1968 S. C. STATE LIBRARY BOARD SUMMER INTERN MEETING

by Margie E. Herbon

S. C. State Library Board

Twenty library interns from thirteen participating libraries throughout the state met in Columbia on Tuesday, August 6, in the new Capstone Dormitory at the University of South Carolina. The annual meeting and luncheon climaxed the summer internship program, sponsored by the South Carolina State Library Board. The program gives students an opportunity to work and train in the library field at the library of their choice.

Libraries participating in the intern program this year were: The Abbeville-Greenwood Regional Library, Beaufort County Library, Charleston County Library, Florence County Library, Greenville County Library, Laurens County (Continued On Page Two)
EDITORIAL

We thank the contributors of this issue of The South Carolina Librarian, whose numbers are increasing, and whose voluntary efforts are greatly appreciated! In this "off-year," when there is no Biennial Convention, or Meeting, special efforts are needed to keep our publication on the growing side. Deadline for the March, 1969 issue will be February 1, 1969. Again we request interested writers to "sit down and think" and send us their literary efforts in the library field!

We extend sympathy to the family and friends of the late Mrs. HAGOOD (LUCY HAMPTON) BOSTICK, who died July 18, 1968, in Columbia, S. C. Long-time Librarian of the Richland County Library, and member of the South Carolina State Library Board, her efforts will continue to be appreciated, and many persons will always be indebted to her. Included on page 4 is a tribute by Alfred Rawlinson, Curator, University of South Carolina, and on pages 3-7 accounts of her death, editorials, and other articles about her. We shall miss her!

We thank Colonel James M. Hillard, SCLA Treasurer, and his assistant, Jennifer Y. Risher, for the List of Membership. This is a looked-for feature each October, and is very helpful to many persons and organizations.

We offer our continued thanks and appreciation to JOSEPH RUZICKA, Inc., our publisher; SIMPSON-WOODELL, our printers; and Mr. MERLE BACHTELL, our "trouble-shooter" in connection with printing and mailing The South Carolina Librarian.

SCLA CONVENTION, 1969

Mrs. CAROL S. SCOTT, SCLA President 1968-1969, reports that the Second Biennial (Forty-Sixth Meeting) Convention of SCLA will be held October 9-11, 1969 in the Jack Tar Poinsett Hotel in Greenville. Chairman of the Local Arrangements Committee will be Miss Edith Sayer, Librarian, Hester Memorial Library, North Greenville Junior College.

SUMMER INTERN MEETING

Library, Oconee County Library, Pickens County Library, Richland County Library, Spartanburg County Library, Sumter County Library, York County Library, also the South Carolina State Hospital Library, the first institutional library to accept an intern sponsorship.

Margie Herron, Field Services Librarian with the South Carolina State Library Board, presided over the meeting which included informal remarks to the aspiring librarians from Estellene P. Walker, Director of the State Library Board. The purpose of the meeting was to review the summer's work and to learn more about librarianship as a career. After lunch, the interns toured the South Caroliniana Library and Archives.

The State Library Board sponsored Summer intern program gives college undergraduates and college graduates an opportunity to explore librarianship as a possible career choice. This is one of several programs offered by State Library Board in its continuing personnel training effort designed to provide trained librarians for public libraries throughout the state.
MRS. BOSTICK’S FUNERAL IS CONDUCTED AT TRINITY

(Columbia Record, July 19, 1968)

Funeral services for Mrs. Hagood Bostick were held today at 5 p.m. in Trinity Episcopal Church. Burial was in Trinity Churchyard. The Rev. Charles Scott May, officiated.

Pallbearers were Melver Willcox of Darlington, Paul B. Barringer II of Weldon, N. C., Ben R. Morris of Atlanta, Dr. Ambrose G. Hampton Jr., A. McConnell Faucette and Kirkman Finlay Jr., of Columbia.

For those who desire, memorials can be forwarded to the Carolina Children’s Home.

Mrs. Bostick, for many years a leader and patron in the cultural and educational life of Columbia and of the state, died early Thursday. She had been critically injured in an automobile accident on July 5.

Mrs. Bostick had been Richland County librarian since 1928. As an officer and a member of the State Library Board, she was one of the pioneers in the mission of extending public free libraries and their educational services throughout South Carolina. She had a leadership role in encouraging legislation which became the basis of the spread and improvement of library functions over the state.

In the community of Columbia, Mrs. Bostick lent her leadership and support to practically every major endeavor devoted to the interests of the arts, including the Town Theater, the Columbia Museum of Art and the Columbia Foundation.

Under her direction, the Richland County Library was developed from an institution having only 16,000 volumes to one which now has 225,953 in its main city library and its four branches, Waverly, Cooper, St. Andrew’s and Eastover. At the time Mrs. Bostick became librarian the library’s annual circulation was 60,000 volumes. Today that circulation is more than a million volumes. One of the modern services of the library is the Bookmobile, which makes books available in rural areas.

During her long administration, Mrs. Bostick saw the library move successively from modest quarters to the modern structure which houses it today at Sumter and Washington Streets. She also played a leading part in the effort which led to the provision of a large new headquarters, now being constructed at Senate and Bull Streets, for the State Library Board.

The American Library Association appointed Mrs. Bostick as special membership chairman for South Carolina.

For more than 30 years she served as secretary of the Columbia Stage Society, the parent body for the Town Theater. In the same period she was a member of the board of the theatre, a post she still held at the time of her death. In its early years, Mrs. Bostick accepted roles in the theater’s productions and her interest in its ongoing continued through her lifetime.

She was a founding member and patron of the Historic Columbia Foundation and its restoration of the Ainsley Hall house, designed by Robert Mills. She served in an advisory capacity on various committees for the restoration of the Bostick boxwood gardens and the restoration of the Hampton-Preston house.

From 1958 through 1960, Mrs. Bostick was a member of the board of the Columbia Museum of Art.

One of her engrossing interests was the Columbia Kennel Club. She was its treasurer at the time of her death, and formerly was president. The club sponsored a large annual dog show and in this Mrs. Bostick was always a guiding figure.

She was recognized nationally as an authority on dog breeding and dog judging and often served as a judge at shows sanctioned by the American Kennel Club. She was an authority on cocker spaniels and raised them at her home, “Dogwood,” on the Hampton property on the outskirts of Columbia.

When Columbia’s new private school, Hammond Academy, was organized, she was one of its founders and benefactors and served on its Board of Trustees.

Few major endeavors for the advancement of Columbia and Richland County failed to enlist the leadership talents and the material support of Mrs. Bostick.

In recent years, she even found time to conduct a discussion of books and library services on WIS-radio.

Mrs. Bostick attended Converse College and studied library science at Emory University, Atlanta, and the University of South Carolina.

She was a former president of the Players Club, a member of the Drama Club, the Assembly and a former president of the Junior League.

The former Lucy Hampton, Mrs. Bostick was the daugter of the late Frank Hampton and Gertrude Gonzales Hampton. She was a grand niece of Gen. Wade Hampton.

She descended, on her mother's side, from the family out of which was founded The State newspaper. Her mother was the sister of the three Gonzales brothers who established the newspaper February 18, 1891. The brothers were the late N. G., Ambrose and William Elliott Gonzales.

Mrs. Bostick was a member of the Board of Directors of the State-Record Company, which publishes The State and The Columbia Record, and entertained a deep interest in the newspapers and their institutional responsibility.

Surviving are her husband, Hagood Bostick; a sister, Mrs. Victor B. Barringer of Richmond, Va.; three brothers, Frank Hampton, Harry R. E. Hampton and Ambrose G. Hampton, all of Columbia, and a number of nieces and nephews.

LUCY HAMPTON BOSTICK
Obit July 18, 1968
A Tribute
by Alfred Rawlinson
Curator, University of South Carolina

I first met Lucy Hampton Bostick in the fall of 1929 one year after she began her career as librarian of what later became the Richland County Public Library. From that date until her death on July 18, 1968, as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident in Columbia on July 5, 1968 I was associated with her as patron of her library, member of the staff of her library on two occasions, recipient of much help and counsel, and friend. From each and all of these relationships I gained much for which I shall be forever her debtor. And I was but one of many upon whose career and life she exerted much helpful influence.

The ALA's Office of Recruitment has Bibliographies for Guidance Counselors and Librarian-Recruiters available as follows: Single copies free; 25 copies, 75c; 50 copies, $1.25; 100 copies, $2.25; 250 copies, $5.50; 500 copies, $9.50. They are available from the Office of Recruitment, American Library Association, 50 East Huron St., Chicago, Illinois, 60611. Marion L. On The Record
I SHALL ALWAYS REMEMBER 'MISS LUCY'
by H. Harrison Jenkins in the Columbia Record, July 18, 1968.

Always there will be the glowering, despondent men among us—sack-cloth and ashes wailers—who moan that we are nothing, handfuls of breathing dust soon to dust returning. In their moments of great despair, these groaning prophets avow, as did Thomas Wolfe, that men are "ciphers."

"Naked and alone we came into exile," wrote the lonely Gulliver of the North Carolina hills. "In her dark womb we did not know our mother's face; from the prison of her flesh we come into the unspeakable and incommunicable prison of this earth."

AIMLESSLY, the dark prophets like Wolfe wander the earth, searching for "a stone, a leaf, an unfound door," doomed like the legendary Wandering Jew to be forever a stranger and alone.

There are more blissful prophets—men like Walt Whitman who can listen to a learned astronomer in a steaming lecture room, droning big facts about a great universe; to leave the astronomical figures about the vastness of the universe and the littleness of man; to look up at the night stars and watch the stars as they look down; and know that man, each man, each woman, IS an important individual in the sight of a loving God.

We are not strangers among strangers—unless we ourselves decide that we shall be so. We are friends among friends and the small words and passing acts are of everlasting consequence. We are never alone; even unto the grave and beyond.

Say I this today because friends are burying a friend, Mrs. Hagood Bostick in the Carolina soil she cherished and among the Carolina friends (living and dead), who are as countless as the red grains of Midlend's sand.

SHE WILL BE today and tomorrow and forever to me as she was yesterday and the vanished years before: Miss Lucy. And I shall never pass the northeast corner of Washington and Sumter Streets without knowing that the ghost of Miss Lucy graces the Richland County Library she loved, fostered and nurtured.

I remember Miss Lucy several decades ago, when I was a very young Columbian, not yet bursting past the magical age of 12. In those days, girls were an infernal nuisance who got in the way of baseball, football or basketball games at the Sumter Street Y, the city's playgrounds and the schools' and churches' gymnasiums.

Girls were silly creatures who wanted to entice young men into foolish games when instead, a young man would rather try to arch a basketball under the low-ceilinged basketball court at Trinity, or swat a softball out of Valley Park and across Green Street.

Between times, there were books. Books and more books. Only four were allowed at a time; and four could be read, easily, in a day. So, in the “upstairs” library for children, I wore out dozens of paper-cards, reading and reading. I was no Wolfe, insanely devouring print with a ravenous appetite.

Reading was just plain fun and sustenance for imaginative journeys through Stone Age adventures, West Point cadetdom, athletic triumphs, excursions with the knights of the Round Table to have their fair ladies and defeat even Saracen warriors.

Except that, on a summer’s day, I found that I’d read everything in the upstairs library. I remember that the librarian there asked: “Everything?” And I answered, “Yes, everything except the sissy girls’ books.” What red-blooded Carolina boy would want to read stories of young ladies? When the librarian checked hitter and yon, finding indeed that I’d read everything of interest to a young boy, she said: “Let’s go see Miss Lucy.”

I FOLLOWED her downstairs and listened to the conference as the upstairs librarian conferred with the great Voice of Authority, Miss Lucy. And I waited, wondering whether the immense treasure-hoard of the “downstairs library” would be opened for me.

