On April 14, 1969, Miss Gladys M. Smith died in the Columbia Hospital, bringing to a close a dedicated and courageous life. Although she had been in ill health for a number of years, her interest in life and in the world of books never faltered.

Born in Blacksburg, S. C., on September 5, 1897, Miss Smith was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith. They moved to Batesburg early in her life and, although she lived in several communities, it was Batesburg that she called "home" and for which she felt a special warmth. She was buried in the cemetery there on April 16. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Vowell of Columbia, and Mrs. Henry Herrman of Decatur, Georgia, and by three brothers, H. D. and Paul Smith of Rutherfordton, N. C., and Edward F. Smith of Columbia, Tennessee. Survivors also include several nieces and nephews. All who knew Miss Smith well were aware of the devotion and pride she felt for her family.

Miss Smith was graduated from Winthrop College in 1918. After several years of teaching, she moved into the field of library work. She received her B. S. and M. A. degrees in Library Science from the University of Illinois and later took additional work at the University of Virginia and Columbia University. She was a Reference librarian in the Charlotte, N. C., Public Library in 1929/30 and a Periodicals librarian in the library of the University of North Carolina in 1930/31.

Miss Smith returned to her alma mater, Winthrop College, as an assistant librarian in 1931 and became head librarian in 1949. In those years from 1931 until her retirement in 1963, her goal was two-fold. She worked unfalteringly to build on the efforts of her predecessors to give to Winthrop an excellent academic college library. Her other aim, one which she never tired of, was to instill in the Winthrop students an interest in reading and in developing their own personal libraries. She was also eager to encourage promising students to enter the library profession.

Miss Smith had very high standards of librarianship for herself, her staff and for the library profession. She believed in efficient, dedicated service, and she also be-

EDITORIAL

We hope that this issue will be in SCLA members’ hands before Thursday, October 9, 1969—the day the Forty-Sixth Convention (Second Biennial) convenes in the Jack Tarr Poinsett Hotel in Greenville. That is why the deadline for this issue was August 15, instead of the usual September 1. Thanks again to all who sent in material—others: go thou and do likewise by February 1, 1970, deadline for March, 1969 issue.

Sympathy is extended to the families of Miss Gladys M. Smith, who died April 14, 1969, and Miss Shirley Hawkins, who died June 3, 1969. Miss Smith gave thirty-two years of her life to Winthrop College and was and is loved and respected by thousands who knew her. Miss Hawkins was just beginning her library work, which was cut short after only four years, after initial work as a “Special Librarian.” Both will be missed, and long remembered.

We thank Mrs. Carol S. Scott, SCLA President 1968-1969; Vice-President J. Mitchell Reames (Program Chairman and President-Elect); Section Chairmen; Speakers; Local Arrangements Chairman, Miss Edith Sayer, and members of her Committee; and all others who worked long and hard to make the Forty-Sixth Convention interesting and helpful.

Special thanks are given to J. Mitchell Reames and Mrs. Lynn S. Barron for their RECENT SOUTH CAROLINIANA; and Treasurer James M. Hillard and his Secretary, Mrs. Jennifer Y. Risher, for the Membership List—we know both tasks are arduous!

Good luck to the Piedmont Special Libraries Group, Meta B. Jones, President. All of you join SCLA and the Special Library Section will really boom!

As evidenced by the many references to The S. C. State Library (Board’s) NEWS for South Carolina Libraries, without which we’d be hard put for many items, we thank again Miss Estellene P. Walker, Director, and Miss Nancy C. Blair, Editor, for so much information we think those not in Public Library work will appreciate, and for so many “fillers.”

Again we say “Thank you” to our publisher, JOSEPH RUIZICKA, Inc., and to the printer, Fisher-Harrison Printing Company, Greensboro, N. C. And a special thanks to Mr. J. D. Woodell of Simpson-Woodell (before their merger with Fisher-Harrison) who helped us for so many years. We hope your health improves, Mr. Woodell; and thank Mr. Tom White, your successor for his help with this and future issues.

July 29, 1969, we received our copy of the SCLA HANDBOOK, Second Edition. All of us thank Mrs. Marguerie G. Thompson, Chairman, Mrs. Carol S. Scott, and J. Mitchell Reames for their efforts and countless hours of work put into this revised edition. Every member should read it now!

GLADYS SMITH, 1897-1969

believed that librarians should be well-read and keep up to date with their reading. She herself was an avid reader. Her interests were many and varied. She once said of her own personal library, “I buy books on a variety of subjects and ones that will stimulate me to read others.” I suppose her greatest interests lay in art, philosophy, biography and current affairs. She had a keen intellect and thoroughly enjoyed contact with great intellects, whether personal or through books.

Despite ill health after her retirement from Winthrop, Miss Smith continued her interest in library service and her driving determination to live and to serve. She served for a short time as librarian of Anderson Junior College and as a consultant for Gardner-Webb College. Forced by ill health to retire from Anderson, she lived in Columbia and gained great pleasure in developing a church library for the Kathwood Baptist Church. She worked enthusiastically with it until shortly before her death.

Miss Smith’s church was a very important part of her life. Wherever she lived, she affiliated herself with a church and was a staunch member of it. A quiet but firm faith strengthened her through many trying times.

A memorial to Miss Smith would not be complete without a mention of her sense of humor, which was keen and subtle. She appreciated good humor and enjoyed good laughter. Even in serious moments, her sense of humor smoothed over rough places. Some who did not know her well thought of her as a stern disciplinarian. Those of us who did know her well knew to look for the twinkle in her eyes that softened the reproof she might feel was necessary.

Miss Smith was a person of integrity, determination and dedication; she was also a person of warm friendship and loyalty. Her influence in library service will continue in the lives of the many who called her friend.

STATE LIBRARY BOARD:
APPROPRIATION FISCAL 1970

The South Carolina State Budget for 1969-70 submitted by the State Budget and Control Board to the General Assembly included a recommended total of $632,570 for the operation of the State Library Board. This amount represents the total requested by the State Library Board with the exception of one small item of $6,000. Of this amount, $478,519 will be allocated for State Aid to county and regional libraries. The remainder of the funds will be used for the purchase of books, the employment of personnel, and for expenses incident to moving into and operating the Board's new building.

The total budget figure for the State Library Board is $1,373,251.00 of which $740,681.00 is from Federal sources. The total figure does not include funds for library building construction in fiscal 1970. It is estimated that construction grants will amount to $300,000.00 from Federal sources.

In contrasting the appropriation for 1970 with that for 1945, the following facts are interesting: in 1945, the State Library Board's total budget was $15,000.00 of which $3,236 was allocated to the counties as State Aid. Percentage wise, this was 22% of the total budget. In 1970, the anticipated State appropriation is $632,570.00 of which $478,519.00 will be allocated to the counties as State Aid. Percentage wise, this is 76% of the total budget. In other words, in 1945 about a fifth of the State Library Board's total budget was returned to the counties as State Aid; in 1970 three-fourths of the total budget will be returned to the counties as State Aid grants.

SHIRLEY HAWKINS

Miss Shirley Hawkins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hawkins of Duncan, South Carolina was born at Duncan on August 26, 1942. She passed away early in the morning on June 3, 1969 after a brief illness. She is survived by her parents and her devoted brothers and sisters.

Shirley received her library training at Winthrop College. After her graduation in 1965, she was employed as the librarian at the Greenville Technical Education Center where she established the basic technical collection in support of that institution's programs. She later continued at Greenville TEC as the assistant librarian. She was a member of the American Library Association, the South Carolina Library Association, and the upper Piedmont Libraries Association. She also contributed freely of her time and energies toward the activities of the United Methodist Church.

During her too brief career as a librarian, Shirley brought to her profession the confidence and enthusiasm of youth. Her many friends among the staff, faculty and students of Greenville TEC greatly miss her cheerful assistance in helping solve their library problems. Her fellow librarians at Technical Education Centers throughout the state will long feel the loss of the warm and considered personal and professional contributions which Shirley offered whenever they met.

A. L. A. COUNCILOR’S REPORT

by Marguerite G. Thompson

Included in our Atlantic City Conference kits in June was a questionnaire, “Twenty Questions,” with the request that each person fill in the answers and return the form to ALA. “By playing Twenty Questions,” the brochure stated, “you can help ALA in its study of the Midwinter and Annual Meetings. What’s wrong with Annual Conferences? What’s right about them? . . . Praise or damn, but please do it thoughtfully.”

With the option of signing or not signing the questionnaire, members at the convention used this opportunity to “tell it like it is.” For there was much that was right—and wrong—at the June 22-28 Conference.

President Roger McDonough in his report at the first Council meeting expressed ALA’s large concern about the Administration’s proposed cuts in Federal funds for libraries of the nation. He reported on press conferences, on the coordinated efforts of ALA and NEA at Congressional Hearings, and on the activities of the new National Citizen’s Committee to Save Education and Library Funds. The president’s report left no doubt in our minds that ALA is leading the fight for restoring Federal funds to libraries.

Following Mr. McDonough’s report, “A Petition to Congress to Help Education and Library Programs” was proposed for adoption by the Committee on Legislation. It was unanimously approved for transmittal to Congress.

Before the Convention was over, the American Library Trustee Association announced plans to converge on Washington on July 9 to confer with Congressmen to urge their support for full funding of library programs.

After stormy sessions, the controversial report of the Subcommittee to study the ALA Dues Structure was approved by both Council and Membership. This means the increase in dues will take effect in 1970. Frank B. Sessa, committee chairman, ably presided during the heated discussion periods. ALA officers pointed out that the only source of relief for the rising cost of Association activities was through an increase in the general fund income, the largest portion of which is derived from dues. They estimated the dues increase will produce approximately one-half million dollars annually.

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee withdrew its recommendation for the second reading on the amendment to Article VI, Section 4(c) of the Constitution at the Membership meeting. The amendment requires that petitions by members to set aside any action of Council must be filed within ninety days of the Council action.

