strom said the backpacking trips are by far the most popular, drawing in the highest amount of participants.

“This semester we scheduled only one and it filled up within the first two weeks of the semester so we actually created another trip,” Wood said.

But for ORec, it’s not just the same-old, same-old every year. In fact, they’re trying to add more trips to their list yearly in order to draw more students to the adventures.

“We’ve tried to branch out and try new places and new trips,” Wood said.

“I think that might continue into the next semester.”

Among the newer trips was the canoe weekend where students were given the opportunity to canoe out to a camping location and spend the night there, canoeing back in the morning.

Wood said it was the first time they had utilized the canoes that are rentable at the ORec office for one of its events.

Foley and the department have already been talking about what will be planned for next semester’s outings, but one thing is certain.

They are sure to have outdoor events.

“Our department as a whole, all of ORec, our goal is to get people outdoors and experiencing new things and testing their limits and having fun in the process,” Foley said.

Brooks said.

But for ORec, it’s not just the same-old, same-old every year. In fact, they’re trying to add more trips to their list yearly in order to draw more students to the adventures.

“We’ve tried to branch out and try new places and new trips,” Wood said.

“I think that might continue into the next semester.”

Among the newer trips was the canoe weekend where students were given the opportunity to canoe out to a camping location and spend the night there, canoeing back in the morning.

Wood said it was the first time they had utilized the canoes that are rentable at the ORec office for one of its events.

Foley and the department have already been talking about what will be planned for next semester’s outings, but one thing is certain.

They are sure to have outdoor events.

“Our department as a whole, all of ORec, our goal is to get people outdoors and experiencing new things and testing their limits and having fun in the process,” Foley said.
The number of DUI charges was down, and the number of underage drinking charges was up at Carolina Cap this year, The State reported. According to Sheriff Jim Matthews at the Kershaw County Sheriff’s Department, 14 deputies made 280 traffic stops during the Carolina Cap, however only three resulted in DUI charges. In total, they issued 111 warning tickets and 170 traffic citations. Camden Police Chief Joe Floyd charged 217 people at Carolina Cap, most with disorderly conduct and underage drinking, with 66 people taken off the grounds to the Kershaw County Detention center. Floyd attributed the increase in underage drinking charges to the 10 additional undercover SLED officers who attended Carolina Cap.

— Lauren Shirley, News Editor

Roosters rescued from cockfighting operation in Marlboro County

The Marlboro County Sheriff’s Office charged 27 suspects after rescuing 100 animals from an alleged cockfighting operation, The State reported. Carson B. Clark and Brandon Clark were arrested after cockfighting activity was revealed through investigation that they were running a cockfighting operation out of their home in Wallace, South Carolina. Deputies and other law enforcement officers searched the home and located 122 roosters and 11 dogs. They also found marijuana, cocaine, firearms and several thousands of dollars in cash from entry fees. Five of the roosters died from the injuries sustained, including stab wounds, concussions, broken legs and broken ribs, however, the North Carolina-based Carolina Waterfowl Rescue Organization was able to save 117 of the roosters and have begun rehabilitating them.

— Lauren Shirley, News Editor

Dust inside CiCi’s Pizza causes restaurant evacuation

The CiCi’s Pizza buffet on Garners Ferry Road was evacuated Monday afternoon after smoke from a nearby construction site could be seen in the restaurant, The State reported. From an alleged cockfighting operation, The State reported. According to the state spokesperson, said when the firemen arrived, there was smoke coming from a construction project two doors down. That there was no fire in the restaurant and the smoke was actually caused by dust coming from a construction project two doors down. The dust was being carried through the building’s ventilation unit, and CiCi’s will remain closed until the building is cleared of the dust.

— Lauren Shirley, News Editor

CORRECTIONS If you find an error in today’s edition of The Daily Gamecock, let us know about it. Email editor@dailygamecock.com and we will print the correction in our next issue.

A select few apartments available. Now pre-leasing for Fall 2015

Rates: 2 Bedroom $1050 1 Bedroom $940 Efficiency $750

ALL UTILITIES INCLUDED

1230 PENDLETON ST
(803)799-1442

For more information:
803-777-4174 • web@usc.edu
Did you fill out our survey yesterday and get a ticket?