Miss Lucy turned and her voice did not shake me with thunder, as I thought it might. It was soft and her eyes sparkled (they always, always did when she talked). She said, “You may check out books from downstairs, but I must approve every book you take out.”

At that moment, Miss Lucy with queenly grace had given me the key to a cave filled with treasure and like Tom Sawyer or Huck Finn, I was ready to pick up the rich jewels: I wandered among the stacks, selecting one of Elliott White Springs’ stories of the air battles of World War I, a medieval novel, and a book entitled “J’Accuse.”

I carried them back to Miss Lucy for approval and was stunned to see her frown as she looked at “J’Accuse.” (I had skimmed through it to discover it was a story of World War I.) Only as I grew into adulthood and learned something of the French language did I fully understand WHY she paused over “J’Accuse.”

She skimmed through the book, stamped it and dismissed me with a benediction quite befitting Bishop Henry Phillips.

A SMALL BOY and an understanding librarian. That’s all the story is. Yet, had she sternly chased me back upstairs to the exhausted children’s books, what lightning stroke would have splintered by spirit! She did not. And among the thousands and thousands of people I’ve met and millions of experiences I’ve had, I have never forgotten Miss Lucy’s graceful understanding.

When I carried my 10-year-old son down to the Cooper library a few weeks ago, we found he’d misplaced his card. So, I decided I’d just get a card for myself and check out books on Mozart, Beethoven and King Arthur for him.

The application required a reference. “Who,” I thought, “should I give?” Remembering the sparkling eyes of a gentle lady of Carolina, knowing that she would enjoy the choice, I wrote: “Mrs. Hagood Bostick.”

I am glad that I did. However, I was almost compelled to write not her full married name, but simply that name by which I shall always know and remember her: “Miss Lucy.”

LIFE OF SERVICE TO OTHERS

(The Columbia Record, July 19, 1968)

Modestly and unobtrusively, Mrs. Hagood (Lucy Hampton) Bostick exerted tremendous impact on the cultural life of her native Columbia and on literary appreciation throughout South Carolina.

As librarian of Richland County Public Library since it became a government unit in 1928, she has been the motivating force in its physical expansion and its growth from 16,000 to nearly a quarter of a million volumes. She inaugurated a bookmobile service that extends library privileges to every rural community in the county and introduced the circulation of classical music recordings.

Her encouragement of reading and interest in books extended throughout the state. She served as president of the South Carolina librarians and was responsible for statewide legislation to make literature available free to the people.

Primary among her civic activities was the Town Theatre. She was secretary of its governing body, the Columbia Stage Society, for many years and was largely responsible for giving the city one of the nation’s most outstanding community theatres.

Consistent with her literary and cultural interests was her participation in educational, historical and art associations. She donated the real estate for the private James H. Hammond Academy and was vice chairman of the board of trustees. She was a founding patron of the Columbia Museum of Art and served as vice president. She was also a founder of the Columbia Historic Foundation and worked on advisory committees to initiate the preservation of Robert Mills-designed Ainsley Hall Mansion, the Bolyston Boxwood Gardens, and the Hampton-Preston Home.

Her hobbies were gardening, which was a personal recreation at her home, "Dogwood," and the breeding and showing of purebred dogs, in which she rendered public service. She was the moving spirit behind the Columbia Kennel Club and its shows. She exhibited her own champion cocker spaniels, locally, in Madison Square Garden, and throughout the country.

Mrs. Bostick’s tragic death from automobile accident injuries is a personal loss for the people of Greater Columbia and South Carolina. Her zeal and leadership in the cultural life of our community has passed from us; but her good works continue as a memorial to her bountiful years, devoted to creating a more meaningful life for others.

WOMAN OF ACHIEVEMENT
(The State, Columbia, S. C., July 20, 1968)

The death of Mrs. Hagood Bostick has removed from the South Carolina scene an extraordinarily forceful and gifted figure—one whose life was largely invested in upgrading the minds of her fellows and in fostering the esthetics which are enriching to life.

It is with justification that her passing is mourned; it represents a loss to the state and to the community of Columbia. Fortunately, the impact she has left is in areas where it will be long felt.

Mrs. Bostick could have lived a life of self-aggrandizement. But she chose the other way, the way of directing her talents and her means to the benefit of others.

There is no accounting the good and enlightenment her highly successful library mission accomplished. And her sponsorship of the arts will leave a permanent mark.

There will be successors to Lucy Hampton Bostick in the fields in which she worked, but to match her they will have to emulate her indestructible spirit, her perception and, indeed, her force.

MRS. BOSTICK'S SUPPORT FOR THE TOWN THEATER
(The State, Columbia, S. C., July 19, 1968)

The program for a 1966 production of Columbia’s Town Theater included a tribute to Mrs. Lucy Hampton Bostick, written by Adger Brown, now cultural affairs editor of The State and long active in Town Theater affairs. It was written without Mrs. Bostick’s knowledge and she was to discover it first in the program.

The tribute follows:

Town Theatre is an institution firmly rooted in tradition, always looking toward the future and yet functioning in a highly demanding present.

Probably no one individual more fully typifies this aspect of Town Theatre than Lucy Hampton Bostick. Certainly to no one is a greater debt of gratitude owed by theatergoers than to Mrs. Bostick, who has served on the Board of Governors as secretary for more than 30 years.

Unobtrusive—even diffident in manner—so long as the theater is running smoothly, Lucy Hampton Bostick has been accurately described as "one of those rare, true-blue souls" who always stands in readiness to cope with emergencies.

In Town Theater’s past, there have been dark periods. There have been moments when even its most stalwart and optimistic supporters have feared that the theater must actually close its doors.

But they made the mistake of underestimating the quiet power and force of a woman like Mrs. Bostick who in her gentle, womanly fashion always has stood ready to “fight, bleed and die” to keep Town Theater alive and operating.

While still a young girl, Lucy Hampton participated in the first membership campaigns conducted by the theatre. She lent her talents to some of the theater’s first productions, including “Beau Brummell” and "Lady Windermere’s Fan.”

A review of the former play said: “In delightful contrast to the role of the ‘siren’ was Miss Lucy Hampton in the role of Marianna, the inamorata of Brummell, who dies with her name on his lips. Her quaint, demure manner and mien eloquently bespoke the sweet womanliness which won his beaus’ heart. Miss Hampton enhanced the interest of her appearance by wearing two charming gowns of her own great-grandmother.

Frequently referred to as “the backbone of the theater,” Mrs. Bostick and her husband, Hagood, have opened their hospitable home, “Dogwood” on numerous occasions to honor the theater’s directors and casts of plays. Mr. Bostick has lent his own talents as an actor to a number of Town Theater productions.

Mrs. Bostick’s interests in the cultural life of Columbia are by no means confined to the theater. Somehow this remarkable lady finds time and seemingly boundless energy to serve as librarian for Richland County Public Library. Under her guidance, that institution has grown from a less-than-modest beginning into one of the finest public libraries in the Southeast.

Mrs. Bostick has brought additional lustre to Columbia as a publisher of fine books in cooperation with former Columbian Finch Thorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Bostick are among the most ardent supporters of the Columbia Kennel Club and they have been instrumental in making Columbia an important center for dog owners and trainers.

Mrs. Bostick, herself, is inclined to avoid the spotlight, preferring to create the impression that whatever she has done has been largely "fortuitous."

But fortuitous circumstances arise in the lives of many of us—who fail to rise with them. Mrs. Bostick is one of those rare ones who obviously recognize "that tide, which taken at the flood" leads on to ever increasing accomplishments.

Even if her contribution to Town Theater were, as she says, "largely a matter of chance," it is still rare good luck indeed for Town Theatre which placed Lucy Hampton Bostick in the right place at the right time.

IN MEMORIAM

Lucy Hampton Bostick

The tragic death of Mrs. Hagood Bostick on July 18 stunned and saddened her many friends and acquaintances. It will take time for the full impact of this loss to be realized.

Mrs. Bostick was a pioneer in the library field in South Carolina.

In 1929, shortly after her appointment as librarian of the Columbia Public Library (forerunner of the Richland County Public Library) she, with the late W. Anderson Clarkson and the late Mary E. Frayer obtained the passage of legislation creating the State Library Board. No appropriation was available for many years and Mrs. Bostick, as secretary (1929-1968) gave of her time and effort to attend to the correspondence and to travel over the state speaking before groups interested in the establishment of libraries.

In 1930 her efforts and those of W. Anderson Clarkson resulted in a Rosenwald grant for the establishment of a county library to serve Richland County. Prior to that she had packed and delivered in her car, boxes of books for use in rural schools and communities.

When the State Budget Commission made funds available to employ a field worker for a few months, the State Library Board secured the services of Dr. Helen Gordon Stewart, an internationally known librarian from British Columbia. Dr. Stewart came to the state in November of 1938 and directed a move to establish Citizens' Library Associations in each county. The aim was to create statewide interest in an appropriation to establish the State Library Board but the effort was not fruitful. Mrs. Bostick provided space for the campaign materials and had the membership cards and other material reproduced in her library. She helped plan Dr. Stewart's itinerary and arranged with WPA officials to have Dr. Stewart travel with the Library Project supervisors.

With the demise of the WPA and its Statewide Library Project, Mrs. Bostick with Mary E. Frayer conducted a campaign in the legislature which culminated in the first appropriation, $15,000, for the State Library Board. She provided storage space for the books and materials inherited from the WPA and desk space for the librarian employed by the Board until quarters could be rented. She saw this unpretentious beginning grow into a thriving state library agency with an appropriation of $598,524 for 1968-69. Through the years she was always available for counsel and support and was faithful in her attendance at meetings of the Board.

Her own library grew and expanded under her direction. From a few rooms in the Sylvan building on Hampton Street, it moved to a second story location in the 1500 block of Main Street, next to a portion of the Woodrow home on the site of the present library and then to the occupancy of the whole building and the purchase of the lot. In addition to the handsome headquarters library completed in 1952, there are two new branch library buildings, the Cooper Branch of Trenholm Road and the branch at St. Andrews. The Waverly and Eastover branches were established in 1930. With physical expansion came expansion and improvement of services.

She was a loyal member of the South Carolina Library Association and served as its president in 1932. After joining she never missed attending a conference. Her hospitality was evidenced again when she welcomed Association committee meetings to the use of the conference room in the new Richland County Public Library building.

She encouraged numerous young people to go to graduate library school and the fact that many now hold responsible library positions in South Carolina and other states is a testimony of her judgment.

Mrs. Bostick was a fighter. Once a goal had been established, she spared no effort to achieve it. No matter if the temperature soared into the hundreds or dropped to near zero, if she were needed to support a library legislative program, she made it to the legislature. She was not easily discouraged. If one door was closed, she looked until she found another open. No library legislation of state-wide significance was enacted without her help. She had a light hand and an easy manner in handling the most difficult situations. Her last service to the libraries of South Carolina was her support of the measure to exempt public libraries from the payment of the sales and use tax. In less than an hour, she was able to convince key members of the legislature that this measure should be enacted. She was gay and gallant with a mischievous sense of humor and a keen wit. With all this she combined force, endurance and determination. Her death is a personal loss to all who knew her. She was, in the true sense of the word, a great lady.
IN MEMORIAM

James M. Smith 1891-1967
Mary E. Frayser 1868-1968

The State Library Board lost two of its most valuable friends in the deaths of Mr. Smith and Miss Frayser.

Mr. Smith, a staunch friend and supporter of the State Library Board died on December 27. He was for many years State Auditor and Executive Secretary of the Budget and Control Board. It was largely due to his interest and belief in the program of the State Library Board that service was developed to its present level. He was instrumental in securing funds for the construction of the new State Library Building. Mr. Smith was included in library councils and in his quiet way did much to guide campaigns in the General Assembly for increased support for a broader library program.