The remainder of the Constitution and Bylaws Committee report was adopted after lengthy discussion at both Council and Membership meetings. The report included the new dues structure as well as recommendations for a new ALA Committee on Program Evaluation and Support (COPES) and a new Budget Assembly. The Committee will evaluate the programs of the Association and submit a recommended budget to the Executive Board for action. The duties of the Budget Assembly will be to study the balanced tentative budget submitted by COPES, raise questions concerning it, and offer suggestions to the committee.

The Intellectual Freedom Committee's report, "The Feasibility and Legality of Promoting and Defending the Library Bill of Rights," contained a suggested program of five steps and six possible recommendations for action. Feeling was vocal and strong that ALA should give top priority to a meaningful intellectual freedom program. Both Council and Membership urged the committee to proceed with all possible speed toward setting up the machinery for an ALA Intellectual Freedom office supported by the necessary funds. The report was approved with the addition of an amendment providing for the acceptance of gifts to achieve committee goals while the committee gives further study to financial support for the office.

Council turned down a membership proposal that ALA "adopt as its official policy the support of professional standards for librarians and libraries and implement this support through the establishment of machinery for the censure and sanction of libraries and the accreditation of libraries." The proposal was referred to the Executive Board for study and for possible action.

President-Elect William Dix proposed a new Activities Committee of twelve members to examine the objectives and program of ALA and report its findings and recommendations at the 1970 Conference in Detroit. One-half of the members of this committee would be appointed from the Junior Members Round Table and the recently-formed Social Responsibilities Round Table; the other six would be appointed by the ALA president. Mr. Dix's committee seemingly was proposed as a first step toward setting up the machinery for a revamping of ALA, something which has been called for by many critics within the Association. The proposal was approved.

With the group calling themselves the "Congress for Change" pushing to the forefront of every Council and Membership meeting, business-as-usual was not the order of the day. Parliamentary procedure was frequently so snarled that at times it was difficult to know what was being voted on.

I'll admit belonging to the "Establishment," while at the same time feeling that some changes should be made in the ALA structure. Certainly there should be more channels opened for communication to membership, a sharp decrease in members holding more than one committee appointment, more participation by younger members. However, change takes time, and youth should not attempt to overturn the structure in order to bring about changes over-night. The best interests of libraries and librarians must always be considered carefully in our deliberations.

With Council meetings prolonged and off schedule and with the Membership meeting continuing through three separate sessions, there was too little time left for exhibits. They continue to expand, however, and time used in visiting them is well-spent.

SOUTHERN CAROLINA LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Executive Committee Meeting
March 22, 1969
(Approved April 26, 1969)

The Executive Committee of the South Carolina Library Association met on March 22, 1969, at 10:30 a.m., in the Meeting Room of the Richland County Public Library. The members present were Josephine Crouch, Mrs. Elizabeth Foran, Mrs. Sarah S. Harris, Margie E. Herron, Mrs. Thelma Murtha, J. Mitchell Reames, Mrs. Carol S. Scott, Mrs. Margarette Thompson, and Robert C. Tucker. Also present was Herbert Hucks, Jr., Editor, The South Carolina Librarian. Mrs. Helen L. Callison, Col. James M. Hillard, and J. Frank Nolen were absent.

The meeting was called to order by the president.

A motion was made by Mr. Reames that the minutes be approved as printed. Mrs. Thompson pointed out the following corrections: (1) page 1, under ALA Councilor's report (3rd sentence), change word "president" to "vice-president," so that phrase reads "vice-president and president-elect of ALA . . . ;" (2) page 2, under report of Handbook Revision Committee (2nd sentence), Mrs. Thompson was of the opinion that the word "recommended" would be more appropriate than the word "decided," beginning of sentence would read "The Handbook Revision Committee recommended . . . ." Although Col. Hillard was absent, he had sent word that on the first page of the minutes, the figure $206.76 was incorrect; he suggested that the statement read: "showed a balance of $3404.19 in the checkings and savings account." Mrs. Thompson then made a motion that the minutes be approved as amended. Mrs. Harris seconded the motion, and it passed.

TREASURER'S REPORT: Since Col. Hillard was absent, the president read his written report which stated that balances were the same as those of the February report. Col. Hillard also indicated that he had received notice to add the following names to the honorary membership roll: Miss Annie James of Darlington and Miss Margaret Mahon of Greenville. Mr. Reames made the motion that these two librarians be approved for honorary membership in the Association. Mrs. Foran seconded the motion, and it passed.
There was again a brief discussion of the question of separation of life and honorary memberships in the directory which is printed each year in The South Carolina Librarian. Mr. Reames made the motion that we request that in the publication of the membership directory in 1969 that life and honorary members be separated. (There are only 2 life members, Miss Mary Timberlake and Mrs. Harriet K. Weeks; the secretary will send to Col. Hillard a list of these 2 life memberships plus honorary memberships.)

REPORTS OF COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN:

ALA COUNCILOR: Mrs. Thompson stated that there were such thorough reports of ALA Midwinter activities (Jan. 26-Feb. 1, 1969) in The South Carolina Librarian and ALA Bulletin that she would not go into further detail. She did make the following comments: (1) Mrs. Thompson had predicted the Intellectual Freedom Committee would have a presentation to make, but report will be given at the Atlantic City Conference. (2) The new Roundtable for Social Responsibilities was approved and then had its first meeting. (3) Mrs. Thompson was impressed with the way the new ALA president, Roger McDonough, is handling himself. (4) At an open meeting on discussion of the revision of ALA dues, ideas were received from those attending the meeting; these suggestions will be brought up again in Atlantic City. As expected, the ALA convention registration fee was increased; the fee for Atlantic City will be $15. (5) Mrs. Thompson reported that a bill had been introduced in Congress calling for the establishment of a National Commission on Libraries and Information Science. Mrs. Thompson presented a letter from Rep. John Brademas in which the representative asked the Association to make comments on the bill if it wished to do so. (6) Mrs. Thompson had received correspondence from the ALA Nominating Committee requesting that suggestions of one or more names from each State Chapter be sent in for councilor-at-large. The Executive Committee gave Mrs. Thompson several names which she will forward to ALA.

SELA REPRESENTATIVE: Mrs. Foran reported that she had attended what was in her opinion a very profitable workshop for SELA officers, board members, and committee chairmen held in Atlanta, March 17-19. Cooperation and research were the themes of the workshop. Two new sections were given SELA Board approval—Special Libraries and Library Education.

Mrs. Foran also said that the SELA Executive Secretary had requested that the Southeastern Library Association be placed on the mailing list to receive The South Carolina Librarian. Mr. Hucks was so informed.

Mrs. Foran reported that S. C. membership in SELA shows 25 institutional and 187 personal members.

Schedule for next 3 SELA Conventions is as follows: 1971, Atlanta; 1973, joint meeting with the Southwestern Library Association in New Orleans; 1975, Richmond.

SECTION CHAIRMEN:

COLLEGE: No report.

PUBLIC: Mrs. Murtha brought up the matter of reprinting the “S. C. Public Library Standards.” Mrs. Murtha stated that she felt that few revisions needed to be made except, of course, incorporating the new salary standards (adopted March 1969) into the reprinted pamphlet. Miss Crouch disagreed with Mrs. Murtha’s statement that the S. C. Standards would require few revisions; in her opinion, a chapter by chapter revision should be considered. A decision had to be made as to whether SCLA would cover expenses for reprinting the Standards, and it would also have to be decided how extensive the revision would be. Mr. Reames asked if present Standards were published by State Library Board or not. If the reprinting is paid for by SCLA, Mr. Reames thinks SCLA’s name should be on the pamphlet. The final decision on this matter was that before the next Executive Committee meeting, Mrs. Murtha would call a meeting of the Public Library Section’s Handbook Revision Committee. At the April meeting of the Executive Committee, Mrs. Murtha will report on how extensive revisions will be and, in general, what the reprinting costs will be. The Executive Committee went on record as supporting this project and expressed their willingness to pay costs for reprinting.

Mrs. Murtha also reported that Carrie Gene Ashley (ABBE Regional Library) had been appointed secretary pro-tem of the Public Library Section.

SCHOOL: In the absence of Mrs. Callison, no report was given.

SPECIAL: Mrs. Harris reported the spring workshop of the Special Library Section would be an open meeting. The meeting will be held Saturday, April 12, at Fort Jackson in Columbia from 10:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m. Miss Maude Dowtin is chairman of the Planning Committee.

TRUSTEE: In the absence of Mr. Nolen, no report was given.

The South Carolina Librarian, Editor: Mr. Hucks announced the deadline for getting news items in the October issue of The South Carolina Librarian is August 15. Several Executive Committee members commented that they were impressed with Mr. Hucks’ March issue of the quarterly magazine.

OLD BUSINESS:

1. Tri-Centennial Committee: Mr. Reames had nothing further to report.

2. Handbook Revision Committee: The revised Handbook is ready to go to press. Mr. Reames, who had rewritten the first chapter, passed around a typed copy of it. The tentative price which Mr. Reames had gotten for a 30 page pamphlet was $416 for 1000 copies. This prices does not include the cost of the cover, but Mr. Reames still thinks he can get the job done within the $500 budget which the Executive Committee approved at the January meeting) and that within a two month period, the Handbook can be printed.

3. Convention Program Planning Committee: Mr. Reames passed out copies of the practically final SCLA Convention program.

4. Membership Committee: Mrs. Scott had sent a letter to Mrs. Bertha Cain, chairman of the School Library Section’s Planning Committee, requesting that she send a letter to school superintendents in March or April (see page 3 of Jan. 25, 1969 minutes for details). Mrs. Scott had received no reply from Mrs. Cain.