Here are the winners:
672373, 672386, 672390, 672366, 672375, 672396, 672395, 672394, 672387, 672389

To claim your prize please go to room 343 in the Russell House. Office hours are Monday – Friday 8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

You must have your ticket to claim your prize. Prizes must be claimed by 5:00 p.m. April 3rd.
The Daily Gamecock

ARTS & CULTURE

“Golèm” provides outlandish, intergalactic metal rock

Emma Jardine / Staff Writer

Release Date: March 17

Artist: Wand

Label: In the Red Records

Duration: 36 minutes

---

“Golèm”

Wand’s second album, “Golèm,” takes listeners on an intergalactic journey with its outlandish use of guitars and electronic sound. The album appeals to hard rockers, punk rockers and alternative lovers alike.

“Golèm” offers a blend of head-banging, garage band classics paired with metal and psychedelic rock. Its first track, “The Unexplored Map,” is a guitar-driven set with rhythmic vocals. Changing quickly to an almost calm atmosphere, the album’s standout track, “Melted Rope,” is a traditional sounding track with a melodic cure. It’s the most calming of all the songs and has a Led Zeppelin or Pink Floyd feel. The rest of the album is unapologetically hard and dark. With “Self Hypnosis in 1 Days” gives off a trippy, psychedelic vibe while having an aura similar to “Kids in America” by Kim Wilde. The lyrics “I want to know what world is yours and which is mine” capture the psychedelic journey “Golèm” takes you on.

Because “Cave In” is more instrument-heavy during the verses and instruments, you can barely hear the lyrics. The face of punk rock, “Floating Head,” holds the place of a true, head-banging rock song with its use of intense guitar solos. “Planet Golèm” and “Kaper Invert” are two ideal examples of Wand’s garage band sound, extreme guitar use, heavy beats and repetitions. The album mixes it up and finishes with “The Drift,” packing in an ensuing more calming sound which serves as the trippiest track of them all.

The flow of the album is more random and unexpected. In conclusion, slightly bipolar because it transforms from calm to erratic from one song to another. The further you get into the album, the more otherworldly it sounds. The lyrics are often confusing and barely audible under the extreme guitar use, but that’s almost the point of Wand’s aesthetic. Wand stays true to their original sound while adding unexpected, erratic instruments solos and hallucinogenic lyrics. This truly unique band opens listeners up to a new sound and takes you on a musical trip that will still dance on your feet. Wand is heard with a good power arrangement of hypnotic rhythms to explore a new world, and “Golèm” really makes you wonder what is going on in their minds. If you are looking for some bizarre, heavy rock noise, Wand has got you covered.

Kylie Toker / Staff Writer

One of the latest Netflix original series is an outrageous, light-hearted tale about good grief and growing up.

Directed by Tina Fey, “Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt” tells the story of a girl who is experiencing some otherworldly events while being released from an underground cult. Her ridiculous escapades with punks and rockers, while depicting the hardships of a sheltered 30-year-old who is seeing the outside world with fresh eyes.

Despite the absolute outrageousness of the show’s backstory, it really does dwell on the importance of self-confidence. The main character, played by Ellie Kemper of “The Office,” is 30 years old, but has been locked in a bunker for half of her life, making her incredibly immature and fun to watch. Although her discomfort can be frustrating at times, viewers will find themselves chuckling along with her adventures.

Shows of similar premises prove to be repetitive and predictable, but every episode of “Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt” describes a fun, new guest that Kimmy and her roommates, played by flaxen-toned Tina Burgos, embark upon. These wild missions include everything from obtaining a GED to throwing a birthday party to testifying in court.

Fey’s “30 Rock” co-star Jane Krakowski plays Kimmy’s employer, Jacqueline Vohruez, whose stereotypical New York richness adds yet another dimension to her story — Kimmy gets the chance to interact with all kinds of hilarious personalities.

Green Olive restaurant: Turkish food, Mediterranean food or Olive the above?

Summer Noel and Lauren Gwill

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alums, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pitas, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive, a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive, a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.