Miss Frayser, who for almost fifty years gave her unflagging interest and support to the development of library service in the state, died on January 9.

When Miss Frayser came to South Carolina from Virginia in 1912 to work with the Extension Service of Winthrop College, there was not a public library in the state worthy of the name. In her work with the Extension Service, Miss Frayser realized that any program of general adult education and community recreation necessitated reading and the ready availability of reading material. She set herself the goal of public library service for every citizen of the state. Miss Frayser did not leave a stone unturned to achieve her four-fold goal: a state bill permitting taxation for the support of public libraries, a library association, the creation of a state library agency, and the development of state-wide library service.

In 1915 a bill to permit taxation for the support of public libraries was passed. Fifteen years later the bill establishing the State Library Board as an extension agency was enacted, and Miss Frayser became a member of the first State Library Board. She served as chairman of the Board from 1941 to 1950 and she was made a lifetime honorary member of the Board by Governor Thurmond in 1951.

In 1947 Miss Frayser received the ALA Trustee Citation for her valuable and constructive work on behalf of libraries.

In retirement, so long as her health permitted, she maintained her interest in libraries and kept up with developments on the state, regional and national level.

A.L.A. COUNCILOR’S REPORT

by MARGUERITE G. THOMPSON

To fulfill the interests of a multitude of groups within its 38,000 membership, the American Library Association “jam-packed” its 87th Conference with meetings in Kansas City in June. Attendants were constantly making choices as to which of a half dozen meetings scheduled for the same hour they would attend. Many members believe there are too many organized groups in ALA. Perhaps so. On the other hand, they are surely indicative of the constantly-broadening interests of librarians in their profession and in the communities which they serve.

With Council meetings as my main concern, I wasn’t burdened with many choices about attending other meetings. There were four sessions of Council during the week. In addition to the regular Council I and Council II and the Council-Executive Board Information meeting, a special session was called to consider proposals from the Membership Meeting.

I also attended the meeting on ALA Chapter Relationships as your representative. This was our second meeting, the first having taken place in Miami Beach at Midwinter. The discussions are frank and lively and are serving to widen channels of communications between ALA and the chapters. Further meetings are planned.

At its first meeting, Council adopted the report of the Constitution and By-Laws Committee, which included two important changes: (1) Institutional members of ALA will no longer have voting privileges; (2) Article VI, Section 4-c, was amended to require that petitions to set aside Council action be submitted within 90 days following the action.

Council also passed a resolution presented by the Intellectual Freedom Committee calling for the full support of librarians who request assistance in carrying out the principles expressed in the Library Bill of Rights. A study will be made and reported at 1969 Midwinter concerning the establishment of a support fund.

Much time was consumed at both Council and Membership meetings in regard to the financial status of the Association. The Program Evaluation and Budget Committee reported budget requests for next year of more than a half million dollars above the budgetary ceiling. After carefully studying the overall budget, they recommended certain cuts and changes, including a cut in the ALA Office of Recruitment. Membership proposed to Council, and Council concurred, that the portion of the PEBCO report reducing the funding of the Office for Recruitment be rejected.

The Membership meeting also adopted a proposal, which it sent to Council, requiring candidates for the office of ALA president and vice-president to submit platform statements. The proposal was defeated by Council.

A petition signed by some 300 members of the Association requested the immediate establishment of a Round Table on the Social Responsibilities of Libraries to provide a forum on the major issues of the times and the responsibilities of libraries in relation to these issues. This petition necessitated a special meeting of Council, at which time it was voted that "the Committee on Organization be requested to report to the Executive Board their recommendation for or against the establishment of a Round Table on the Social Responsibilities of Libraries, and that the action of the Committee and of the Executive Board be reported to council expeditiously." This report was promised no later than the 1969 Midwinter meeting.

The report of the National Advisory Commission on Libraries was still incomplete by the time the Kansas City meeting, but the opening session featured reports on its content. Possibly the report will be considered in its entirety at Midwinter.

I stayed over for the Inaugural Banquet on the last night of the Conference. I was pleased that I did, as it was well-planned, with good food, warm fellowship, and a superb address by the 1968-69 president, Roger McDonough.

It was good to see many South Carolinians at the Conference. We thought the weather unbearably hot, but compared with the August temperature in South Carolina this year, perhaps it wasn't too bad!

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for the privilege of serving as your representative on the ALA Council during the past four years. It is with high appreciation that I accept your vote of confidence in re-electing me to another term of office. I shall continue to strive to serve you to the best of my ability.

RECENT SOUTH CAROLINIANA
A PARTIAL LIST

Compiled by
J. MITCHELL REAMES AND LYNN S. BARRON

McKissick Memorial Library, University of South Carolina

This is the ninth list of this kind to appear in The South Carolina Librarian; previous lists were published in the October issue of 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, and 1967. No list was published in 1966. The titles included were gleaned from various bibliographies and from items available at the South Caroliniana Library. Grateful acknowledgement is made to Mr. E. L. Inabinett, Librarian of the South Caroliniana Library, and to his staff for their interest and assistance in preparing the compilation.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge that Mrs. Lynn S. Barron, Assistant Reference Librarian, McKissick Memorial Library, actually did most of the work in preparing this list.

No claim is made that this is a complete list of all South Caroliniana published since the last list appeared. For a statement of the scope of the list, limits of inclusion, and an explanation of format, reference is made to The South Carolina Librarian, October, 1962, pages 6-7.

GUIDE TO FLOOR COVERINGS

Floors: Selection and Maintenance, by Bernard Berkeley, is a recent publication which gives practical information about almost every type of floor and floor covering that might reasonably be installed in a library building. Five chapters are devoted to detailed descriptions of the properties of the major categories of floors and floor coverings. Installation and maintenance techniques for each type of floor are explained.

This Library Technology Project publication may be ordered from the Publishing Department, ALA, 50 East Huron, Chicago, Illinois 60611 at $12.50 or borrowed on special interlibrary loan from the State Library Board. (S. C. State Library Board's News for Public Libraries, May, 1968)

THE PLACID PUDDLE REST HOME: A PROPOSAL

by Schroeder Gahuvnik*

as told to Lester J. Pourciau

(Editor's Note: May 6, 1968 Mr. Pourciau, formerly with the Florence County Library, wrote: "The enclosed paper is the result of a combination of insomnia and post-midnight meditation. I had not originally planned to do anything with it, but Charles Busha, a friend and fellow student at Indiana University has suggested that I send it to you for possible publication in the South Carolina Librarian. Charles tells me that in view of his two papers which you have published in the last year, he is going to 'give you a rest for a while.' We thank Mr. Pourciau and Mr. Busha for their interest, wish them continued success in their studies, and hope they will continue to be contributors!")

*Mr. Gahuvnik was for many years Director of Libraries on Bouvet Island. He retired in 1966 and came to the United States to promote the Placid Puddle Rest Home. He was last known to be in or around Noonan, North Dakota, attempting to purchase property for the Home. Mr. Pourciau is a doctoral student, Graduate Library School, Indiana University.

The long history of the vicious attack and downright insult heaped upon the noble art of cataloging is very well known and regretted by many librarians. Much of this injurious dialogue has been subtle; some has been open and hostile. Concern over this situation prompted a number of prominent people to convene, in 1965, on Bouvet Island to discuss possible means of compensation catalogers for the ills they have long suffered. After many hours of debate and consideration, it was decided to propose the Placid Puddle Rest Home as a reward for those who had managed to live through the trials and tribulations of a life and career as a cataloger. What a joyous abode this would be! The tentative site of the Home is about ten miles due north of Noonan, North Dakota, and about four miles west of Hades. Already a committee is busy at work preparing rules of conduct and activity for the fine group of people who will eventually inhabit the Home.

From the onset of the meeting on Bouvet Island, there was some opposition to the Home and in addition to questioning its necessity, there were some who actually challenged the fact that catalogers have a tradition of being maligned. Such, of course, is completely untrue. Consider, for example, the statement of Enoch Sneed that it is "better not to compile a catalogue, both as an unavailing bother and moreover as the absence of it makes you more secure in your office . . ." This horrid statement was first printed to infect the minds of librarians in 1773!!! Others have attempted to identify catalogers with the popular and frivolous. One of these attempts is a wretched discourse entitled "There's figures in them Dewey Decimals; or, Hi Ho Silver Screen." Still another anti-cataloger proposal is that of the Molesworth Institute. They want to publish a journal titled Ibid., and have publically stated that entry of this journal will be a constant source of confusion! The Molesworth people are true enemies. They want to manufacture catalog cards that will disintegrate in twenty years.\(^3\) Such cards would enforce catalogers to evaluate their work and engage in re-cataloging five times in each century. Even if this hellish battle is lost and these cards come into widespread use, the typical cataloger's career will span several sets of them.

Back to the Home! Preliminary plans will require that each cataloger bring his own Cutter-Sanborn Table, nothing more. Darling Dewey will be supplied to all, as will be a bone, and a huge metal bin in which experimentation in sedimentary filing systems may be made. The first exercise required of all will be a self cataloging task so that all membership records will be accurate and neat. Main entry in this self cataloging will, of course, be the name of the cataloger who is admitted to the Home. Place of birth, name of parents, and date of birth will be substituted for the usual imprint information. Added entries will take the form of the title held while employed, such as "Chief, LC Card Adaptation Division." Once a new cataloger has joined the group in the Home and has completed the self cataloging project, the resulting cards will be filed in his or her own, personal Kittytwig (diminutive of Catalog). An adequate supply of volumes withdrawn from other libraries will be supplied to each person so that idleness will not interfere with one's efforts. Plans are now being made to contact the National Library of Jan Mayen to inquire about the possibility of obtaining their discards.

While the above is presently only in nebulous planning stage, sincere efforts are being made to make the Home a reality. Hopefully, these efforts will shortly culminate in its existence. When this joyous time arrives, revenge will be had; detractors will be spied, and each and every cataloger who desires will be able to rest assured that when he or she has finally arrived at that blissful, golden gate of retirement, the end of the road will not be waiting, but rather, a new life can be greeted at the Placid Puddle Rest Home.

IN OUR MERRY BOOKMOBILE

by Margaret P. Purvis and Olivia C. Smith

Although the title for this article may be old-fashioned, there is nothing old-fashioned about bookmobile service at the Florence County Library. In the space age in which we live, bookmobile service must be efficient in operation, timely and appealing in its book collection, have a good working schedule, and a competent staff with a warm and sincere interest in their patrons.

As bookmobile librarians, we have always felt there is a special kind of challenge in the work we perform. We are representatives of the main library in the areas we travel, and we must, also, have the ability to maintain our readers' interest in the books we have to offer on each stop we make.

Our service, naturally, is an informal one. We get to personally know our readers and their individual preferences in reading material. Among our adult readers there is not just Lutz and Loring. They like biographies; books that are informative and keep them abreast of the time; and books that can help them construct a patio, train pets, redecorate their homes and even rewire them if necessary. These are just a few examples. Our young readers enjoy mysteries and books in space and travel, sports, natural science, mythology, and animals. The classics hold interest for all ages and are constantly requested from our collection.

Religious books have always been well read and seem to be more so recently; perhaps this is due to the uncertainty of the age in which we live.

It would not be a true picture of our work if we did not mention a little about the other side of the story. The staff of a bookmobile has the most physically tiring work in the entire library system. They must work fast and under pressure. At the same time, they must give reader service which should be unhurried and pleasantly rendered. They also have the responsibility of keeping their schedule on its proper time basis, and, last but not least, the occasional operational difficulties of the truck itself.

Regardless of these problems, there are the personal experiences of our work which make our endeavors so rewarding; the little remembrances at Christmas time, the many fresh vegetables when in season, all the samples of the home-baked cakes and pies, and even the respect just for driving such a big truck. What could be more flattering than to have young readers looking at you in awe and admiration, say that "When they grow up they want to do just what you are doing?" Perhaps from them will come our future librarians. We have even been asked, "How much does it cost to join?" and "What do you have to do to quit?" when a young reader was going on vacation.