NEW BUSINESS:

1. Intellectual Freedom Committee: On behalf of Miss Susie McKeown, chairman of this committee, Mrs. Scott presented a censorship bill which had been brought to the attention of Miss McKeown. The bill, H.R. 6186, was introduced in Congress by Rep. Gettys “to prohibit the dissemination through interstate commerce or the mails of materials harmful to persons under the age of eighteen years, and to restrict the exhibition of movies or other presentations harmful to such persons.” Miss McKeown wondered if any action should be taken. After reading the entire bill, the Executive Committee decided that the bill could definitely be wrongly interpreted and could definitely affect librarians. Mr. Reames stated that SELA would like to be alerted about anything like this which comes up.

The Executive Committee issued the following directive for Miss McKeown: (1) Contact Neil Austin, SELA Intellectual Freedom Committee Chairman, about the bill. (2) The Executive Committee suggests that McKeown send a note to Rep. Gettys stating that she thinks that Gettys’ motives for introducing the bill are commendable but that she thinks it has serious implications for libraries and library service and that she opposes it in its present form especially the section which tries to remove the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

2. Registration: The secretary read a letter from Chapman J. Milling, requesting that his resignation as ALA Coordinator be considered. The Executive Committee accepted Mr. Milling’s resignation.

3. Other new business: (a) Mrs. Foran recommended consideration at some future date of a joint meeting of SCLA and another state.

(b) An annual publication, “Year’s Work in Pennsylvania Studies,” was presented by Mr. Reames to the Executive Committee for its consideration. He thought that the Association might sponsor the compilation and publication of such a document in South Carolina. The pamphlet might include books, magazine articles, newspaper articles, etc. on South Carolina. Sections might be responsible for certain parts of the project. There would need to be a central agency which would be responsible for assembling the material for such a project; two possibilities which the Executive Committee immediately came up with were South Caroliniana and the State Library Board. Dr. Tucker moved that this matter of a S.C. bibliography be referred to the Planning Committee for their consideration. Miss Crouch seconded the motion, and it passed. The secretary was instructed to write a note to Miss Jane Wright, chairman of the Planning Committee, about this.

Mrs. Scott reminded the Executive Committee that the next meeting would be at 10:30 on Saturday morning, April 26, 1969, in the Meeting Room of the Richland County Public Library.

The meeting was adjourned at approximately 12:20 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Margie E. Herron
S.C.L.A. Secretary

SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Executive Committee Meeting

April 26, 1969

(Approved September 6, 1969)

The Executive Committee of the South Carolina Association met on April 26, 1969, at 10:30 a.m., in the Meeting Room of the Richland County Public Library. The members present were Mrs. Helen L. Callison, Josephine Crouch, Mrs. Sarah S. Harris, Margie E. Herron, Col. James M. Hillard, Mrs. Thelma Murtha, J. Frank Nolen, and L. Mitchell Reames. Also present was Herbert Hucks, Jr., Editor, The South Carolina Librarian. Mrs. Elizabeth Foran, Mrs. Carol S. Scott, Mrs. Marguerite Thompson, and Robert C. Tucker were absent.

In the absence of the president, Mr. Reames called the meeting to order.

A motion was made by Miss Crouch that the minutes be approved as submitted. Mr. Nolen seconded the motion, and it passed.

TREASURER’S REPORT:

Col. Hillard reported that the Association’s budget was in very good shape. Membership in the Association has now reached a grand total of 679 members—637 personal and 42 institutional. Col. Hillard thinks that by Convention time this fall the membership will reach the 700 mark.

ALA COUNCILOR:

In the absence of Mrs. Thompson, no report was given.
SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARIAN

SELA REPRESENTATIVE:
In the absence of Mrs. Foran, no report was given.

SECTION CHAIRMAN:

COLLEGE: In the absence of Dr. Tucker, no report was given.

PUBLIC: Mrs. Murtha reported that the Section’s Standards Committee met on April 11 to discuss the revision of “Standards for South Carolina Public Libraries.” Another report on this matter will be given by Mrs. Murtha at the next meeting of the Executive Committee. The Public Library Section had secured Richard Moses as a Convention speaker.

SCHOOL: Mrs. Callison reported that a letter had been sent to all school librarians in the state concerning graduate study for school librarians. 370 replies had been received. Answers from the school librarians indicated that they were interested in graduate study; 65% said they would not be able to go out-of-state to graduate library school. This information will be sent to the University of South Carolina to be used as additional ammunition in trying to get a graduate library started at the University.

SPECIAL: Mrs. Harris reported that the Special Library Section’s spring workshop was a very successful one. The three speakers were excellent. Two librarians who were not special librarians attended the meeting just because they were interested.

TRUSTEE: No report.

The South Carolina Librarian, Editor:

The deadline for sending news items in to Mr. Hucks for the fall issue of The South Carolina Librarian is August 15. Mr. Hucks had written Bell and Howell again about putting The South Carolina Librarian on microfilm. If he does not hear from the company in the near future, he will call.

OLD BUSINESS:

1. Tri-Centennial Committee: Mr. Reames had talked with Dr. Rogers of the State Tri-Centennial Commission. Dr. Rogers told him that the “History of Libraries in South Carolina” proposal was still up for the Commission’s consideration. As a possible incentive to the Committee, Mr. Reames told Dr. Rogers that the Association might be willing to help support the project financially.

2. Handbook Revision Committee: Mr. Reames reported that the Handbook is at the press and will be mailed out as soon as it is printed. The same cover design was used, but the color was changed from red and black to green and black. Col. Hillard offered to send a copy of the Handbook to all new Association members if Mr. Reames would send him extra copies of the new publication.

3. Convention Program Planning Committee: From the Exhibits Chairman had come a question about fees to be charged for exhibit space at the Convention hotel. Col. Hillard made a motion that a charge for hotel space plus $20 be made for exhibits. Mrs. Callison seconded the motion, and it passed. Col. Hillard will pass this information on to Desmond Koster, the Exhibits Chairman.

4. Gettys legislation: Miss Susie McKeown had written Rep. Gettys and Neil Austin. She did not write Germaine Krettick. The letter was acknowledged by Gettys’ office (since he was not in Washington). As far as is known, the bill is still in committee.

NEW BUSINESS:

1. Future Joint Meeting with North Carolina Library Association: For information, Mr. Reames reported that he had written the president of the North Carolina Library Association asking if he were interested in a joint convention meeting with South Carolina. Mr. Reames had had no reply from North Carolina as yet.

2. Death of Miss Gladys Smith, former Winthrop College librarian: Miss Susie McKeown will be asked to write an article for The South Carolina Librarian.

3. Proposed Cuts in Federal Funds: President Nixon’s recommendations on budget for fiscal 1970 were released in early April. Funds for educational programs had been cut drastically, especially for elementary school libraries. Mrs. Callison remarked that the schools had written Rep. Gettys about this. Since LSCA Titles I, II, III, and IV would suffer greatly, a memorandum was sent out from the State Library Board office urging that public librarians write their Congressmen to let them know how these recommendations would affect their libraries. After discussing the Federal cuts which are being recommended for LSCA, Elementary School Library Act, and the Higher Education Act, Col. Hillard moved that the president of SCLA be authorized to write a letter strongly recommending that the programs be continued in their present form. Miss Crouch seconded the motion, and it passed.

The Chairman of the Constitutional Changes Committee requested that the proposed revision of the Constitution and By-Laws be presented at the biennial Convention, having been initiated by the Executive Committee and therefore assumed to have the prior approval of EC.

The Executive Committee approved of the suggestion to cancel the May meeting and to have a call meeting if necessary before the next scheduled meeting. Col. Hillard made a motion that the Convention chairman be invited to attend the September Executive Committee Meeting with travel expenses paid by SCLA. Mrs. Harris seconded the motion, and it passed.

The next meeting of the Executive Committee will be at 10:30 on Saturday morning, September 6, 1969, in the Meeting Room of the Richland County Public Library.

The meeting was adjourned at approximately 11:25 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Margie E. Herron

RECENT SOUTH CAROLINIANA
A PARTIAL LIST

Compiled by
J. MITCHELL REAMES AND LYNN S. BARRON
McKissick Memorial Library, University of South Carolina

This is the tenth list of this kind to appear in The South Carolina Librarian; previous lists were published in the October issue of 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1967, and 1968. No list was published in 1966. The titles included were gleaned from various bibliographies and from items available at the South Carolina Library. Grateful acknowledgement is made to Mr. E. L. Inabinett, Librarian of the South Carolina Library, and to his staff for their interest and assistance in preparing the compilation.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge that Mrs. Lynn S. Barron, Assistant Reference Librarian, McKissick Memorial Library, actually did most of the work in preparing this list.

No claim is made that this is a complete list of all South Caroliniana published since the last list appeared. For a statement of the scope of the list, limits of inclusion, and an explanation of format, reference is made to The South Carolina Librarian, October, 1962, pages 6-7.

OFFICIAL STATE GEM AND OFFICIAL STATE STONE

The South Carolina General Assembly has designated the amethyst as the official State gem and blue granite as the official State stone.

South Carolina is one of the three states where amethysts of good quality are found. One of the largest early specimens from this State, holds first place in the amethyst section in the Smithsonian Institute.

Blue granite, the "silk of the trade," has been widely used to beautify South Carolina and other sections of the country.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOOKMARKS

The Social Security Administration offers two new bookmarks. "Starting Young with Social Security" is designed to attract the attention of young people who may not realize they have a stake in social security. "Read about Medicare" gives the information a person needs to protect his full medicare rights.

These bookmarks may be obtained, at no cost, in quantity, from the nearest social security office or from the Office of Information, Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Maryland 21235.

WOFFORD'S NEW LIBRARY

by Frank J. Anderson

Wofford's new one and a half million dollar library is now a reality. It was about four years ago that the first tentative planning began when a faculty committee was appointed, by then President Charles F. Marsh, in 1965 to study the library needs of Wofford College. This committee examined the current literature on library planning and buildings, and also visited the libraries of a number of liberal arts colleges of about the size and character of Wofford. The committee, composed of Professors Bullard, Oids, McCowen, Wright, and Miller, took their charge seriously and worked diligently throughout that year. During the summer of 1966 Professor Vincent Miller, chairman of the committee, was relieved of other duties and assigned the work of reviewing the findings of the committee and writing and editing a final report. Professor Miller produced a two part document dubbed Library Plan for Wofford College. This became the springboard document that was used as a basis for further planning.