Green Olive is a new Turkish and Mediterranean style restaurant owned by USC alumni, serves a mix of gyros, skewers, chicken, shrimp, pita, hummus and baba ganoush.
The character development of all the side characters is fairly shallow, sticking to stereotypes like the hippie landlady who sits on the front stoop, the gay, black roommate who is searching for the perfect Broadway role and the sheltered Indiana townspeople who represent Kimmy’s past. Although the exact setting and idea behind the show are contrived, the moral behind each episode ring true— as Kimmy starts to grow up (albeit a little late), she recognizes the importance of self-empowerment and independence.

Each 30-minute episode will undoubtedly make you giggle. It may not be a heavy drama, like you tend to expect from Netflix, but it’ll be sure to brighten your day without making you feel bad. After watching the last episode, you’ll be desperately wondering when the next season will be released.
Experience the Carolina Band

WHO: Current USC Students with previous band experience

WHAT: Perform in the Stands – Spring Football Game

WHEN: Saturday, April 11, 2015

9:15 am Check-In Copenhaver Band Hall, 324 Sumter Street
9:45 am Rehearsal
10:15 am Lunch Provided
10:45 am Depart for Stadium (carpool)
12:00 pm Game

RSVP: email -- uscbands@mozart.sc.edu and provide the following information: Name, Cell Phone, Instrument or Auxiliary Unit, # Years Experience

TRADITION — PRIDE — INNOVATION

803.777.4278
www.carolinaband.org

2015 CAROLINA BAND

AUXILLARY AUDITIONS

DRUMLINE   COLOR GUARD   COQUETTES
Saturday, April 25     Saturday, April 25     Sunday, April 26

Visit the “Athletic Bands” page at www.carolinaband.org for more information and to register.
Trans issues need visibility

Despite gridlock, minority political powers will ever worth protecting

HANNAH JEFFREY
Editor-in-Chief
BIANCA CORREA
Design Director
JESSICA RUF
Managing Editor
LAUREN CAUDLE
Art & Culture Editor
RANSA SIMBER
Society Editor
KARLIE MEYERS
Sports Editor
BEN CRAWFORD
Opinion Editor

As I scrolled down my Twitter feed on Monday, March 2, I noticed the following tweet from an article published in "Column Oklahoma University" by Mr. Abbott.

Mr. Abbott states that: "We think that any attempt to bring trans issues back to the forefront of the American political discussion is a repulsive action."

But his statement is not only inaccurate, it is also harmful and offensive. As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I cannot imagine how hurtful it would be to our community if such a statement were made by members of the administration.

It is clear that Mr. Abbott does not understand the impact of his words. By dismissing trans issues as "repulsive," he perpetuates negative stereotypes and reinforces harmful misconceptions.

As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I am concerned about the impact of such statements on our community. We need to ensure that our campus is a safe and inclusive environment for all students, regardless of their gender identity.

As a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

I encourage our administration to take a proactive role in addressing trans issues and to work with our student community to create a more inclusive environment.

Letters to the editor should be no more than 300 words.

Comments: Comments should be no more than 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must include the full name, college and department.

Letters to the editor and Comments must be submitted via email.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Trans issues need visibility

Last week my home state of Oklahoma voted in a Religious Freedom Restoration Act. This act gives the Oklahoma government the power to pass laws that would allow businesses to discriminate against gay people, trans people, and other people on the basis of their sexual orientation or gender identity.

While this law may be controversial, it is important to recognize that it is not the first time a state has passed a similar law. In 1994, Arkansas passed a law that was later ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. This was followed by a similar law passed in Indiana in 2015, which was later challenged in federal court.

In the wake of these laws, there has been a growing movement to protect the rights of LGBTQ+ people. This includes pushing for policies that would prohibit discrimination in housing, employment, and public accommodations.

As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

As a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

I encourage our administration to take a proactive role in addressing trans issues and to work with our student community to create a more inclusive environment.

Letters to the editor should be no more than 300 words.

Comments: Comments should be no more than 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must include the full name, college and department.

Letters to the editor and Comments must be submitted via email.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Trans issues need visibility

Despite gridlock, minority political powers will ever worth protecting

HANNAH JEFFREY
Editor-in-Chief
BIANCA CORREA
Design Director
JESSICA RUF
Managing Editor
LAUREN CAUDLE
Art & Culture Editor
RANSA SIMBER
Society Editor
KARLIE MEYERS
Sports Editor
BEN CRAWFORD
Opinion Editor

As I scrolled down my Twitter feed on Monday, March 2, I noticed the following tweet from an article published in "Column Oklahoma University" by Mr. Abbott.