Through the magic doors of our bookmobile one can walk into a wonderful world of adventure, learning, and travel. The fact that we make this possible by our "library on wheels" gives us a deep sense of responsibility and the determination to improve our service, reach more people, and provide more and better books.

SUMTER COUNTY LIBRARY
DEDICATION

Remarks by Chapman J. Milling, Jr., Librarian
May 7, 1968

We are all too aware that these are troubled times. We are confronted at every turn with examples of human stupidity and brutality. There is a multitude of problems, and crisis follows crisis. A frightening ferment of change engulfs us in a psychedelic blur. This is the age of stupidity and crisis.

These are, therefore, times of bewilderment and hence, times of agonizing introspection. Sometimes, it seems that the entire country is suffering from a collective guilt complex. Certainly, there is plenty to feel guilty about. But there is a terrible danger in this because guilt feelings can do terrible things. It is unwise to try to right, too fast, too many wrongs. Wisdom is needed instead of panic.

We might ask if it would not be sensible to pause sometime and reflect that a great many things humans do are good. We perform acts of kindness and mercy. We build churches and synagogues. We build hospitals. On this occasion it is appropriate to realize that we build libraries even as we write books to fill them.

On this occasion, we are celebrating the fulfillment of a community's faith in good and this splendid building is a testimonial to the good things people do.

It is perfectly true that some pathetic fool may find on the shelves of the library, books which may do further damage to a desperate mind. But it is much more likely that an inestimable amount of good will result from the library the people of Sumter County have built. People will use the library to recreate themselves, and to improve themselves and to enrich themselves, and not a few persons will find wisdom within these walls.

As we know, wisdom is not gained in haste. Fortunately, there are still havens for the slow, orderly pursuit of knowledge. Along with other institutions of learning, public libraries share the privilege of providing the means to acquire wisdom. In the long run, this means proves far more effective in the cause of good than all the panic buttons on the console of panacea.

It is my privilege to serve as the director of Sumter County's Public Library. I am proud of the title, Librarian, as I feel sure the Board of Trustees and the Staff are proud of the roles they play in providing library services to the people of this country.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Board of Trustees and the people of Sumter County for letting me serve as their librarian. With the direction and guidance of the Board, with the able assistance of the staff, I will try very hard to provide a library service worthy of this magnificent building and the faith which the people of Sumter County have placed in the good and civilized things of life.

MISS JOSEPHINE NEIL HONORED

A civilian employee of Headquarters, Sixth Naval District, was twice honored by the American Library Association at their annual meeting to be held in Kansas City, Missouri, in June, 1968.

Miss Josephine Neil, District Librarian for the Sixth Naval District, received a special award for submitting a prize-winning motto, and she has been named by ALA President-elect Roger H. McDonough to serve a two-year term as one of seven members of the ALA’s National Library Week Committee.

She left Charleston Sunday, June 23, for Kansas City to receive the honors and to participate in the week-long annual conference.

Miss Neil’s winning motto, “AFLS—Round the World Service to Services Round the World,” was the unanimous choice of the Executive Board of the Armed Forces Librarians Section of the ALA as being most representative of the mission of the Armed Forces Librarians in promoting and improving library service to our military forces throughout the world.

Miss Neil received a Letter of Commendation from Rear Admiral J. S. Dorsey, Commandant, Sixth Naval District, when the selection was announced by Egon Weiss, Librarian of the United States Military Academy at West Point, and President of the Armed Forces Librarians Section.

As Sixth Naval District Librarian, Miss Neil supervises 27 shore installation libraries in the southeastern U. S., and renders library service to approximately 350 ships in District ports from Charleston to Key West, Fla. She has served as District Librarian since 1961. Prior to coming to Charleston, she served eight years as Command Librarian, Headquarters, U. S. Army Forces Europe, in Heidelberg, Germany.

The Nashville, Tennessee native, who holds a Master’s Degree in Library Science from George Peabody College in Nashville, is completing her 25th year of library service to military forces in the U. S. and overseas.

DEADLINE for the March, 1969 issue of The South Carolina Librarian will be February 1, 1969.
PLAN NOW TO SEND IN THAT ARTICLE BY THEN!
RESOLUTION PASSED BY LIBRARY BOARD, DR. W. K. FISHBURNE

At a meeting of the Berkeley Memorial Library Board held on March 15, 1968, the following resolution was passed:

IN MEMORIAM

Dr. William Kershaw Fishburne

It is with profound sorrow the Board of Directors of the Berkeley Memorial Library records the death of one of its most forceful and loyal members, Dr. William Kershaw Fishburne. Dr. Fishburne was one of the dynamic and influential persons who started the library movement in Berkeley County in 1936. He worked untiringly until the present library was built, and served as vice-president of the Library Board until June, 1964, when he retired because of ill health. He remained an associate member of the board until his death February 2, 1968.

In his death, the library has lost a forceful leader, a wise counselor, and a dear friend. His memory will remain as a choice possession for the library board members as well as the multitude of friends who loved him.

It was further resolved that these resolutions be spread upon the official minutes of the board and a copy be sent to the family.

Marie Harvey, Chairman. (The Berkeley Democrat, Moncks Corner, S. C. April 10, 1968)

MINUTES

COLLEGE SECTION, SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Friday, April 5, 1968

The College Section of the South Carolina Library Association met at Clemson University on Friday, April 5, 1968. Robert C. Tucker, Chairman, called the opening session to order at 10 a.m. A total of eighty-five registered.

There was a brief business meeting at which the Chairman stated the desire of the librarians of the Technical Education Centers to become members of the College Section and asked for the sentiment of the members. Mr. Gourlay made a motion, seconded by Miss Ham, that they be welcomed to the section and the motion was passed unanimously.

There being no further business, the Chairman expressed the appreciation of the Section to Clemson University and Mr. Gourlay and the library staff for inviting the Section to meet there. He then turned the meeting over to Mr. Gourlay who gave a description of the new library building and introduced the six members of his staff who were to conduct the tours. There was a short interruption of the above proceedings when Mr. Gourlay presented a gift from the Clemson University Library staff to Miss Sidelle B. Ellis upon the occasion of her retirement.

Tours of the building were completed between 12:15 and 12:30, at which time the group went to the cafeteria and had lunch together.

Beginning at about 2 p.m., Mr. R. Max Willocks, Librarian of Columbia College, led a discussion in the Ceramics Auditorium, attended by about one half of the registrants, of automation in the small college library. At the same time, Mr. Kenneth E. Toombs, Director of Libraries at the University of South Carolina, led a discussion in the classroom on the ground floor of the Library on changing patterns in staffing. At about 3:15, the two groups exchanged places so that all who wished to do so were able to participate in both discussions. The meetings ended at about 4:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Barbara J. Williams
Vice-Chairman and Secretary

SPECIAL LIBRARY SECTION

by Sarah S. Harris, Chairman

The Special Library Section will meet on Saturday, October 12, in the Horger Library, South Carolina State Hospital, beginning at 10 o'clock.

The program will include a panel discussion headed by a technical education librarian, a science research librarian, and special library consultants from North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

Miss Margaret R. Schultze of Columbia, a rising senior majoring in psychology at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, became South Carolina's first library intern under the 1967-68 project for hospital and institution library internships. Miss Schultze served three months in the Horger Library at the South Carolina State Hospital.

Sympathy to Jean (Mrs. Marshall) Ligon, librarian for Lyles, Bissett, Carlisle and Wolff, on the recent death of her father.

Mrs. Bernetha H. Fleming, librarian at Crafts-Farrow Hospital, attended an institute for hospital and institution librarians held at Florida State University, Tallahassee, from July 15 through 26.

Mrs. Sarah S. Harris, chief librarian, S. C. State Hos-

She was a group leader throughout the institute and on July 17 was on the panel to discuss a paper on bibliotherapy, titled "Who responds and why," presented by Dr. Carolina Shrodes.

SCLA MEMBERSHIP GOOD

From Col. James M. Hillard, SLA Treasurer

(Editor's Note: received too late for the March, 1968 issue)

It probably is too late for inclusion, but if not, I thought it pertinent to put in the SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARIAN the mention that as of February 23, 1968, every member of the Special Library Section had renewed her membership. This is the only section which comes close, except for the Exhibitors. The next nearest group is the College Section followed by School and Public; and the fewest renewals from the Trustees. For some reason, there has been a delay in Institutional payments this year.

Our membership is good, though. We have 571 paid members as of today and there are several outstanding librarians still outstanding who I know will pay. I estimate now that our total membership will be over 600 and may approach last year's total of 627 which I think was the all time high. The fact that we collected from almost 200 at the meeting gave us a running start. I would think that we probably would have almost 700 next year in a convention year.

ARCHITECTURAL JOURNAL FEATURES LIBRARY BUILDINGS

The 1967/3 issue of the Review of Architecture, the official publication of the South Carolina Chapter, American Institutes of Architectures features library buildings recently completed or under construction in South Carolina.

An introduction gives a brief history of libraries in the states and is illustrated by a photograph of the Carolina Society Library, the oldest separate college library building in the nation.

The State Library Board's building, with photographs of the model and the floor plan, introduces the public library section. Photographs and plans of the Seneca branch of the Oconee County Library, the Sumter County Library and the Greenville County Library follow with a list of counties participating in the construction projects and the regulations governing the allocation of funds.

The college section includes the new library buildings at Clemson University, University of South Carolina (Undergraduate Library), South Carolina State, Wofford, Winthrop and Columbia Colleges.

The article was prepared by John Califf, an editor of the Review, and a member of the firm, Geiger/Califf/Player, architects for the State Library Board Building.

A copy of this periodical may be obtained for $1.00 from Wing Publications, Inc., P. O. Drawer 3, Columbia, S. C. 29202.

SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARY ASSOCIATION
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING
March 30, 1968

The Executive Committee of the South Carolina Library Association met on March 30, 1968, at 10:30 a.m., in the Meeting Room of the Richland County Public Library. The members present were Mrs. Helen L. Callison, Josephine Crouch, Mrs. Sarah S. Harris, Margie E. Herron, Col. James M. Hillard, Patricia Mercer, J. Frank Nolen, J. Mitchell Reames, Mrs. Carol S. Scott, and Mrs. Marguerite G. Thompson. Also present was Herbert Hucks, Jr., Editor, South Carolina Librarian. Robert C. Tucker was absent.

The meeting was called to order by the President.

A motion was made by Miss Reid, and seconded by Mrs. Thompson that the reading of the minutes be dispensed with and that they be approved as printed with one cor-resection: page 2, last paragraph—the date February 15 changed to February 17. The motion passed.

Executive Committee reports were given as follows:

ALA COUNCILOR: No report was given. SELA REPRESENTATIVE: The SELA Convention will be held in the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach, October 30-November 3. Miss Reid also reported that she and Miss Nancy Jane Day were to serve as a nominating committee to appoint a replacement for Miss Reid.

SECTION CHAIRMEN:

COLLEGE: In the absence of Dr. Tucker, Col. Hillard reported that plans had been made by the College Section for a meeting at the Clemson University Library on April 5. Two separate meetings are to be held on two different subjects.

PUBLIC: Miss Mercer reported that the Standards Committee of the Public Library Section had met in Columbia on March 16 and had drawn up a revised salary schedule for professional and nonprofessional librarians. These new salary scales will be presented to the individual library boards for their consideration.

SCHOOL: This Section continues to try to build up interest in SCLA and SELA among school librarians.