In the fall of 1966 the writer arrived on the scene to assume the duties of college librarian. Dr. David Kaser, currently Director of Cornell University Libraries, but at the time Director of the Joint University Libraries, was retained as our library building consultant. The architectural firm of Lyles, Bisett, Carlisle and Wolff were retained as our architects. A number of conferences took place, and out of these sessions our library building plans evolved and developed.

The pre-chosen site for the library was fortuitously located in the flow of traffic between dormitories and class rooms. The building we planned would grow between two venerable buildings on campus, buildings of historical significance to Wofford, hence the new structure could not overwhelm them. The final solution was a three-story cruciform structure, with only two levels apparent from the inner campus. All three levels are visible from the outer edge of the campus, but from this viewpoint it is a proper massiveness. The proportions of the building are such that they relate very well to the adjacent buildings.

A thirty-three page set of detailed planning notes were developed which outlined our specific needs and desires. These notes outlined the functions of the library spaces, expected staff and patron use, and the furniture and equipment requirements. The architects used the notes to interpret our ideas and needs and to translate them into the requisite structure. The plans and descriptive documents continued to be refined and worked out in infinite detail during the fall and winter of 1966 and the spring and summer of 1967. Late in August advertisements for construction bids were published. On the 26th of September 1967 the bids were opened. After study and deliberation the prime construction contract was awarded to the Ruscon Construction Company of Charleston. A ground-breaking ceremony occurred on October 19, 1967 during Wofford's celebration of "Founder's Day." Site clearing and construction actually began on the 30th of October.

Now, many months later, the construction has been completed and the building was accepted by the college on May 8, 1969. As I write this in mid-July the work of installing stacks, furniture and equipment is still in progress. We hope to move in sometime during August and to have the new library operational by the beginning of the fall term.

Architecturally the building is a composite of many styles, but it "reads" as strictly a twentieth-century modern building. Part of the design problem involved the buildings' relationship to other structures on campus which utilize a variety of styles and materials. The new library structure is made of poured concrete reinforced with steel, and an exterior veneer of Indiana limestone. Large expanses of tinted Thermopane glass are also featured. The roof is a modified Mansard type, made of metal with a bonded finish which requires no maintenance. A piazza stretches across the second level of the building on the northern elevation. The building is generally oriented in a north-south direction. Appropriate seating and plantings have been arranged on the piazza, and it should be a relaxing place to read during pleasant weather. The exterior of the building with its paved entry plaza, stone collonade, and expanse of grass, presents an invitation to enter and partake of the library's offerings.

The exterior presents much of aesthetic interest with strong verticals and contrasting textures. It is a fine building for shadows and at different times of the day and in different seasons changes subtly so as to be always new. The structure makes a strong statement about the Wofford attitude toward culture and the importance of the library in the scheme of things.

The limestone walls enclose 43,000 square feet of floor space, capable of containing 150,000 volumes and of seating 385 readers. Access is through tall glass doors on the main level, which is actually the second floor of the building and faces in toward the campus. Handicapped persons may maneuver a wheelchair from curb-side up a gently sloped sidewalk, across the paved entry plaza, and through the grade level entry without climbing any stairs. Inside, the library's electric-hydraulic passenger elevator allows the handicapped easy access to upper and lower levels.

The limestone walls are carried inside the building; and interior wall surfaces are either limestone or walnut paneling. An undyed wool carpet covers the floor surfaces and will help to reduce noise level. Fluorescent lighting of high candle-power is available throughout the building. Fenestration is cunningly designed to allow for natural lighting, and give patrons a connection with the outside world. Pleasing campus vistas are available from most areas of the building. The window treatment will assure us of having a forever new building since changes in exterior lighting, created by time of day or varying seasons, will also change interior aspects.

A major structural feature of the building is the hanging staircase. This is, in effect, a piece of sculpture and the viewer sees different patterns from varying vantage points. The staircase is illuminated from above by a simulated sky-light. The staircase is beautiful from any level, but is especially intriguing when viewing upward from the nethermost level. The aesthetic advantages of the staircase greatly outweigh the concomitant loss of floor space.

The building is air-conditioned throughout, and during the winter months will be warmed via the same duct work by electrically heated air. A built-in central vacuum cleaning system will aid custodial staff in keeping the carpet and upholstered furniture clean.

The combination of stone, wood, glass, and neutral-toned carpet provide a masculine atmosphere fitting to a men's college. The walnut paneling is waxed and rubbed to a high lustre and is in warm contrast to the stone. Color accents are provided in the upholstery of the furnishings. Additional color will come from the variegated volumes of the book collection once they are installed.

The building was planned with readers in mind and there are no barriers between books and users. The collection will be shelved in open stacks. Throughout the library, interspersed among the book stacks, varied seating arrangements have been provided. A good percentage of the seating is in carrell spaces, but there are also many areas equipped with lounge furniture. Several areas on each level have groupings of four-place study tables for those readers who need to spread work out over a large surface. On the lower level there are six, small group study rooms ranged in a row. These rooms are equipped with tables and chairs and will allow students to carry on arguments and discussions without disturbing other library users. A listening room, also in this complex, will be equipped with playback record turntables and tape decks.

In addition to having our student users in mind when designing the building we also tried to provide for a smooth flow of materials. A driveway provides access to a shipping and receiving room, delivery and pickup of library materials may be accomplished easily here. The shipping room is relatively large and equipped with built-in shelving, cabinets, a counter-height packing table, and other work surfaces. The mess of packing and unpacking can be contained in this area. We can unpack shipments of books in this room and hold them until the order department, on the next level, can handle them. We don't have to deluge our staff with incoming materials, but can trickle them in as they are capable of handling them. The space can also be used for temporary storage of unvaluated gift collections. Some floor space will be kept free so that we may stack cartons of outgoing shipments. It is but a short distance from the shipping room to the elevator and easy transfer of materials to other work areas of the library.

On the first level, in addition to the shipping room, we have a workroom for the bindery preparations department and the printing and duplicating department. Here also are the staff lounge, and two conference rooms. The largest of these conference rooms is furnished with stacking chairs and folding tables. The paneling hides a pull-down projector table, and a movie screen, chalk board and tack board arrangement. These are at opposite ends of the room. This flexible arrangement will allow us to use this area for a variety of functions and presentations. A small, well-equipped kitchen will serve both the staff lounge and the conference room.

In the stacks and readers' area one portion of the stacks will be enclosed with a carved wooden grille work to provide security housing for our rare books and special collections. We will be able to take many volumes out of temporary storage and make them available to our scholars under controlled conditions.

The circulation desk and the reserve book complex are on the main level, adjacent to the entry. This is our control point and book charging area. The floor space contains book stacks and readers' spaces. The east wing of the main level houses the reference room and reference librarian's office. Here also are the library reception room-office, and the librarian's office.

On the opposite side, in the west wing, is the technical processes work room. Desks, counters, work spaces, shelving, and file cabinets for the use of the order department and the cataloging department are arranged in this space in such a way as to facilitate the flow of materials. The elevator is located in the corridor which is the entry to this room, and will assist in transferring materials.

The upper level houses books and periodicals. Current periodicals will be on face-out display in counter height shelving. Lounge furniture has been grouped in this area for the convenience of magazine and newspaper readers.
The west wing on this level, houses the archives department with office space for the Archivist and his secretary. The collection will be housed here on shelves and in filing cabinets. Some historical pieces of furniture will be on display, along with several glass cases for changing exhibits. The archives users have been provided with both four-place study tables and individual study desks.

In the east wing a microforms reading room will house the various reading machines and the array of storage cabinets for the microforms collection. Steel shelving along one wall will hold newspaper and periodicals indices. Provision is made for eight readers at four-place study tables. A small room in the east wing will contain our coin-operated Xerox machine, and a storage cabinet for paper and supplies. This space is convertible to office use at some future date when we can afford to employ a periodicals librarian.

We have a first class building with a lot of aesthetic appeal and built-in environmental niceties. We expect these things to alter our ways of teaching and learning. This may not happen immediately and dramatically, but will surely happen over a longer period of time. Readers of the South Carolina Librarian are invited to come up and visit and get the “five dollar tour.”

SPECIAL LIBRARY SECTION
by Sarah S. Harris, Chairman

The Special Library Section held its first workshop on Saturday, April 12, 1969, in the Fort Jackson Post Conference Room.

Miss Maude C. Dowtin, chief librarian, Fort Jackson, welcomed the librarians and guests.

Three panelists, representing business and industry, armed forces, and technical education, gave excellent presentations of what management expects of special librarians, stressing especially various techniques of communication. Questions and answers and general discussion followed the more formal talks. Miss Josephine Neil, district librarian, 6th Naval District, was moderator.

Mrs. Harris, chairman, briefly outlined the tentative program for the biennial convention of the South Carolina Library Association, October 9-11. Ted Slate, chief librarian, NEWSWEEK, will be the speaker for the Special Library Section.

The staff of the Fort Jackson libraries served a delightful buffet luncheon. The workshop planning committee consisted of: Miss Maude C. Dowtin, Miss Madeline Hays, Mrs. Meta B. Jones and Miss Josephine Neil.

PERSONALS

Miss JANET I. BAKER, Librarian, South Carolina Retarded Children's Center at Ladson, attended an institute of Institutional Librarianship: Analysis and Challenge, at Central State College, Edmond, Oklahoma, June 9-20, 1969.

Sympathy to the family of ROBERT EDWIN BARRON, Jr., who died May 1, 1969. He was Chairman of the Rock Hill Library Board, and first Chairman of the new York County Library Board.