Mr. Abbott states that: "We think that any attempt to bring trans issues back to the forefront of the American political discussion is a repulsive action."

But his statement is not only inaccurate, it is also harmful and offensive. As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I cannot imagine how hurtful it would be to our community if such a statement were made by members of the administration.

It is clear that Mr. Abbott does not understand the impact of his words. By dismissing trans issues as "repulsive," he perpetuates negative stereotypes and reinforces harmful misconceptions.

As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

As a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

I encourage our administration to take a proactive role in addressing trans issues and to work with our student community to create a more inclusive environment.

Letters to the editor should be no more than 300 words.

Comments: Comments should be no more than 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must include the full name, college and department.

Letters to the editor and Comments must be submitted via email.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Trans issues need visibility

Despite gridlock, minority political powers will ever worth protecting

HANNAH JEFFREY
Editor-in-Chief
BIANCA CORREA
Design Director
JESSICA RUF
Managing Editor
LAUREN CAUDLE
Art & Culture Editor
RANSA SIMBER
Society Editor
KARLIE MEYERS
Sports Editor
BEN CRAWFORD
Opinion Editor

As I scrolled down my Twitter feed on Monday, March 2, I noticed the following tweet from an article published in "Column Oklahoma University" by Mr. Abbott.

Mr. Abbott states that: "We think that any attempt to bring trans issues back to the forefront of the American political discussion is a repulsive action."

But his statement is not only inaccurate, it is also harmful and offensive. As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I cannot imagine how hurtful it would be to our community if such a statement were made by members of the administration.

It is clear that Mr. Abbott does not understand the impact of his words. By dismissing trans issues as "repulsive," he perpetuates negative stereotypes and reinforces harmful misconceptions.

As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

As a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

I encourage our administration to take a proactive role in addressing trans issues and to work with our student community to create a more inclusive environment.

Letters to the editor should be no more than 300 words.

Comments: Comments should be no more than 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must include the full name, college and department.

Letters to the editor and Comments must be submitted via email.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Trans issues need visibility

Despite gridlock, minority political powers will ever worth protecting

HANNAH JEFFREY
Editor-in-Chief
BIANCA CORREA
Design Director
JESSICA RUF
Managing Editor
LAUREN CAUDLE
Art & Culture Editor
RANSA SIMBER
Society Editor
KARLIE MEYERS
Sports Editor
BEN CRAWFORD
Opinion Editor

As I scrolled down my Twitter feed on Monday, March 2, I noticed the following tweet from an article published in "Column Oklahoma University" by Mr. Abbott.

Mr. Abbott states that: "We think that any attempt to bring trans issues back to the forefront of the American political discussion is a repulsive action."

But his statement is not only inaccurate, it is also harmful and offensive. As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I cannot imagine how hurtful it would be to our community if such a statement were made by members of the administration.

It is clear that Mr. Abbott does not understand the impact of his words. By dismissing trans issues as "repulsive," he perpetuates negative stereotypes and reinforces harmful misconceptions.

As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

As a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

I encourage our administration to take a proactive role in addressing trans issues and to work with our student community to create a more inclusive environment.

Letters to the editor should be no more than 300 words.

Comments: Comments should be no more than 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must include the full name, college and department.

Letters to the editor and Comments must be submitted via email.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Trans issues need visibility

Despite gridlock, minority political powers will ever worth protecting

HANNAH JEFFREY
Editor-in-Chief
BIANCA CORREA
Design Director
JESSICA RUF
Managing Editor
LAUREN CAUDLE
Art & Culture Editor
RANSA SIMBER
Society Editor
KARLIE MEYERS
Sports Editor
BEN CRAWFORD
Opinion Editor

As I scrolled down my Twitter feed on Monday, March 2, I noticed the following tweet from an article published in "Column Oklahoma University" by Mr. Abbott.

Mr. Abbott states that: "We think that any attempt to bring trans issues back to the forefront of the American political discussion is a repulsive action."