TRUSTEE: Mr. Nolen reported that, as a result of the tight economy push in the Legislature this year, a decision had been made by the Trustee Section not to press for the 5c increase in state aid for public libraries. The Section will work instead to get the 3% sales tax on books removed. Sen. Bristow will present an amendment urging removal of the tax and Miss Walker (State Library Board) will advise Mr. Nolen of the outcome. Mr. Nolen feels confident that the bill will pass the Legislature.

SPECIAL: Mrs. Harris reported that a fall meeting was being planned and that she would be able to present more definite plans at the next meeting.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS:

(1) The President reported that the Frayser resolution had been sent to three relatives and to The South Carolina Librarian and News for South Carolina Public Libraries.

(2) Appointment of committee members:

a. Mr. Hucks has been officially appointed as editor of The South Carolina Librarian.

b. Editorial Committee: add Mrs. Sarah C. Smith, Spartanburg (Public)

Clemson University Library

(3) Meeting of Handbook Revision Committee: Mrs. Thompson reported that Chapter 3 had been worked on at the February 17th meeting. The next meeting of the Committee has been scheduled for April 20 at which time Chapter 4 will be revised. Mrs. Thompson urged all Section Chairmen to study the Handbook and offer any suggestions for changes. Chapters 1 and 2 were approved at the December meeting of the Executive Committee; Chapter 3 will be read and presented to the Committee for its approval at the next regular meeting in May.

(4) 1969 Convention plans:

Mrs. Scott presented the information which had been received by the Secretary regarding convention dates in Georgia and North Carolina. In Georgia there is no regular meeting date but the convention is usually held in late October or early November. The 1969 GLA Convention has been scheduled for October 29-November 1. North Carolina has no fixed date.

There followed a rather lengthy discussion of the date for the S. C. convention. Some suggestions and recommendations which came out during the course of the discussion include the following:

— Mrs. Thompson suggested the middle of October or November for S. C.'s convention date since the Georgia date coincides with SELA in the off-year.

— Suggestion made that SCLA let the ALA Exhibits Roundtable and Georgia and North Carolina know our convention date as soon as a definite date has been decided upon.

— Proposal that SELA have a clearinghouse for convention dates.

— Chris Hoy is the person at ALA to contact about the date.

— Dates suggested for the 1969 Convention:

Mr. Heames made the motion that the second week in October be set aside for the 1969 Convention and that this same date be considered for convention meetings after 1969. Mrs. Thompson seconded the motion. There was no discussion. The motion passed.

Mrs. Scott suggested that some one be instructed to notify certain organizations (particularly ALA Exhibits Roundtable and SELA) about convention dates. Mrs. Thompson recommended that Mrs. Scott handle this.

A site for the 1969 meeting was also discussed. Several suggestions were made including: Greenville (Jack Tar Poinsett Hotel), Columbia, Myrtle Beach, Rock Hill, and Charleston. The estimate of attendance at the 1969 meeting: 400.

Miss Reid moved that the president and vice-president be given the authority to choose a site for the next convention. Miss Crouch seconded the motion, and it passed. A final item of old business:

(4) The November 30 SCLA Executive Committee meeting was changed to November 23 because of a conflict.

NEW BUSINESS:

A report from the SCLA Planning Committee was made by the President. The Planning Committee had met in March and had come up with the following recommendations:

(1) That SCLA meeting(s) be held with SELA;
(2) That a one-day meeting of the entire Association be held in the off-year; this recommendation was made in the interest of keeping the organization together as a whole;
(3) That school administrators allow school librarians to attend SCLA; and that the School Library Section meeting be scheduled for the convenience of school librarians (possibly a Friday afternoon);
(4) That the Special Library Section work toward increasing its membership.

Matters discussed by the Planning Committee but not recommended include:

(1) Raising dues (if Executive Secretary employed);
(2) Combining dues of SCEA and SCLA for school librarians;
(3) Employing an Executive Secretary.

Recommendations made by the Planning Committee were discussed one by one. Regarding the first recommendation, a suggestion had been made that an SCLA breakfast meeting be held at SELA. Mr. Reames made a motion that we report back to the Planning Committee that the Executive Committee is in sympathy with their desire to hold a meeting for fellowship but think it not wise to plan a meeting with a formal program and speaker. Mr. Nolen seconded the motion, and it passed.

There was another discussion of the one-day meeting of all sections in the off-year. Mr. Reames expressed his opposition. Mrs. Thompson feels that the biennial convention makes Sections stronger. Col. Hillard moved that the Executive Committee report back to the Planning Committee that we recommend that the biennial meeting be given a chance to succeed before considering another annual convention meeting. Mr. Reames seconded the motion, and it passed.

A discussion of the third proposal made by the Planning Committee resulted in a suggestion by the chairman of the School Library Section that school librarians be worked on rather than school administrators. Mrs. Callison feels that more school administrators are allowing school librarians to attend professional meetings of all types.

Regarding the fourth recommendation made by the Planning Committee about the Special Library Section, the suggestion was made that we try to get this Section to relate more to libraries and that we take them into consideration when planning the convention program.

On the question of raising SCLA dues, Mr. Reames presented as information the fact that a drastic change will be considered soon regarding SELA dues. These dues will probably be put on a graduated scale similar to the ALA dues structure. For this reason, Mr. Reames feels that this would be a bad time to consider raising SCLA dues.

This combination of SCEA and SCLA dues for school librarians was dismissed as being not practical.

Another item of new business brought up for discussion was that of increasing the $50 honorarium for convention speakers. Mrs. Scott recommended that this be held for discussion until the next meeting and that everyone bring suggestions.

Col. Hillard next led a discussion on whether life membership dues should go into the checking or savings. Mr. Reames made the motion that life membership dues go into the savings account. Mrs. Thompson seconded the motion, and it passed.

Another matter which was postponed until the next meeting was whether SCLA money should be invested in stocks rather than being left stagnant in a savings account.

Just before the meeting adjourned, Mr. Reames suggested that we consider making plans for the S. C. Tri-Centennial Celebration which is to begin in 1970. He noted that there would be a large amount of money appropriated by the State for this celebration. He feels that SCLA should participate. The Association might consider any project which would advance library service in the state: publication of a definitive history of library development in South Carolina, extension of the S. C. Materials Project started by the State Library Board, etc. There is a cut-off date for application. Miss Reid moved that a committee be appointed to explore the possibility of working with Tri-Centennial Planning Committee. Mr. Nolen seconded the motion, and it passed. Names suggested for a committee were:

(1) Betty Callaham (State Library Board)—Chairman
(2) Mitchell Reames
(3) Margaret Ehrhardt (State Dept. of Education)
(4) Possibly Mr. Nolen or Mrs. Ben P. Davies from the Trustee Section.

CORRESPONDENCE:

Correspondence from the National Association of Broadcasters was accepted as information.

Mrs. Scott announced that the next meeting of the Executive Committee would be at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, May
The meeting was adjourned at approximately 12:45 p.m.
Respectfully submitted,

SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARY ASSOCIATION
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING
May 25, 1968

The Executive Committee of the South Carolina Library Association met on May 25, 1968, at 10:30 a.m., in the Meeting Room of the Richland County Public Library. The members present were Josephine Crouch, Mrs. Sarah S. Harris, Margie E. Herron, Col. James M. Hillard, J. Frank Nolen, J. Mitchell Reames, Mrs. Carol S. Scott, Mrs. Marquerte G. Thompson, and Robert C. Tucker. Also present were Herbert Hucks, Jr., Editor, South Carolina Librarian. Mrs. Helen L. Callison, Patricia Mercer, and Frances B. Reid were absent.

The meeting was called to order by the President.

A motion was made by Mrs. Thompson that the reading of the minutes be dispensed with and that they be approved as printed with the following corrections: (1) page 3, paragraph 1—change motion to read, “Miss Reid moved that the vice-president and the president be given the authority ...” (2) page 3, paragraph 4, last part of Mr. Reames motion—change without to with a formal program ... Mr. Nolen seconded the motion, and it passed.

Executive Committee reports were given as follows: TREASURER’S REPORT: The Treasurer’s Report was approved as submitted. Col. Hillard reported a total membership of 663.

ALA COUNCILOR: Mrs. Thompson reported that there will be a conference this summer which will concern itself with the National Advisory Commission on Libraries. Mrs. Thompson had received no material from ALA regarding this so she was unable to ask for directions from Executive Committee.

Mrs. Thompson has received from ALA a list of Chapter ALA obligations. As she went over the list obligation by obligation, Mrs. Thompson asked that the Executive Committee react to each one. These reactions are to form the basis of a forum discussion at the Kansas City Conference. Some of the comments from the Executive Committee members included the following:

- Dr. Tucker suggested that the ALA professional staff be used to help with statewide or regional development of libraries.
- Mr. Reames “suggested” annual program of work.
- Several emphasized the fact that any directive from ALA should be suggestive.
- Executive Committee seemed to favor annual training program for incoming chapter officers.
- Correspondence from ALA is consistently late; correspondence always being sent to chapter officers of previous term; ALA should keep up-to-date record of names.
- S. C. Publications which should be sent to ALA:
  1. S.C. Librarian
  2. Handbook
  3. Secretary’s Minutes of Executive Committee meetings and SCLA conventions.

- There seemed to be a question of exactly what a division is as used by ALA.

SEL A: Miss Reid was absent, but it was reported that ballots had been received from SELA for purpose of voting for SELA representative.

SECTION CHAIRMEN:

COLLEGE: Dr. Tucker reported that the College Section had held a meeting at Clemson on April 5. 85 had attended one or the other of the two group meetings. The program consisted of two parts: (1) Mr. Willocks of Columbia College was in charge of the group discussion, “Automation of Small College Library.” (2) Mr. Toombs from USC led the discussion of the subject, “New Patterns of Staffing,” emphasizing in particular the question of dividing duties among professionals, “technicians,” and non-professionals.

SCHOOL AND PUBLIC: In the absence of the chairmen of both these sections, no report was given.

TRUSTEE: Mr. Nolen reported that the bill to get the 3% sales tax on books removed was out of the free conference committee and well on the way toward passage. A committee will meet with Miss Betty Callahan and Miss Estellene Walker (SLB) to discuss the advisability of a fall meeting of the Trustees. Mr. Nolen expressed the hope that the activities of this Section can be made more efficient and that it can be more helpful on the local and state level.

SPECIAL: Plans are being made for a fall meeting, Mrs. Harris reported. The meeting will probably take place the first two weeks in October.

The South Carolina Librarian, Editor: Mr. Hucks urged all members of Executive Committee, especially Section Chairmen, to send any news items in to him for the fall issue of The S.C. Librarian.
UNFINISHED BUSINESS:

1. Convention: The date for the next state convention was set for October 9-11, 1969. The president and vice-president have decided that the convention will be held at the Jack Tar Poinsett Hotel in Greenville. SELA, Georgia Library Association, N.C. Library Association, Tennessee Library Association, and the ALA Exhibits Roundtable have been informed of the convention date.

2. Tri-Centennial Committee Report: Mr. Reames, committee member, presented three proposals, which if passed would mean that the Legislature would have to come through with a $100,000 appropriation:

   (1) Continue the S.C. Materials Project begun in 1961 by the S.C. State Library Board. With the exception of county libraries having received the collection previously, a collection would be placed in each county and regional public library able to provide adequate space to house the collection and staff qualified to supervise its use. A comment was made that this proposal would touch every area of the state.

   (2) Prepare and publish a book, "The Rise of Historical South Carolina in the Modern World." This book would have the unique quality of placing its principal emphasis on the past, present, and future with the object of assisting younger students and adults to understand and appreciate the heritage of South Carolina and at the same time to recognize the significant role of S.C. in a rapidly changing world.

   (3) Sponsor and pay for "A History of South Carolina Libraries." The publication would be put out for limited sales at first.