LESTER L. BATES, Jr., upon the recommendation of S. C. State Superintendent of Education CYRIL BUSBEE, has been appointed by Governor ROBERT E. McNAIR to the Board of Directors of the S. C. State Library, to complete the unexpired term of the late Mrs. HAGOOD BOSTICK. He is President of the New South Life Insurance Company.

Mrs. MARY BAXTER, retired teacher, is a staff member of the Calhoun County Library.

BEST WISHES to Mr. and Mrs. GREGG CLAUBE BISSELL, who were married June 11, 1969! Mrs. BISSELL, the former JEAN GALLOWAY, is a member of the Greenville County Library Board, and is on the Building Committee. In 1967 she was Chairman of the Trustee Section, SCLA, and has been active in SELA and ALA Trustee organizations. They are making their home in Columbia, and she will continue her law practice in Greenville.

Sympathy to the family of Mrs. VIRGINIA BLACKWELL, who died January 1, 1969. She was from Winnsboro and was Bookkeeper and Assistant Librarian of the Fairfield County Library.

In September, 1969, Miss SUSAN BOND joined the staff of the Medical University of South Carolina, Charleston, and Librarian of the Dental Library. She is a recent graduate of Emory University Library School and took the course there in Medical Librarianship.

LIBRARY-WISE AND LIBRARY-WAYS

ABBEVILLE DEDICATES LIBRARY

On July 20 dedicatory exercises and open house were held at the Abbeville County Headquarters of the Abbee­ville-Greenwood Regional Library from 3:30 to six o'clock. The library, the remodeled former Abbeville Post Office, was opened to the public April 21. The cost of the renovation, furniture and equipment was $58,823, of which $38,823 was an LSCA grant from the State Library Board. Earle Gaulden of the architectural firm of Craig and Gaulden, Greenville, was the architect. Oyster white stacks make a pleasing contrast to the walnut furnishings. Brown, orange and avocado upholstered chairs and pale green draperies and carpet add a colorful note. With a little competition from the moon landing, Fletcher Ferguson, Chairman of the Abbeville County Library Board, presided. He called on the Reverend Herbert C. Floyd for the dedicatory prayer. Mr. Ferguson then introduced the members of the legislative delegation, members of the Abbeville County Library Board, the local librarian and representatives from the Regional Library and the State Library Board. He paid tribute to those persons who had contributed to the building program. Gail Suber, Miss Abbeville, was official hostess for the occasion. The Abbeville Pilot Club furnished and served refreshments. Congress­man and Mrs. W. J. Bryan Dorn attended the open house. Sally Urban, Extension Librarian, represented the State Library Board. Other out-of-county guests were Mrs. J. W. Callaham, Librarian, Honea Path Branch of the Anderson County Library, her niece, Lynne Hughes and Mrs. Marguerite G. Thompson, Librarian, Florence County Library.

Elizabeth L. Porcher is director of the Regional Library, and Mrs. John G. Hughes is in charge of the Abbeville Headquarters.

BERKELEY COUNTY LIBRARY
UNDER CONSTRUCTION

CONSTRUCTION SOON TO GET UNDERWAY ON NEW COUNTY LIBRARY—COST TO BE $195,802.60

Plans for the construction of the new Berkeley County Library are underway. The old library has been moved to the end of First Street, and the ground has been graded where the library is to be built.

The new Berkeley County Library Building will be constructed on the site of the old building—corner of Main and Library Streets. The entrance will face Library street, be at street level, and have parking space in the rear. The south end of the library will be 35 feet from the sidewalk on Main St.

The Contractor is C. W. Blanchard of Charleston. Total cost including furniture and equipment is $195,802.60, of which $75,000.00 is a grant from the South Carolina State Library Board from the Library Services and Construction Act funds.

In the summer of 1934, several individuals led by Mrs. N. N. Newell and Mrs. Arthur H. DeHay, established a reading room for the public. Mrs. DeHay gave all of her time during the summer, but had to return to the classroom in September. The reading room was closed and although the facilities were so meager, the “Reading Room” was sorely missed.

In 1936, The Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Leona Hewitt (now Mrs. L. H. Harvey) held a meeting with representatives from various organizations and civic groups of the county at which time the needs of the Library were discussed.

At this meeting, a Steering Committee was nominated, composed of: Dr. W. K. Fishburne, Miss Hewitt and Mrs. M. M. Murray, to investigate the possibility of organizing a library as a community project. The various organizations immediately became interested and two rooms over Barron’s Store on Main Street became the first home of the Berkeley County Library, with approximately 300 volumes donated by friends or purchased with money given by various public minded citizens.

During the summer of 1936, the Berkeley County Library Association was formed. Mrs. M. M. Murray was elected President; Mrs. W. K. Fishburne, Vice-President, and Miss Marie Harvey, Secretary-Treasurer.

In June, 1937, the Library was moved into rooms furnished by the Berkeley Grammar School, but continued to operate as a separate function apart from the school system and open to the general public.

As the circulation of books increased, the necessity of having a library building was always before the Association. At a meeting of the Association in November, 1937, the following were elected Trustees: G. K. Bonnoit, Chairman; Dr. W. K. Fishburne, Mrs. M. M. Murray, Francis M. Kirk, and Miss Marie Harvey.

A Charter was applied for and the Berkeley County Library became an eleemosynary corporation shortly thereafter.

The next question was how and where to obtain the funds with which to purchase a lot and building materials, as the W.P.A. work project in Berkeley County would provide most of the labor necessary to build the library.

The lot was donated. As the Pinopolis public school had been closed this building was donated. By various ways, due only to hard work of the trustees and members of the Library Association, enough material was finally assembled to finish the library building and to purchase the equipment.

In August, 1938, the library books were moved from the schoolhouse into their new home; and the Berkeley County Library was formally dedicated on November 10, 1938.

In 1948, the circulation continued to expand and the demand for service was so great in different sections of the county, that again the Library Board members went to work, and with the cooperation of the County Delegation and the Council of Farm Women, were able to purchase the first Bookmobile. This small red bookmobile served the county until the year 1962 when the present and much larger one was purchased and put into service.

In January, 1955, a Branch Library was opened in St. Stephen, and in January, 1965, a Branch Library was opened in Hanahan.

In June, 1964, Mrs. M. M. Murray presented her resignation as President of the Board. Her resignation was reluctantly accepted and Miss Marie Harvey was nominated and elected to serve as President.

At the same meeting, Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Fishburne asked to be relieved of their duties as active members; however they consented to continue to serve as honorary members. These three members gave unstintingly of their time and talents for over thirty years in order to establish and maintain a library in the county. Mrs. Fishburne and Mrs. Murray continue to serve as honorary members.

Active Board Members are: President, Miss Marie Harvey; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Kennedy; Mrs. Ira Cox, Sr., Mrs. M. F. Winter, Mrs. Moultrie Ball, Mrs. Harold F. Harding, and J. Russell Cross.

Present staff members are: Librarian, Mrs. George Gowder; Bookmobile Librarian, Miss Lynette Guerry; Assistants, Mrs. Barbara N. Mitchum and Mrs. Linda D. Bodiford, Branch Librarians: Hanahan, Mrs. Kathryn Kelly; St. Stephen, Mrs. Elizabeth Baggett.

The library has continued to grow quite rapidly, the staff and board have been faced for a long time with the need for more spacious quarters—more shelving space, a reading room, and working space for the staff and patrons.

Over a period of years, the following helped to keep the library functioning: Mrs. Julia Kirk Heyward, served 18 years, Mrs. J. H. Dangerfield, served 16 years as Bookmobile Librarian; Miss Emma Ritter, Mrs. Georgia Adams, Mrs. Marion Rudloff, Mrs. Imel McCants, Mrs. Joyce Mitchum Guerry, Mrs. Francis McKnight Shanklin, and Patricia T. Baker.

After spending considerable time working with the County Delegation, State Library Board, and the Architect, the dream of a new library building has finally materialized.

The patrons of the library, staff and board members are grateful indeed to the delegation for their part in making the new library a reality.

The Myrtle Beach Rotary Club ended the campaign for the building funds of the CHAPIN MEMORIAL LIBRARY by donating the $3,000.00 needed for the $41,752 renovation and expansion project.

CONGRATULATIONS to the CHARLESTON AIR FORCE BASE LIBRARY on winning a John Cotton Dana Special Publicity Award, sponsored jointly by the Wilson Library Bulletin and the Public relations Section of ALA's Library Administration Division. The award was made June 23, 1969 in Atlantic City for the Charleston Air Force Base Library's "using ingenuity and imagination to solve the problem of limited budget and at the same time fulfill a desire to provide quality service."

CHARLESTON COUNTY LIBRARY has been designated an Area Reference Resource Center by the S. C. State Library Board.

The CHARLESTON LIBRARY SOCIETY, Miss Virginia Rugheimer, Librarian, and John E. Gibbs, President, at the 220th Annual Meeting January 28, 1969, reports: "Mr. Walter M. Norment of Henderson County, N. C., left a share of his estate to the Library. Item X of Mr. Norment's last will and testament reads: 'Also, I give, devise and bequeath six (6%) of my property both real and personal to the Charleston Library Society, Lower King Street, Charleston, South Carolina. This to the Library to come as from Mr. Edward Reed Memminger and his daughter, Mrs. Marjorie M. Norment.' The present indication is that our share of Mr. Norment's estate will exceed $15,000.00. Your trustees have provided that the interest from this generous bequest be used to retire the indebtedness we incur for the repairs and painting now in progress."