But his statement is not only inaccurate, it is also harmful and offensive. As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I cannot imagine how hurtful it would be to our community if such a statement were made by members of the administration.

It is clear that Mr. Abbott does not understand the impact of his words. By dismissing trans issues as "repulsive," he perpetuates negative stereotypes and reinforces harmful misconceptions.

As a student at the University of Oklahoma, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

As a member of the LGBTQ+ community, I believe it is important for our campus to actively work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment. We must continue to have conversations about trans issues and work towards creating a campus where all students feel safe and supported.

I encourage our administration to take a proactive role in addressing trans issues and to work with our student community to create a more inclusive environment.

Letters to the editor should be no more than 300 words.

Comments: Comments should be no more than 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must include the full name, college and department.

Letters to the editor and Comments must be submitted via email.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.

Letters to the editor and Comments must not exceed 300 words.
Crossword

Edited by Wynn Robert Williams

```
ACROSS
17. Sprite passes band instrument (5) 19. Spinout (5)
20. "I'm ready!" (5) 21. The stage (6)
22. Winter coat (8) 23. Frill (4)
24. Swimming goggles (9)
25. See 60-Across (9)
26. 0.6% (4) 27. Nike (4)
28. 5.9 named actor (10) 29. Fly to Max Piggy
37. Negotiate to maintain (9)
38. Communication once every name (6)
40. College circle (4) 42. An age, Alpha (4)
43. X (5) 44. Application, among the States (8)
45. "Roll over" (5) "Roll over" (5)
50. Swat on 9 (4) 51. Skier's snowy terrain (6)
52. Hearing subject (4)
53. Hearing subject (3)
54. Summer Solstice (8)
57. Do you support the woman's (4)
58. Visit a friend (8) and 46- Across (6)
59. Write a letter with a quizzical tip (7)
60. Speedy (7)
62. '90s (4) 63. "We love you" (4) 64. Runner-up (4)
65. Can be seen - Côte d'Ivoire (6)
66. Three (12) 67. "I asked him..." (6)
68. "It will be okay!" (6)
69. Provide room for growth, perhaps (9)
70. The moment is right. Prepare to jump when (8)
71. Next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. (8)
72. Your love into words. (9)
73. Deepest feelings. Put (9)
74. Energy (8)
75. Your actions speak louder than words over (5)
76. Your deepest feelings. Put (9)
77. More money over the next six weeks. Romance and passion (7)
78. Take your love into words. (9)
79. On a home renovation project over the next six months. (8)
80. Clean house. (9)
81. buzzing over the next six weeks. (9)
82. Buzzing over the next six weeks. (9)

DOWN
1. The moment is right. Prepare to jump when (8)
2. Next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. (8)
3. Your love into words. (9)
4. Deepest feelings. Put (9)
5. Energy (8)
6. Your actions speak louder than words over (5)
7. Your deepest feelings. Put (9)
8. More money over the next six weeks. Romance and passion (7)
9. Take your love into words. (9)
10. On a home renovation project over the next six months. (8)
11. Clean house. (9)
```

Clue:

For solutions to today's puzzle, go to dailymameck.com or download our app!