After presenting the three proposals, Mr. Reames added that it is impossible to tell at this time what funds will be available and what the Tri-Centennial Commission will do with the money. Mr. Reames is less than optimistic about the prospects of getting any money, but even if no money is appropriated for either of the proposals he is anxious that the recommendations be impressed on the conscience of the Legislature. Mr. Reames expressed the hope that the Association would hold on to these projects if efforts fail at this time. He would like for the Association to get behind these projects and actively work toward the development of them. The proposals might be presented to the Planning Committee for their consideration.

   The committee will push for all or nothing.

   Mr. Reames emphasized that the purpose of this program is one of enrichment.

   The committee already has two persons in mind to handle the two publications proposals.

Dr. Tucker made a motion that the Executive Committee adopt the Committee's proposed project. After Mr. Nolen seconded the motion, it passed unanimously.

The draft of a letter to be sent to the Tri-Centennial Commission was presented to Mrs. Scott for her signature.

3. Handbook Committee Report: Mrs. Thompson, Chairman, reported that the following recommendations were made at the committee's last meeting:

   (a) Chapter 2 was approved.

   (b) Chapter 3 had been worked on and will be presented at the September meeting of the Executive Committee.

   (c) Chapter 4: Question as to whether an addition might be made to Item 5 so that it would read: "Members of the Association are free to select the section of their choice and to participate in the activities of additional sections as non-voting members." During the course of the discussion which followed, Dr. Tucker thought it might be wise to let members join more than one section. Col. Hillard remarked that if a person wants to join more than one section, a fee should be charged. Miss Crouch asked why, if members are free to go to all sections, is the addition needed?

   Mrs. Thompson made the motion that the Executive Committee accept the addition to Item 5, Chapter 4. Miss Crouch seconded the motion and it passed.

   (d) Chapter 5: p. 20, #2—Honorary memberships: Mrs. Thompson made the motion that this statement be deleted (since this same statement is repeated on p. 27, Article III, Section 3). Mr. Nolen seconded the motion and it passed. Page 20, #3—Life memberships: This statement is a duplicate of Article VI, Section 4 (p. 31) of the By-Laws. Mr. Nolen moved that Item 3 on p. 20 be deleted. Mrs. Scott seconded the motion and it passed.

At this time Col. Hillard made a motion that funds from life membership dues be placed in a trust fund, the income to be used for current expenses only, and requesting that the Constitution and By-Laws Committee make this change in Article VI, Section 4. Miss Crouch seconded the motion and it passed. Page 18, Chapter 5: Trustee Award: After a discussion of various points brought out by the Secretary's research of this award, Col. Hillard moved that Chapter 5 be deleted in its entirety. Mr. Nolen seconded the motion and it passed. A rather lengthy discussion followed as to whether this was wise.
Mr. Hucks thought a simple statement about the award was perhaps needed.

Mr. Reames moved that the Constitution and By-Laws Committee be requested to consider an addition to the By-Laws to make a general provision for the Association to make awards of recognition to noteworthy individuals. Miss Crouch seconded this motion and it passed.

4. Honorary for Convention Speakers:

The Dues Committee appointed by Mrs. Scott include: Miss Crouch, Chairman; Mr. Reames, and Col. Hillard.

Dues Committee has been asked to investigate how much dues should be, reasons for dues, and how they should be spent (this will include consideration of honorariums).

5. Investment of SCLA funds in stocks:

Col. Hillard presented a report which he had prepared regarding this matter. Col. Hillard asked if there was any way the Association could legally use the money currently in the savings account. Col. Hillard presented his report for information and further action. His report will be voted on at the September meeting of the Executive Committee.

The President at this point gave the Treasurer authority to find out from the director of the USC Press the present status of the Publications Project—how much money has been received by the Press from the sale of Dr. Moore's book?

New Business: None

Mrs. Scott announced that the next meeting of the Executive Committee would be at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, September 28, in the Meeting Room of the Richland County Public Library.

The meeting was adjourned at approximately 12:40 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Margie E. Herron
S. C. L. A. Secretary

WIDE-SPREAD CIRCULATION OF REPORT ON TELECOPIER EXPERIMENT

A final report on the three-month experimental demonstration with the Xerox Magnavox Telecopier was made early in September. Entitled Telefacsimile Communication with Xerox Magnavox Telecopier in Reference and Interlibrary Loans, the report was prepared by Charles H. Busha, Reference Consultant, and John H. Landrum, Reference Librarian.

As a result of articles in the September News for Public Libraries and the October 15 Library Journal requests the copies of the report have far exceeded the supply. The Xerox Corporation published a second printing of the report for the State Library Board but the additional copies were quickly exhausted.

Copies of the report have been forwarded to public libraries, state library agencies, college and university libraries and special libraries in practically every state, Canada, England, Scotland, Holland and Germany.

Since the experiment was one of the major facsimile programs of the year it will be reported at the Midwinter meeting of the ALA (RLMS) telefacsimile Committee. The Chairman has invited SLB Director, Estellene P. Walker to meet with the committee. (S. C. State Library Board's News for Public Libraries, January, 1968)

LIBRARIES' ROLES IN THE ARTS IN SOUTH CAROLINA

by S. Battle

As a source of knowledge and challenge, in the arts alone, the library in South Carolina might well be described in the larger French meaning of the word “source”: a spring.

For South Carolinians who thirst for the vital refreshing of their lives by the arts, our state’s libraries have constantly served as a wellspring.

A recently published survey report on THE ARTS IN SOUTH CAROLINA suggests that our libraries are sometimes “springs” in what could otherwise have been culturally arid lands.

“In the smaller towns and communities of the state having no local arts galleries, little theater groups, or any of the other visible arts forms,” the report asserts, “the libraries have become the cultural centers of the communities.”

The survey report continues by quoting Miss Estellene P. Walker, director of the State Library Board, about South Carolina libraries’ long-standing interest in fostering art appreciation.

This was brought into focus even as the year-long statewide arts survey commenced, in September 1966. One month later, nearly 300 South Carolinians attended the first "Lasting Books, 1944-1964," a reading list, is now available in leaflet form from the American Library Association. Copies may be ordered from the ALA Publishing Department, 50 East Huron St., Chicago, Illinois, 60611, at these rates: 50 copies, $4.00; 100 copies, $7.00; 250 copies, $15.00; 500 copies, $25.00.

Governor’s Conference on the Arts, in Columbia. At this conference, “the view was expressed that books dealing with the arts should be catalogued and made available throughout the state. Included in this catalog should be the resources of major statewide libraries, as well as those of the State Library Board.”

Not only in the visual arts, but also in concert series, even children’s puppet shows and ballet workshops, the library in South Carolina is “much more than a place to borrow books,” as the report attests.

THE ARTS IN SOUTH CAROLINA may be obtained by writing or phoning the South Carolina Arts Commission, David C. Sennema, Executive Director, Columbia.

REPRINT COMPANY PUBLICATIONS

(Editor’s Note: this announcement is printed because of interest to South Carolina libraries and their readers.)

The Reprint Company (154 W. Cleveland Pk. Dr., Spartanburg, S. C., 29303) has recently completed and released on the market four volumes of interest to South Carolinians. They include:

Ravenel’s “Eliza Pickney,” one of the six-volume Charles Scribner & Sons’ set of the late 1890’s on Women of Colonial and Revolutionary Times. In addition to the original, a copy of the privately printed (only 19 volumes) of the Letters and Journal of Eliza Lucas (30 pages) has been obtained and added as part of the reprint. The price: $12.50.

Draper’s “King’s Mountain and Its Heroes,” reprint previously, but out-of-print until this printing, $12.50.

Banastre Tarleton’s “Own Account of His Campaigning in the Southern Provinces of North America,” $15. This was written and originally printed in England just after the Revolution. It is reported to be very rare.

The latter two volumes cover the same general campaign through the Carolinas, into Virginia and the Yorktown surrender, but from the American and British points of view.

The Reprint Company now has available a total of 12 volumes on South Carolina. They include: Landrum’s Colonial and Revolutionary and Spartanburg County, David Ramsay’s two-volume “History of South Carolina,” Logan’s History of Upper Country of South Carolina; Alexander Hewatt’s Account of the Progress of the Colonies of South Carolina and Georgia; two volumes; Gregg’s Old Cherokees; and the Heads of Families, First, 1790, South Carolina Census.

(Note—The Reprint Co. gives Libraries a 20% discount, but this is restricted to where payment is made within 30 days.)

BOOK REVIEW

by Martha E. Wharton
Reference Librarian, Wofford College

This is a revised edition of its predecessors, An Introduction To Public Librarianship, 1950, and An Introduction To Librarianship, 1963. It is a textbook for the neophyte in public Librarianship and designed for British governmental structure in library operations and procedure peculiar to the United Kingdom, but the teacher of Library Science should have it, if only for the sections on classification and cataloging. All librarians should read it to keep informed on professional developments in Britain and to see how a textbook ought to be written.

This textbook covers the waterfront with its four sections which include library organization and administration, classification, cataloging and introduction to reference books. British in emphasis, the book is intended primarily for British Librarians preparing for examinations.

TRUSTEE WORKSHOP PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Conference leaders for the November workshop of the SCLA Trustee Section have been announced. The director of the workshop is to be Dr. Lawrence A. Allen, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Library Science, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky. Joseph W. Lippincott, Jr., president of the J. B. Lippincott Company of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and a trustee of the Lundington Public Library of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, will be the trustee consultant. The Honorable John C. West, Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina, and Wooden Brooks, Governor’s Coordinator for Local Government, will also be participants in the workshop.

The program will focus upon the role of the public library today, the role and responsibilities of library trustees, and the place of the trustee in South Carolina local government and the political process. Frank P. Nolen of Florence, Chairman of the Trustee Section, will preside over the one-day meeting to be held on November 13 at the Wade Hampton Hotel.

THANK YOU, MRS. CHENEY

In the January 1968 issue of the Wilson Library Bulletin, Frances Neel Cheney reviewed Research Materials in South Carolina in her regular monthly Current Reference Books. The review included these statements:

"Research Materials in South Carolina is an impressive guide to the resources of South Carolina's public and private libraries, historical societies, and museums... 'It was compiled for the South Carolina State Library Board, according to its director, Estellene P. Walker, as 'another step in the State Library Board's program to improve reference service at both state and local levels and to realize a coordinated network of library service throughout the state.' The guide has added value as an example to other states planning to publish a similar volume, if they are fortunate enough to have an editor like Dr. Moore, whose diligence and scholarship are acknowledged by Miss Walker.'"

"GUIDE" PRAISED IN LIBRARY QUARTERLY

The April 1968 issue of The Library Quarterly carries a review by Dr. A. W. Kuhlman of Research Materials in South Carolina: A Guide. After an in depth review of the Guide, Dr. Kuhlman concludes: "... here we have a new landmark in bibliographical control over a wealth of private resource material. It should greatly reduce time-wasting searching by reference librarians, students, and scholars; facilitate interlibrary loans; and substantially increase productive research."

Dr. Kuhlman is Director Emeritus of the Joint University Libraries, Nashville.

The Guide was compiled and edited by Dr. John Hammond Moore under the sponsorship of the State Library Board with the cooperation of the South Carolina Library Association.

"We are all involved in mankind and simply cannot take the kind of Olympian view of our country, our culture, our tradition, that habitually refers to 'they' and never to 'we'."

Copies of the "Tentative Recommended Practice for Protection of Library Collections from Fire (NFPA No. 910-T)" (36 pages, $1.00) are available from the National Fire Protection Association, 60 Batterymarch Street, Boston, Mass. 02110.
CONSTRUCTION FUNDS IN JEOPARDY

After nearly two months of bargaining over the Tax Adjustment Act of 1968 (HR 15414), House and Senate Conferences agreed on a 10% surtax and a $6 billion reduction in Federal spending. The compromise bill will be renamed the Revenue and Expenditure Control Act of 1968. In view of the Administration's policy of giving priority to people rather than things it is expected that in the Library Services Construction Act Program Title II, Construction, will bear the brunt of the cut. The 1968 allotment for construction for South Carolina was reduced by $117,910 and further reduction in the 1969 budget for library programs is probable.