The staff and members were saddened by the death of Mr. Samuel G. Stoney, a lifelong member of the Society, who remembered the Library with a bequest of $1,000.00. Twenty years ago on January 18, 1949, President Horlbeck announced to the Society that Miss Ellen FitzSimons had found it necessary to retire on October 1, 1948. He went on to say, and I quote: 'To fill the vacancy thus created in the office of Librarian, the Society has been fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Virginia A. Rugheimer, whose record and experience as a trained librarian gives promise that she will fill with credit the position which has been rendered unique in honor and service by her illustrious predecessor.' How well Miss Rugheimer has fulfilled this promise is evident to all of us who use the Library and benefit from her expert knowledge and her kind, cheer-

The Second Annual Conference of the Church and Synagogue Library Association was held July 13-15, 1969, in Washington, D. C. Membership in the organization is open to all interested persons. Inquiries may be directed to Mrs. Dorothy Rodda, Executive Secretary, P. O. Box 530, Bryn Mawr, Pa., 19010.

ful, and considerate treatment of patrons. Her fulfillment of promise is best borne out by a comparison of figures of 1947 and 1967. In 1947 the operating costs were $10,545.10; in 1967, $40,163.76—an increase of $29,618.66. In 1947 there were 849 members; in 1967, 1,414—an increase of 565 members. In 1947 there was an estimate of 65,769 volumes in the collection; in 1967, 75,296—an increase of 9,527. In 1947 the circulation was 12,038 volumes; in 1967, 30,251—an increase of 18,213. For the year 1968 Miss Rugheimer reported 1,539 members; 28,016; 1,135 volumes added, and estimated 76,431 volumes in the collection. Sale of Microfilm netted $6,746.09.

The Matheson Memorial Library in CHERAW opened to the public July 1, 1969, as the first Branch of the Chesterfield County Library. On that day library cards were issued to 30 persons. It has been a subscription library, and when CHERAW leased the building to the Chesterfield County Library Board the book stock was made available for use by the public. The Fort Mill Recreation Department and the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a July 4th celebration and donated the proceeds, $1,000.00, to Libraries, Inc. A golf tournament, barbecue, fireworks display, greasy pig chase and other activities highlighted the day.

February 20, 1969 Betty E. Callaham and Margie Herron of the S. C. State Library Board met with members of the CHESTERFIELD COUNTY LIBRARY BOARD to make preliminary plans for the organization of county-wide library service. Edward Sweat, Editor of the Cheraw Chronicle, is Chairman of the Board. Cheraw and Chesterfield both offered a building to house the headquarters. Since Chesterfield is more strategically located for all residents of the county and for eventual bookmobile service the Board decided on Chesterfield. The headquarters will open in the fall of 1969, with Colonel A. M. Stevenson as Librarian.

Under the Intern Program inaugurated by COLUMBIA COLLEGE, eight seniors in the Library Science classes completed a pilot program in December. These students worked 130 hours each in libraries in the Columbia area: The Veterans Administration Hospital Library; Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary Library; the University of South Carolina Law Library, and the Richland County Public Library. Their service was on a volunteer basis with no monetary compensation involved. The students' duties included filing, typing orders, shelving books, telling stories, working at the Reference and Circulation desks and going on the Bookmobile. College authorities feel that this program gives students a better understanding of library service. It also assists them to evaluate their courses. Mrs. John D. Rogers, Assistant Professor of Library Science and Supervisor of the program, reported that overall the program was quite successful (S. C. State Library Board's NEWS for South Carolina Libraries, March, 1969)

UNIFIED LIBRARY SYSTEM FOR DARLINGTON COUNTY

The final and most significant step toward unification of the county's public libraries was taken January 16 when the Hartsville Memorial Library Commission voted unanimously to join the Darlington County Library System. The County Library Board approved the action of the Hartsville Commission.

In related action, the County Library Board approved an agreement with the Hartsville Community Center Building Commission that the Hartsville Memorial Library will remain in its present quarters and the building will remain the property of the Commission.

Darlington County can now go forward with the full development of county-wide library service. Appointed in September of 1968, the Darlington County Library Board has the responsibility of improving public library service for all county residents. One of its first actions was to employ Mrs. W. A. Perkins, a fully qualified professional librarian. Currently, the Board is developing policies and plans for the orderly growth of the county-wide system.

Also last year, the County Library Board entered into a three-year Demonstration Program with the South Carolina State Library Board. This co-operative action, designed to accelerate the improvement of library service, made the county library eligible for grant funds exceeding $25,000 for the current fiscal year.

Members of the Hartsville Memorial Library Commission are: R. B. White, O. D. Kelly, Jr., and Mrs. W. P. Timmerman, Jr.

Darlington County Library Board members are: Thornton W. Crouch, Hartsville, Chairman; Mrs. H. W. Long, Darlington; Mrs. Sidney Griffin, Lamar; Mrs. W. Reaves McCall, Hartsville; Mrs. T. M. Champion, Darlington; Mrs. F. W. Pitts, Lydia; and Mrs. R. Dent King, Society Hill. (S. C. Library Board's NEWS for South Carolina Libraries, February, 1969)

FLORENCE COUNTY LIBRARY has been designated an Area Reference Resource Center by the S. C. State Library Board.

The FLORENCE COUNTY LIBRARY voted to retain the services of J. Russell Bailey, Orange, Va., as a building consultant, when considering the need for expansion. June 3-5, 1969 Mr. Bailey visited Florence, and recommended remodeling and expanding the present building.

At the annual meeting of the FORT MILL Chamber of Commerce, Robert E. Swanson, president, announced that the Chamber was contributing $2,000.00 to start a campaign for a library building in FORT MILL. The FORT MILL Library Board presented a check for $1,000.00 and the Duke Power Company contributed $2,000.00. The Elliott White Springs Foundation pledged to match dollar for dollar up to $50,000.00 all funds collected by March 31,
1970. Mr. Swanson announced the formation of Libraries, Inc., which will solicit funds for the building. The FORT MILL LIBRARY, a Branch of the York County Library, is now operating from quarters which the local board rents. Fourth grade pupils of Mrs. Joan Stevenson, Carothers Elementary School, arranged for an auction to raise funds. Coach Frank McGuire and the University of South Carolina basketball players sent book, photos, decals and autographs. Principal J. K. Shannon was the auctioneer for the event, which netted $39.09. The children contributed to make an even $40.00. The second grade pupils presented a check for $10.00 to the building funds—the award for having the highest percentage of parents at PTA meetings.

January 9. February 28, 1970 FURMAN UNIVERSITY will conduct an Institute for Training in Librarianship on a part-time basis. Jane E. Wright will direct the Institute, which will stress “Independent Study and the School Library.”

GREENVILLE COUNTY LIBRARY has been designated an Area Reference Resource Center by the S. C. State Library Board.

A directory of over 100 interpreters and translators of 20 foreign languages in the Greenville area is now available at the GREENVILLE COUNTY LIBRARY. This file, The International File, was prepared by Mrs. Meta Jones, Librarian at the Phillips Fiber Corporation, will keep it up to date. The growth of international business interests in Greenville indicated the need for such a file. It will be especially useful when the International Textile show meets in Greenville in October. May 22, 1969, the library had a first in library service when it began the circulation of sculpture replicas from the past and the present.

“To the GREENWOOD COUNTY LIBRARY, Greenwood, South Carolina, the sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, the said sum to be used to buy books for the said library which teach humanitarianism, character building, and which teach truth, justice and peace.” The above provision is from the will of John Gus Saris, native of Greece, who died August 2, 1968.

Public Library Service to the Disadvantaged, proceedings of an institute sponsored by the Emory University Division of Librarianship is available for $3.75 from the University Bookstore, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., 30322.

Persons interested in the Position of Senior Editor, Manuscript Procurement, of the ALA Publishing Services, may write to Miss Pauline Ciancioi, Executive Editor, ALA, 50 East Huron St., Chicago, Ill., 60611.

BEAUFORT COUNTY LIBRARY OPENS BRANCH ON HILTON HEAD

On February 14 the Hilton Head Island Branch of the Beaufort County Library was dedicated and opened to the public.

Wallace Linton, Chairman of the Library Committee of the Hilton Head Civic Association, presided. He called on Rivers Varn, Chairman of the Beaufort County Library Branch, Beaufort County Senator Waddell and Nancy Blair, who represented the State Library Board, for brief remarks. He also introduced the members of the committee, Mrs. James E. Ragsdale, Jr. Beaufort County Librarian and Mrs. William H. Patterson who will be in charge of the branch.

The branch is a result of the efforts of a committee appointed by the Hilton Head Civic Association to investigate the possibility of a branch library for the island. This committee, under the chairmanship of Wallace Linton, decided that due to the fact that the development of population centers was not established, it would be feasible to purchase an extendable trailer to be located on a temporary site.

A campaign for local funds supplied $14,000 for this undertaking and the Beaufort County Legislative Delegation agreed to increase the appropriation of the Beaufort County Library to provide funds for the operation of the branch.

The 24 x 50 trailer was mounted on a foundation at a spot strategically located to serve both ends of the island, shelving and furniture installed, and books added by Mrs. James E. Ragsdale, Beaufort County Librarian.

If future developments indicate that another location would serve more people, the library can be moved to that location.

July 11, 1969, the HORRY COUNTY MEMORIAL LIBRARY began an eight-week experimental program to introduce books to children in areas where there is little use of library facilities. It is designed to explore ways to bring people and books together. Mrs. Marjorie Tuberville, of the Extension Department of the Library, visited the Smith-Jones Park and by means of a new audio-visual machine, the Dukane, introduced about 25 pre-school youngsters to books and pictures. While children are the prime objectives, the program aims to reach all economic and age groups which are now not taking advantage of the library’s increased facilities.

Mrs. Clyde ROWNTREE, of JOHNSONVILLE, reports that the efforts of her committee to obtain a branch library building are producing tangible results: a 24' x 20' building with birch paneling, fluorescent lights and venetian blinds was donated by Wellman Industries; the building was moved free of charge by A. W. Coker of Kingstree; R. P. Powell installed a septic tank; $50.00 worth of lumber was donated by O. C. Huggins and $150.00 for a charging desk and chair came as a grant from the S. C. Federation of Women’s Clubs Progress Foundation. William Donahoe, carpentry teacher at Johnsonville High School, is building the shelves. Public subscription netted $1,094.50, of which $500.00 was expended for the site. The JOHNSTONVILLE LIBRARY will be a Branch of the Florence County Library. Mrs. Marguerite G. Thompson, Florence County Librarian, has assisted in all phases of the planning. Mrs. Rowntree is a Trustee of the Florence County Library. The new building was occupied in July, 1969.