---

Horoscopes

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aries</th>
<th>Leo</th>
<th>Sagittarius</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Get into your work today and tomorrow.</td>
<td>Travel back over the next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries.</td>
<td>Work fast and make more money over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Romantic communication flowers over the next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. Express your deepest feelings. Put your love into words.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Today and tomorrow could get creatively fun. For the next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries, finish up old business. Review what worked and didn't, and update plans. Grow your savings over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus.</td>
<td>Today and tomorrow. The competition heats up over the next few weeks, with Mercury in Aries. Work together. Revise the budget to fit future plans over the next six weeks. Grow family assets with careful saving.</td>
<td>Your actions speak louder than words over the next six weeks. Romance and passion today now focus. Practice what you love. Take on a home renovation project over the next six months. Change your home.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Your team is especially hot over the three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. Friends are a constant source of inspiration. Over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus, clear closets, garages and attic. Nurture physical health and well-being.</td>
<td>Partnership flowers over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Set goals for Mercury in Aries. Grow your savings over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Prepare to jump when the moment is right.</td>
<td>Make it over the next six weeks. Mars in Taurus. Grow your savings over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Prepare to jump when the moment is right.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Together, something seems possible over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Be careful for a professional opportunity over the next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. Prepare to jump when the moment is right.</td>
<td>Partnership flowers over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Set goals for Mercury in Aries. Grow your savings over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Prepare to jump when the moment is right.</td>
<td>Work fast and make more money over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Romantic communication flowers over the next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. Express your deepest feelings. Put your love into words.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Together, something seems possible over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Be careful for a professional opportunity over the next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. Prepare to jump when the moment is right.</td>
<td>Partnership flowers over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Set goals for Mercury in Aries. Grow your savings over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Prepare to jump when the moment is right.</td>
<td>Work fast and make more money over the next six weeks, with Mars in Taurus. Romantic communication flowers over the next three weeks, with Mercury in Aries. Express your deepest feelings. Put your love into words.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Boxers Floyd Mayweather and Manny Pacquiao will finally face each other in the ring for the first time on May 2.

Offer, any boxing fight without one that any competing company can more revenue than any other names pay-per-view fights per year. Boxing usually runs four or five than all of boxing in 2014. Granted, the UFC sold more pay-per-views January and February of 2015 alone, yet initial estimates show that in the UFC is still on the rise, new company, debuting in 1993.

While both of the companies are consistent with their sales regardless of who headlines a pay-per-view, the UFC sold more pay-per-views than all of boxing in 2014. Granted, boxing contains no other stars and was just over $1.3 million.

Still, people will tune in to watch Mayweather and Pacquiao go at it. Early estimates expect the fight to be the highest grossing event in pay-per-view history, and rightfully so. However, Pacquiao is 36 and Mayweather is 18. Both are on the downswing of their respective careers.

People will tune in this time, but the fights will determine if they return to its heyday. The event gives boxing the chance keep the sport competitive forever. Mayweather and Pacquiao won’t be key to boxing’s future success. The undercard for the bout will determine if they continue to in the future.

When you consider that Pacquiao and Mayweather are each expected to make at least $120 million on the fight, the monitors become that much more skewed. Especially when you see that the total payroll for UFC 182 in January was just over $1.3 million.

According to Mitchell, South Carolina will rely on one particular experience from earlier in the season when preparing to face tough opponents in the Final Four.

"I think that's going to play into our advantage being that we are the new kids on the block in the Final Four," Mitchell said. "I think that puts more pressure on them. We are just going out there and we are playing, so I think that puts more pressure on to you've been there already."

Although having to face a team as talented and consistently successful as Notre Dame will be a daunting task for South Carolina, the Gamecocks believe they’re skillful enough to compete with anyone.

"I think the Connecticut game did help us because there's another level of basketball out there and we are starting to realize that and we are playing pretty good basketball right now," Mitchell said.

Complete your 2015-16 FAFSA, including any follow up, for April 1, 2015, for the best aid package.

Visit fafsa.ed.gov to get started!
Brennan Doherty
SUN CARDINAL

In spring league, South Carolina baseball team is looking to extend its winning streak when traveling up north to face UNC Wilmington on Tuesday. The Gamecocks, winners of three straight games, will then return home to host College of Charleston on Wednesday.

Nearly two months into the season, South Carolina holds a record of 24-12, while going 16-4 at home. With that said, the Gamecocks have struggled in conference play with a 2-7 record and losses on the road with a 2-4 record. Still, South Carolina has done well in non-conference play, and the Gamecocks will have a chance to take advantage of that this week before having to face Florida, one of their last eight games, still fall in two different rankings. South Carolina is the current WBO welterweight champion, while Pacquiao holds a professional record with 26 knockouts. Boxing is suffering from a lack of big names in the middle of their careers. Whereas the other two big-time pay-per-view companies, the UFC and WWE, stack big names like Floyd Mayweather and Manny Pacquiao are considered by different weight classes. Of his 57 fights, Mayweather has derailed fight talks in the past, Arguments about payouts and stakes have been a common theme in recent fights. Boxing needs this fight, but its optics need to be more than just a Pay-per-view. The sport needs to be more than a Pay-per-view.