LIBRARY-WISE AND LIBRARY WAYS

August 8, 1968, the contract was awarded for the renovation of the old Post Office in ABBEVILLE to serve as county headquarters for the Abbeville-Greenwood Library. An LSCA grant of $38,823 from the S. C. State Library Board will supplement local funds.

Sally Urban, Extension Librarian, ABBEVILLE-GREENWOOD Regional Library, has prepared a Handbook for the guidance of Branch Librarians in the system.

Hoyt R. Galvin, Librarian of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg County Library, has been retained by the ANDERSON COUNTY LIBRARY Board as Consultant for the new county library building. The site of the former Girls High School was purchased for $100,000.00.

The Friends of the BARNWELL COUNTY LIBRARY (ABBIE) sponsored a hobby exhibit at the library May 14-17, 1968. In connection with the exhibit, on May 15 Orval Jones of Blackville gave a demonstration of the restoration of old furniture.

The BERKELEY COUNTY LIBRARY has qualified for a $75,000.00 LSCA grant since its headquarters serves a population of 38,196. Local funds total $100,000.00. The new building will be constructed on the site of the present building.

The LAURENS COUNTY LIBRARY has received $625.00 as memorials to Mrs. Janie Bland Roper and to Dr. G. W. Cunningham, long-time Library Trustee. Books of lasting value will be purchased with this fund.

Congratulations to the CHARLESTON AIR FORCE BASE LIBRARY for winning Honorable Mention in the 23rd Annual John Cotton Dana Publicity Awards Contest, sponsored jointly by the Wilson Library Bulletin and the Public Relations Section of the ALA's Library Administration Division. Its scrapbook won for its "consistently exploited theme: 'You Are Invited,' intended to attract a variety of non-users into the base library.

From the 219th Annual Report of the CHARLESTON LIBRARY SOCIETY, January 23, 1968, Virginia Rugheimer, Librarian; 1,414 members; 30,251 circulation; 75,296 estimated volumes in collection; President John E. Gibbs concludes his report with "let me remind you that if the Charleston Library Society is to achieve an elevator and 'a children's room complete with librarian,' the funds will have to come through gifts and bequests of members and friends." Miss Rugheimer stated: "In 1748 a group of men, fearful of the future, and hoping, as they say, 'to save their descendants from sinking into savagery,' founded the Charles Town Library Society, the third proprietary library in the United States. With the changing of the name of the city, the library became the Charleston Library Society, but the safe (in which we do not keep our money) still carries the painted label Charles Town. The library, now with 1,400 members, is still going strong." "The Society is well-known nationally for its extensive collection of early newspapers. Research workers come from all over the United States and occasionally from various parts of the British Commonwealth to consult its files."

The CHESTER COUNTY LIBRARY Board entertained with a farewell drop-in in honor of Mrs. James M. Bradford. Mrs. Courtland Leigh, Chairman of the Board, presented a silver tray from the Board to Mrs. Bradford, who resigned as Chester Bookmobile Librarian to accept a similar position with the York County Library.

January 29, 1968 the newly appointed CHESTERFIELD COUNTY LIBRARY Board held its organizational meeting and elected these officers: Chairman: Mr. Edward M.
Sweatt, of Cheraw; Vice-Chairman: Mr. John Russell McLain, of Chesterfield; Secretary: Mrs. Robert Raley, of Jefferson; and Treasurer: Mr. Larry Foster, of Chesterfield.

Library Board members for CLARENDON COUNTY held their first meeting April 12, 1968. Members are Mrs. Charlie Smith, Turbeville; Mrs. Walter Dow, Alcolu; Mrs. E. A. Failmezger and Miss Eleanor Carson, Summetron; and Mrs. Arthur Hinson, Mrs. James Hugh McFadden, and Mr. Kendrick Johnson, Manning. Estellene P. Walker and Betty Callahan represented the S. C. State Library Board at the meeting, the purpose of which was to explore ways by which public library service could best be developed for CLARENDON COUNTY. July 23, 1968, the CLARENDON COUNTY LIBRARY Board approved contracts with the Sumter County Library and the S. C. State Library Board, which will make possible the beginning of public library service in the county. The Sumter County Library will provide bookmobile service to the communities of MANNING, SUMMERSTON, TURBEVILLE, ALCOLU, and PAXVILLE. Service began August 9. Mrs. Walter Dow, Chairman of the county Library Board since its appointment, led the local efforts. In August she moved to Southern Pines, N. C., and was succeeded by Kendrick Johnson, editor of the Manning Times.

The public libraries of Darlington County (DARLINGTON PUBLIC LIBRARY and the DARLINGTON CIRCULATING LIBRARY) will form the nucleus of a unified county library system, and HARTSVILLE TOWNSHIP LIBRARY may join later. Mrs. Marcia Perkins, of Stamps, Ark., is Librarian.

The Children’s Room of the FLORENCE COUNTY LIBRARY is a continuing project of the Florence Sertoma Club, whose latest contribution was a film strip projector.

Thomas R. Lawrence, Jr., Reference Librarian, has prepared a Library Handbook, a guide to the effective use of the Resources of the GREENVILLE COUNTY LIBRARY. February 20, 1968, the library inaugurated a program of music listening hours, co-sponsored by a committee of local musicians and music lovers which assisted in the planning. The library has adopted a multi-form overdue notice which serves as 1st, 2nd, and 3rd notices. Envelopes with windows are used to mail library cards to new borrowers to confirm the address. A notation on the envelope requests that it be returned to sender if address is incorrect. Alvin Tofler, author, social critic and library expert, was presented February 27, 1968, and spoke on Libraries of the Future. Representatives of 18 women’s clubs were guests of the Greenville Friends of the Library at a luncheon at the Greenville Country Club, January 30. The clubs represented hold 100% membership in the “Friends.” Arthur Magill, president, and Dr. George Mackey Grimball, executive vice-president of the Friends, and Charles Stow, Librarian, spoke on the status of the new county library building and the library needs of the county. Five representatives of the library attended the Institute on Public Library Service to the Disadvantaged, sponsored by Emory University in December, 1967. As a result, the GREENVILLE COUNTY LIBRARY is organizing a collection of pamphlets and other material prepared by organizations concerned with the disadvantaged. The material will be publicized by the library and distributed through the main library and bookmobiles. The library received an award of merit for outstanding participation in National Music Week 1967 from the National Federation of Music Clubs. The Zonta Club of Greenville has placed a collection of books on retarded children in the library. Dorothy Hearne, Young People’s Librarian, prepared an exhibit on Nutrition Needs, which coincided with the meeting of the S. C. Dietetic Association in Greenville March 4-9. March 20, the Greenville Friends of the Library presented a lecture by A. E. Hotchner, author of “Papa Hemingway, A Personal Memoir” and “The Dangerous American.” Mr. Hotchner’s topic was “The Two Hemingways—Man and Writer.” The staff and trustees of the GREENVILLE COUNTY LIBRARY are making a self-study of the library facilities and practices in order to improve and extend their services when they move into the anticipated new library building in 1970. The Frederick W. Symmes Foundation has made a $500,000.00 grant, the largest private grant to a Greenville institution, to the GREENVILLE COUNTY LIBRARY. This gift makes possible the construction of the new library building as originally planned. A previous gift of $100,000.00 from the Foundation was used for the purchase and preliminary development of a site for the building. Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new library were held, despite the rain, July 30, 1968, in the Charles Daniel Little Theatre, where the symbolic groundbreaking with the ribbon covered shovel took place on the stage!—taking part were H. Caldwell Harper, Chairman of the Greenville County Library; State Senators Richard W. Riley and Thomas A. Wofford; Mrs. Glen A. Wilkinson, a niece of the late Frederick W. Symmes and a Trustee of the Symmes Foundation which has given $600,000.00 to the fund; R. E. Hughes, State Chairman of the South Carolina Appalachian Advisory Commission which made a grant of $250,000.00 toward the construction; Arthur Magill, president of the Greenville Friends of the Library; and Mayor David G. Traxler. Charles E. Stow, Librarian, and Romayne A. Barnes, Chairman of the Building Committee, were in charge of groundbreaking ceremonies.

Thanks to Miss Elizabeth Long Porcher, Librarian, GREENWOOD CITY AND COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY, and Director, ABBEVILLE-GREENWOOD Regional Library System, for First and Second Annual Reports of the System (1967 and 1968), and Annual Report (1967-1968) of the City and County Public Library. They reveal constant, hard work by all concerned! Monsanto Company of Greenwood has donated carpet squares to the GREENWOOD LIBRARY for story hour seating.
CITATION FOR GREENWOOD LIBRARY

"Who's Who in America" has awarded one of its Citations for Library Philanthropy in recognition of gifts to the Greenwood City and County Library under the will of the late Mrs. George W. Rush.

Mrs. Rush served as the library's first children's librarian, 1928-1940, and left a fund in her will for educational or charitable purposes to be decided by her attorney, Douglas Featherstone. Mr. Featherstone chose library landscaping in the form of a wall, a walkway and an azalea garden as a memorial to Mrs. Rush.

Mrs. L. K. Hartzog, Mrs. Rush's niece, received the citation and returned it to the library for display.

This is the second citation for a gift to the library. The 1960-61 edition of "Who's Who in America" cited the Index Journal for the gift of a micro-film reader and film of the newspaper files in memory of H. L. Watson, longtime editor of the newspaper.

HORRY LIBRARY ON TOUR

For several years the City of Conway has acted as host to groups of senior naval officers (mostly from NATO countries) who are in Charleston for special work at the Naval Mine Warfare School. During their visit they are guests in private homes for a long week-end. The Chamber of Commerce sponsors this event and schedules tours of various places in the county which might be of interest to visitors from abroad. For the last two years the Horry County Memorial Library has been included on the itinerary. The guide brings them into the library and Mrs. Catherine H. Lewis, the librarian, gives a short talk on the role that the public library plays in American life. They are usually interested in the fact that this is a tax-supported service free to all who need it. Next they are interested in the book collection. They are shown the new book shelves and told that these provide a fair sample to the books in the collection. The guide has found that the library is the one place where they want to linger and he has had to eliminate the next one or two stops because of this interest.

In May the U. S. Navy gave the City of Conway a special commendation for this work in furthering international good will. Admiral J. S. Dawsey, who made the presentation, said it was the first time on record that the Navy had made such a gesture. Mrs. Lewis received a special invitation to the luncheon as a representative of one of the cooperating agencies.

The JOHN DART Branch of the Charleston County Library on upper King Street replaces the Dart Hall Branch, which was a victim of age and highway expansion. Accepted by the county August 15, 1968, the building will be open to the public when all equipment is delivered. The 6,500 square foot building cost $171,800.00, of which $50,000.00 was an LSCA grant through the S. C. State Library Board.

As part of its observance of National Library Week the JOHN HUGHES COOPER Branch of the Richland County Library honored two South Carolina authors at an autograph party on April 25, 1968. Patricia Robinson and Nancy Stevenson, of Charleston, are the joint authors of "Return to Octavia," a Low-Country mystery novel.

Mrs. Clyde B. Rowntree, Trustee from her district on the Florence County Library Board, is Chairman of a drive to raise funds to equip and furnish a building to house the JOHNSTONVILLE Branch of the county library. John G. Wellman, Vice-President of Wellman Industries, donated a building which will be moved to a site purchased with funds raised by local donation. Peter Knoller, Assistant Comptroller, Wellman Industries and Chairman of the local Library Board, arranged for the purchase of the site and raised most of the money for this purpose. Mrs. Rowntree's goal is $2,000.00, half of which was obtained in less than two months.