The new Era Book Club of Lancaster presented a check for $100.00 to the LANCASTER COUNTY LIBRARY. The club was awarded this amount from the Progress Foundation of the South Carolina Federation of Women’s Clubs.

February 3, 1969 ground was broken for the LANDDRUM Branch of the Spartanburg County Library and construction begun. Participating in the ground-breaking ceremonies were Mrs. John Davis Smith, Chairman, and Wyndham Clark, Treasurer of the County Library; Mrs. CHARLES J. STOVER, President of the Landrum Civic League; Mrs. Frank Brown and Miss Mays Earle of the Library Committee of the Civic League. The total cost of this Branch will be $94,238.00, of which $50,000.00 is an LSCA grant. J. Thomas Hollis, Spartanburg, is the architect, and McCluney Construction of Gaffney received the contract for the construction.

A $19,082 Gerstenslager Bookmobile began operating in LEXINGTON COUNTY June 30, 1969. Air-conditioned and with wall-to-wall carpeting, spacious and well-lighted, it has a capacity of 2,500-3,000 books. It replaced a vehicle with 240,183 mileage which the LEXINGTON COUNTY LIBRARY had operated since 1955.

Miss DESMOND KOSTER, Health Affairs Librarian, MEDICAL UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA, Charleston, writes: “We have added a number of professionals to the staff as well as many more non-professionals. We now have three libraries: the Health Affairs, which is the largest and the main one; the Nursing Library, which is necessary for the baccalaureate program of the School of Nursing; and the Dental Library, which is on the Porter Campus in the Dental School. We hope to move into our new building next summer and all the libraries will be combined. We are looking forward to that day. The shell of the building is up.” August 8, 1969)

The North Augusta Lions Club has donated $1,500.00 to the NANCY CARSON LIBRARY (ABBE Regional) for heating and air conditioning the Children’s Room. Proceeds from the Lions annual Horse Show made this contribution possible. $500.00 was donated in 1967 and $1,000.00 in 1968. The library will share in the 1969 event.

A municipal reference library designed to make available pertinent information on the operation of the CITY OF NEWBERRY has been started at the NEWBERRY-SALUDA Regional Library.

A bust of Shakespeare has been presented to the ORANGEBURG COUNTY LIBRARY in memory of Mrs. Carson Evans, who served 35 years on the Library Board of Commissioners. Four volumes of Newsweek’s Great Museums of the World were also given in her memory.

The PICKENS COMMUNITY COUNCIL has voted to work closely with the Friends of the Library in their efforts to obtain a new library building. A library liaison committee headed by Richard Hallam has been appointed.

The South Carolina Arts Commission has approved the application of the PICKENS COUNTY LIBRARY for a grant to initiate a circulating art collection. The grant is for $1,125.00, which will be matched by the library. With BCIP funds, the library has purchased 65 large-print books. March 1, 1969, Margaret Mahon, retired Director of Children Services, Greenville County Library, conducted a workshop on Storytelling at Easley, sponsored by the PICKENS COUNTY LIBRARY, Mary Aiken, Librarian. Friends of the PICKENS Branch of the PICKENS COUNTY LIBRARY have employed Harold Townes, Greenville architect, to draw up plans for a library building. A lot, made available at some $10,000.00 less than its appraised value by Vernon Cox, a former Pickens resident, will be the site of the library. A 2,800 sq. ft. building will cost approximately $60,000.00. Ernest W. Cooler, Building Committee Chairman, hopes that the city will contribute funds toward completion of the project. The Friends are exploring other sources of funds.

The PIEDMONT SPECIAL LIBRARIES ASSOCIATION met February 12, 1969 in the Greenville County Library; Jack Pitzer and Thomas Lawrence were hosts. Gil Fairbanks of Furman University prepared a Constitution and By-Laws, which was adopted by the group. Meta Jones is President; Jack Pitzer President-Elect; and Carol Osborn Secretary-Treasurer. May 16, 1969 the group met at Cryovac, Duncan, S. C., with Meg Ezell as hostess; Mildred Hume of the S. C. State Library Board, and formerly special librarian for the Ford Motor Co., was the speaker. Mrs. Meta Jones is urging members to join SCLA.

James H. Thomason announced March 27, 1969, that he was adding $500,000.00 to the $250,000.00 he had previously contributed toward the construction of a new library at PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE. He is a Laurens County native, a businessman-farmer in Stuart, Fla., and plans to return to South Carolina.

The St. Andrews Woman’s Club received $100.00 from the Progress Foundation of the South Carolina Federation of Women’s Clubs and presented it to the ST. ANDREWS Branch of the Richland County Library for the purchase of a record cabinet.
The Sumter County Library, which provides Bookmobile service to Clarendon County under the State Library Board’s Small Libraries Project, has added SAR DINIA to the schedule. Stops are also made at Paxville, Turbeville, Summerton and Manning.

The Miller F. Whittaker Library, SOUTH CAROLINA STATE COLLEGE, Orangeburg, S. C. was formally dedicated on April 20, 1969 at 3:00 p.m. with State College President M. Maccio Nance, Jr. presiding. The library was named for Miller Fulton Whittaker, a native of Sumter, S. C. who served as Professor of Physics and Head of the Division of Mechanic Arts, 1913-1932. He was elected President of State College in 1932 and served in that capacity until his death in 1949. The 41,247 sq. ft. building has a book capacity of 168,000 volumes. Carrels constitute 70% of the seating. Study rooms provide for both individual and group study. Listening booths or learning carrels house tape decks and turntables with plans for video services being transmitted into the Library from ETV, classrooms, laboratories and national networks. Faculty Study Area, conference, seminar and typing rooms are other accommodating facilities. Informal seating areas are interspersed throughout the building. A clock tower emerging from a reflection pool at the entrance is a unique architectural feature. Barbara J. Williams, the head librarian, had Guy R. Lyle, Director, Emory University Libraries, as a consultant in the preliminary planning. Architectural firm was Lyles, Bissett, Carlisle and Wolff of Columbia, S. C.

July 14, 1969 Governor Robert E. McNair signed the bill changing the name of the South Carolina Public Library Association South Carolina State Library Board) to the SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY. The new name will not be used until the move to the new State Library Building at 1500 Senate Street.

Ann G. Moore has donated 18 scrapbooks, which she compiled over twenty years on the British royal family, to the SUMTER COUNTY LIBRARY.

The UNION Rotary Club has contributed $250.00 to the UNION COUNTY LIBRARY for the purchase of books. The Club has adopted a birthday-in-reverse project: on his birthday each Rotarian will give a book to the library from the list of acceptable books distributed to members.

The report of THE UNIVERSITY SOUTH CAROLINIANA SOCIETY'S Thirty-Third Annual Meeting April 23, 1969 is very interesting, as usual. Gifts to the Society were numerous during the period covered by the report and include the William Tennent III Album, 1758-1777; the William Tennent III Journal, 1775; the Edward Smith Tennent I Papers, 1748, 1763 and 1842-1915; the William Tennent (1837-1893) Manuscripts, 1853-1867; the John Peyre Thomas Papers, 1857-1966; the William Johnston Papers, 1796-1837, 1864 and 1882; the Coit-McLean Family Papers, 1817-1888; the Charles Family Papers, 1821-1901; the Samuel McGowan Papers, 1803, and 1845-1904; and numerous manuscripts, letters, books, pamphlets and newspapers.

May 12, 1969, the contractor turned over the new $2,000,000.00 library to WINTHROP COLLEGE. The building is named for IDA JANE DACUS, WINTHROP's first trained librarian. She served from 1902 until her retirement in 1945. She died in 1964. Dr. H. JOANNE HARRAR is the present Librarian who will send us a "full report" for the March, 1970 issue of The South Carolina Librarian). The new building replaces a 1905 Carnegie building, which was enlarged in 1929.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S CARNEGIE LIBRARIES

During the past months, we have spotlighted the many new or renovated public library buildings in South Carolina. This month we call attention to the first era of significant public library construction—the time of Andrew Carnegie's library philanthropy.

When tycoon Andrew Carnegie's cup was running over more than half a century ago, it spilled over $40 million into a pet philanthropy that built 1,679 public library buildings in 1,412 communities across the nation.

South Carolina received fourteen of them and eight are still in use. The others have been replaced by larger and more modern library buildings.

Carnegie's grants for library buildings began in 1886 and were continued by the Carnegie Corporation after his death in 1919. All business pertaining to the donation of libraries was carried on through the mails. Letters with all kinds of demands poured in from every part of the nation, but most communities, after close interrogation, did receive funds.

However, Carnegie did not wish to contribute to state libraries or state historical society libraries, nor did he generally favor buildings for proprietary or subscription libraries. He reluctantly gave $5,000 to the Charleston Library Society. He claimed that it's books should not be reserved for persons already enlightened.

The Carnegie libraries were built in South Carolina between 1905 and 1920 with two contingencies to the philanthropic grants. Each community receiving one had to provide a suitable site for the building and had to pledge an amount equal to 10 percent of the grant annually for maintenance.

Grant recipients besides Charleston were Anderson, Beaufort, Camden, Darlington, Gaffney, Greenwood, Honea Path, Kingstree, Latta, Marion, Spartanburg, Sumter and Union.

Research by the South Carolina State Library Board attributes much of the early progress of the public library program to the Carnegie-built facilities.

The first Carnegie library in the state was built in 1905 at Union with a $10,000 grant. Completely renovated and in good repair, it is still adequate to house the county library program.

Also completed in 1905 with an $18,500 grant was the Carnegie library at Anderson. It later became headquarters of the county system. Completely renovated and in good repair, it will, however, be replaced within the next three years by a modern $500,000 building. The new construction as with others is to be partially financed through grants authorized by the Library Services and Construction Act of 1966.