The New Era Book Club presented a check for $200.00 to the LANCASTER COUNTY LIBRARY, to be used to purchase a projector and filmstrips.

The LEE COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY honored their Senior Citizens patrons with a drop-in May 15, 1968, at the library. After refreshments, pamphlets with information from the S. C. Interagency Council on Aging were distributed.

Warming a baby's bottle has been added to the services provided by the LAURENS COUNTY LIBRARY! Due to an automobile breakdown a family was stranded in Laurens for several hours and repaired to the library. A letter of gratitude included the following: "We were able to warm the baby's bottle, relax in your cool building, and enjoy our idle hours with your books. Thank you ever so much."

July 22, 1968, the MCCORMICK COUNTY LIBRARY was opened for service. Marian Sturkey is Librarian. The library is in the McCormick County Building.

Dr. Carl E. Compton, Chairman of the CHAPIN MEMORIAL LIBRARY Commission, has received the consent of the MYRTLE BEACH City Council for a cam-campaign to raise $12,000.00 to help pay for an addition to the library. He also asked the city for $12,000.00, in addition to the $5,000.00 already budgeted for the addition. The Chapin Foundation contributed $5,000.00, another source $2,500.00, and the County $10,000.00, making a total of $22,500.00. The low bid for the renovation was $41,752.00.

Work was scheduled to begin on the renovation of the old Post Office in Newberry March 4, 1968. It will house the headquarters of the NEWBERRY-SALUDA Regional Library. It received a $50,000.00 LSCA grant through the S. C. State Library Board.

The PAMLICO Branch of the Florence County Library held its grand opening January 28, 1968. Representative Thomas E. Smith, Jr., was Master of Ceremonies. J. William Guinn, Managing Director, WBTW, was the speaker for the occasion, and Senator W. Clyde Graham also spoke. Mrs. C. D. Munn, Jr., is Branch Librarian, and Mrs. John L. Seale is Chairman of the local board.

The PICKENS COUNTY LIBRARY is beginning a program of book delivery to shut-ins in the Easley area on an experimental basis. It will be expanded to the entire county if there is enough interest and if staff time is available. Requests are made by mail or phone, and delivery and pick-up by a staff member. The contract for the renovation of an addition to the PICKENS COUNTY LIBRARY was signed July 31, 1968. During construction the library will operate from the classrooms of the First United Methodist Church, across the street. Volunteers, Neighborhood Youth Corps workers and prison labor assisted in the move. The project will cost $156,200.00, of which $30,000.00 was a grant from the Appalachian Commission, and $75,000.00 from LSCA construction funds.

Isadora Williams, a native of Easley, who retired after 23 years as craft and home marketing specialist with the Tennessee Extension service, and a key figure in the growth of the Southern Highland Hand Craft Guild, before an overflow audience of 157, discussed the cultural, recreational, and economic features of crafts work at a meeting in Easley, sponsored by the PICKENS COUNTY LIBRARY, the Pendleton District Historical and Recreational Commission and the Carolina National Bank of Easley. Mary Aiken, Pickens County Librarian, introduced the speaker and noted that the library is concerned with the development of people's capabilities and interests. An arts and crafts program is scheduled to begin this fall. The Friends of the PICKENS LIBRARY Branch of the Pickens County Library have received a contribution of $10,000.00 from Paul Vernon Cox, a Pickens native now living in Maryland. Mr. Cox made the contribution to enable the Friends to purchase the Cox family property for the site of a new building. Mrs. A. J. Reinovsky, President, reports that the Friends will launch a campaign to raise funds for the building. A Fashion Show was held by the evening division of the Woman's Club of Pickens and netted $300.00 toward the building fund for a new building for the PICKENS Branch of the Pickens County Library.

February 26, 1968, the Richland County Public Library opened its ST. ANDREWS Branch. It is located on a lot donated by the Federal Standard Building and Loan Association, its cost was $90,000.00, of which $50,000.00 was an LSCA grant through the S. C. State Library Board. James H. Ellison, Chairman of the Board of the Richland County Public Library, presided at the Dedicatory Exercises for ST. ANDREWS April 24, 1968.

Funds collected by the Friends of the Library made possible the purchase of a Portrait Globe by the SARLIN LIBRARY, Liberty, a branch of the Pickens County Library. Mrs. D. H. Brown, Librarian, announced that several memorial books have been presented to the library.

The SENeca Branch of the Oconee County Library was opened to the public late in July. Construction costs were $99,500.00, of which $50,000.00 was an LSCA grant and $13,860.00, through the Appalachian Commission. It is located at the site of the future civic center. Local citizens contributed $10,000.00 to the City Council for the construction of a memorial fountain at the site.

The newly renovated SIMPSONVILLE Branch of the Greenville County Library was officially opened May 5, 1968. The $17,000.00 project was a community effort involving civic clubs and the town council. The SIMPSONVILLE Garden Club donated shrubbery and planned the landscaping for the library.

GENEALOGICAL COLLECTION OF THE S. C. STATE LIBRARY BOARD

In January, 1963, the State Library Board began its cooperative project for developing a genealogical collection of books and other materials of regional and national scope to supplement the extensive holdings of the South Caroliniana Library for research in family history. From its inception, through April 18, 1968, the State Library Board has purchased for the Genealogical Collection approximately 641 volumes, comprising 282 titles, at a cost of $7,204.10 (including binding). Although owned by the Board, the Collection is housed and serviced in the South Caroliniana Library in open stacks and restricted to use in the building. Selections for the Collection are initiated by the South Caroliniana Librarian for purchase by the Board, which assumes responsibility for ordering, cataloging and labeling of all volumes, and supplying one set of cards for inclusion of the South Caroliniana Library's catalogs.

The South Caroliniana Library continues to strengthen its own holdings of materials relating to South Carolina persons, families and history, but relies on the State Library Board for securing for its patrons numerous useful works which treat family history in other states and national areas,

Report from E. L. Inabinett, Librarian

South Caroliniana Library, University of South Carolina

The SPARTANBURG COUNTY LIBRARY, for the second time, has received a 60-yard roll of London Fog material from Reeves Brothers, to be used for making bags for borrowers to carry framed pictures from the library's lending collection. St. Paul's Catholic Women's Club presented the library the new edition of the Catholic Encyclopedia.

The SUMTER COUNTY LIBRARY, the first to qualify for an LSCA grant, was the first to complete its building, was opened to the public on Valentine's Day, 1968. As headquarters for a county library system serving a population of approximately 75,000, SUMTER qualified for an LSCA construction grant of $100,000.00 from the S. C. State Library Board. It was dedicated May 7, 1968. (See account below). From the Sumter County Welfare League the library has received $500.00, to be applied to the purchase of slides in paintings, sculpture and architecture to be used in presenting illustrated lectures on art appreciation in the library. Mrs. Everette Brown and Mrs. Anna D. Reuben, on behalf of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, presented the library the five-volume International Library of Negro Life and History.

SUMTER BUILDING DEDICATED

Ramon Schwartz, Jr., Chairman of the Sumter County Library Board of Trustees delivered the main address at the dedication, May 7, 1968, of the recently completed Sumter County Library building.

Harry E. Wilkinson, Jr., President of the National Bank of South Carolina and the Downtown Sumter Improvement Association was master of ceremonies. Mr. Wilkinson introduced Chapman J. Milling III, Librarian, Sumter County Library who introduced the distinguished guests, the board of trustees and the library staff and spoke on the significance of the library. Mr. Milling introduced Estellene P. Walker, Director of the State Library Board, who also represented Governor Robert E. McNair. She spoke briefly on the progress of the library and complimented Sumter County on its new library building. Mr. Wilkinson then presented Dr. Odell R. Reuben, Morris College and Dr. Sam M. Willis, Director, Clemson University at Sumter, who outlined the importance of increased and improved public library services to their students.

After the prayer of dedication, guests were invited to tour the library.

The All District Band from Sumter School District II, F. D. Gravill, Director, presented selections prior to and after the exercises.

Sumter's was the first library building partially constructed with LSCA funds to be completed. The total construction cost was $317,679. Of this $100,000.00 was a LSCA construction grant.

(Editor's Note: We were there!—It was a fine day!)
The 9 by 10-foot TIGERVILLE Branch of the Greenville County Library was the subject of a feature article in the Greenville News. Erected in 1925, when roads made travel difficult, the branch attained fame in Ripley’s Believe-it-or-Not as the smallest library under one roof in the United States.

WILLIAMSBURG COUNTY LIBRARY has entered into a co-operative program with the S. C. State Library Board and the Florence County Library. Bookmobile service to GREELEYVILLE and HEMINGWAY began in March, 1968. The former KINGSTREE CARNEGIE LIBRARY is headquarters for the new county system.

The YORK Branch of the York County Library was dedicated and opened for inspection by the public March 3, 1968. It began operation March 4, 1968. The building was constructed with local funds, and a $50,000 LSCA grant.

TEC LIBRARIES

The ten Technical Educational Centers now in operation in the state are placing emphasis on the importance of adequate collections of technical and vocational books in their libraries. The libraries are being staffed by professional personnel when available.

While the basic book collection of each center will continue to be curriculum related, the libraries will eventually contain balanced collections.

Centers are located near Charleston, Conway, Florence-Darlington, Sumter, Columbia, Greenwood, Clemson, Greenville, Spartanburg and Rock Hill with one under construction near Orangeburg and one planned in the vicinity of Cheraw.

Dr. Jack S. Mullins is the consultant on libraries for the State Committee for Technical Education. Dr. Mullins, a native of Cherokee County, graduated from Furman University and from the University of South Carolina with an M.A. and Ph.D. in history. After teaching history at Houston (Texas) Baptist College and Camden High School he joined the staff of the South Carolina Archives Commission as research assistant, a position he held until appointed to the Technical Education staff.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA HEAD CATALOGER HONORED

by ALFRED RAWLINSON, Curator, USC

Jessie G. Ham, for thirty years a staff member of the University of South Carolina Libraries, was honored Friday evening, October 11, 1968 at a surprise presentation party at the Garden Springs home of Mr. Kenneth E. Toombs, Director of Libraries at the University. Mr. and Mrs. Toombs were hosts to a large group of Miss Ham’s colleagues from the University Library staff, Faculty library committee, and Administration. Mrs. George Curry pinned a double orchid corsage on the honor guest and Dr. George Curry, Associate Vice-President, made the presentation to Miss Ham of a silver tray on which is engraved, “Jessie G. Ham, in honor of thirty years service, University of South Carolina Libraries, 1938-1968.”

Jessie Gilchrist Ham is a native of Mullins, S. C. After graduating at Randolph-Macon Woman’s College of Virginia, she completed her graduate degree in library science at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tennesse. Prior to joining the staff of the University Library in 1938 as assistant cataloger, she served as teacher-librarian at Williston-Elko High School and as Supervisor of the S. C. Library Cataloging Project. After serving for ten years as assistant cataloger at the University Library, she became Head of the Catalog Department in 1948, in which position she has served for the past twenty years.

She has been on various committees of the American Library Association and the Southeastern Library Association. For the South Carolina Library Association she has served as Secretary and also President. Recognition of her professional competence is evidenced in her listing in WHO’S WHO IN LIBRARY SERVICE, WHO’S WHO OF AMERICAN WOMEN, and WHO’S WHO IN THE SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST.

Those who have been privileged to work with her over the years know her as a dedicated, competent, and efficient librarian and a warm and kind friend. This happy occasion was but a tangible expression in a small way of the respect and admiration her many friends have for her.

“There is no progress anywhere where the differences of people are stifled, their voices are not able to be heard, and where they all speak as one voice.”

—Associate U. S. Court Justice