Similar funds helped replace the Carnegie library at Sumter with a modern structure built in 1968 at a cost of $367,343. The Carnegie facility, opened in 1917, had cost $10,000.

Darlington's $10,000 Carnegie library, opened in 1920, is headquarters of a county system and will be replaced by a modern building during the next three or four years.

Consolidation into a countywide system of Darlington's library services not only make federal funds for a new building possible, but make the county system eligible for various other federal grant funds.

For twenty years, the renovated $7,500 Carnegie library at Gaffney, built in 1914, has been center of the Cherokee County system. It will be replaced within the next two years with a modern new building directly across the street.

Greenwood's $12,500 Carnegie library, built in 1917, was replaced in 1958 and the present facility, headquarters for the Abbeville-Greenwood Regional Library, is expected to be enlarged extensively within the next two years.

About four years ago, a modern library building, erected directly across the street, replaced the old Carnegie facility at Beaufort, built in 1916 with a $7,500 grant.

The $6,000 Carnegie library built in 1915 at Camden still serves, renovated and enlarged, as a city facility.

Completely renovated, the Carnegie library, which originally cost $5,000 in 1907 at Hornea Path, still is in service, now a branch of the Anderson County system.

At Kingstree, a renovated Carnegie library serves as headquarters for the Williamsburg County Library. The Kingstree library was opened in 1917, although Carnegie gave $200 for land purchased as early as 1884.

For thirty years, the Latta library, built with $5,000 from Carnegie in 1914, has been headquarters of the Dillon County system. It has been renovated and enlarged.

Fire in 1928 destroyed the original Carnegie library at Marion. Carnegie gave $7,500 for it in 1905. A lot had been bought for $2,700 by a library committee and public subscription had raised another $1,500. Today, a replacement of that building serves as the city library.

The Kennedy Library of Spartanburg moved into a $15,000 Carnegie building in 1905. In 1961, that facility was replaced by a new 40,000 square-foot center for the county system.

Carnegie libraries, a product of private resources, have served well for half a century, but population and knowledge growth have created the need for bigger and better facilities and services. Now with mostly public funds, South Carolina goes forward with seven new or renovated buildings with six more under construction. These new facilities will greatly raise the quality level of library service in the state.

SERVICE TO STATE INSTITUTIONS

Library service at South Carolina's state institutions is a new area of responsibility for the South Carolina State Library Board, but it's an area in which much is being accomplished.

Under the Library Services and Construction Act, Title IV, Part A, the State Library Board was authorized to administer a program for the establishment and improvement of library service in state institutions. This is the second year of the program. In the first year four institutions met criteria and received grants of $5,000 each to purchase books, periodicals. Many of these were purchased for land purchased as early as 1884.

Institutions which qualified for Book Collection Improvement Grants are: the South Carolina State Hospital in Columbia; the Central Correctional Institution in Columbia; the South Carolina School for the Deaf and the Blind in Spartanburg; and the Crafts-Farrow State Hospital in Columbia. In all, a total of $20,000 was allocated during the last fiscal year for better institutional library service.

The Horger Library at the S. C. State Hospital now houses over 8,000 volumes. Many of these were purchased with federal funds. In addition, the Library receives 56 different periodicals. Check-out systems are the same as in public libraries; however, the library staff personally distributes to closed wards and to residents who are not able to come to the library. Mrs. Sarah S. Harris is the head librarian at the hospital.

Book Collection Improvement Grants provide only for updating book collections. Construction of library facilities at the Central Correctional Institution have been somewhat a "do-it-yourself" project by the inmates. Now, the Library houses over 1,000 volumes and has four rooms.
Richland County Public Library has also contributed to the program by donating a bookmobile to the State Correctional Institution. It will serve five other correctional institutions in the Columbia area—Central, Wateree, Manning, Walden, and Harbison Institution for Women. Emilio A. Cosio is supervisor of library services for the Department of Corrections.

In Spartanburg, the South Carolina School for the Deaf and the Blind have special areas where funds played an important role. A great many large print books for people who have impaired vision were purchased. Remaining funds were used to update the collection for the deaf. The School maintains separate libraries for the blind and deaf students and together they have over 8,000 volumes. Mrs. Gabriel Rouquie serves as librarian at the School.

At the Craftsf-Farrow State Hospital the grant was used to add to the collection of large print books for the elderly. Often, these people are not able to read standard size print. Numerous additions were made to the fiction collection. Mrs. Berthea Flemming is librarian at Craftsf-Farrow.

This year three more institutions qualified for assistance under this program. The S. C. Retarded Children's Habilitation Center, Summerville, and the S. C. Sanitorium, State Park, as well as the institutions which participated last year received grants for the purchase of books. The S. C. Crippled Childrens Home, Florence is receiving library service under provisions of a contract between the Florence County Library, the Home, and the State Library Board. Mrs. Nell T. Van Hook, formerly of the Florence County Library staff has been employed on a part time basis to direct the service. She visits the Home every two weeks to conduct story hours as well as circulate books. Between her visits books are available for the children to check out themselves.

CLEMSON UNIVERSITY

'Super Sleuth'

Computer Finds Delinquent Borrowers

CLEMSON—A man-made "super sleuth" is helping Clemson University librarians track down overdue books.

The ace detective is a computer which will help ferret out delinquent borrowers and put them on written notice with a speed and accuracy that would dazzle Sherlock Holmes himself.

Each day, the computer scans its records on the thousands of books in circulation, spots those which are overdue, and produces neat, printed notices ready for mailing within hours after books become overdue.

Computerized record-keeping at Clemson's R. M. Cooper Library replaces a manual, two-card method of lending books which had been used for 50 years.

Robert L. Wiggins of the University Computer Center planned and developed the automated system for Clemson's library.

"To my knowledge, Clemson is the only library in South Carolina with such a system already in operation," says Wiggins, a systems analyst. "We made a pretty big jump."

Library director J. W. Gordon Gourlay says the new system represents thinking which began about five years ago. "We saw the need then for a better method that could handle the increased circulation expected in the future," says the library director.

"If we had a dozen libraries on campus, all of them could be connected to the automated operation," notes Gourlay.

Besides looking after overdue books, the same computer has also simplified the process of borrowing books. It now takes about five seconds to check-out a book as compared with two minutes or longer under the former manual operation.

Computerized record-keeping has eliminated time-consuming and monotonous chores for both borrower and librarian. Since the borrower is not required to fill out any cards or even sign for books, there are no records to be filed.

"Students are getting faster, more efficient service," says Wiggins. "This is the main thing we are after."

A laminated identification card issued to Clemson students and employees serves as a library card. It is inserted into a data collection unit at the library's front desk along with the book's computer data card.

The transaction is instantly recorded on another data card which will be fed into the computer after the library closes to obtain a printed record of the day's business.

This daily circulation report lists every book currently in circulation, shows when it was borrowed, when it was due, and who has the book. The report also tells the number of overdue notices which have been mailed, if any, and the number of days which the book is overdue.

"We have only scratched the surface so far as to what we can do with this system," says Wiggins.

S. C. COUNCIL FOR THE COMMON GOOD ACTS ON REDUCTION OF LSCA FUNDS

WHEREAS, The South Carolina Council for the Common Good has actively supported and promoted improvement of public library facilities and services in South Carolina since its organization, and

WHEREAS, Members have been informed that President Nixon’s budget request proposes a reduction of Title I (services) of the LSCA of more than 50% and the elimination of Title II (construction), and

WHEREAS, The Council feels that such a cut would be tragic and would be false economy because the educational benefit derived from adequate libraries far outweighs the monetary cost, be it therefore

RESOLVED, That the Council for the Common Good goes on record as urging that these vital funds be retained, and as urging that all member organizations and individual members wire or write their U. S. Representatives and Senators asking that they exert every effort to prevent any cuts in Title I and Title II, and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be sent to Senators Thurmond and Hollings and all six U. S. Representatives.

Thirteen South Carolina organizations having statewide membership, predominately women, are members of The South Carolina Council for the Common Good. Each organization is represented on the Council by its president, its president-elect or first vice president, its legislative chairman and one member at large. Approximately 300,000 persons are members of the thirteen organizations that make up the Council.

The standing committees of the Council study social, educational, economic, and governmental conditions for action, usually leading to effort to secure legislation to meet the needs that the study has disclosed.

The Council believes that “action without study is futile and that study without action is fatal” and endeavors to get bills introduced in the General Assembly to meet the most urgent state needs and to support bills in the United States Congress of interest to it. ACRL GRANTS TO S. C. COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Five South Carolina Colleges and Universities were included in the 76 grants of funds and equipment made by the Grants Committee of the Association of College and Research Libraries, a division of the American Library Association. Grants of funds were made to Converse, Lander and Presbyterian Colleges. Special grants of funds went to Allen and Claflin Universities.

The total income of the grants program 1968-69 was $63,550 with the United States Steel Foundation, Inc., again providing the major support.

The major portion of the funds were allocated for the purchase of books and periodicals to support the improvement of library collections, with special consideration being given to projects which are conceived as units within the library program and which may be considered beyond the means of the normal library budget.

Mrs. Edith C. Holmes, Librarian, reports that Allen University’s grant was $1000.00 to up-grade and strengthen the holdings of its Reference Department. In addition to this special grant, the committee extended its use of a consultant to assist the college in the preparation of the grant application and also to advise on the library program in general.

EVALENE PARSONS JACKSON LECTURES

Evalene P. Jackson will retire from Emory University’s Division of Librarianship in August. To honor the years of service she has rendered the Division, an alumni committee has endorsed the idea of establishing the Evalene P. Jackson Lectureship. The lectures will be offered annually on the Emory campus and presented by an outstanding authority speaking on a controversial issue and/or relating to one of the many fields in which Miss Jackson is particularly interested, such as psychology, philosophy, literature, or sociology.

Alumni and friends of Miss Jackson are invited to join in making the lectures a reality. Contributions may be mailed to the Division of Librarianship, Emory University, 1364 Clifton Road, N. E., Atlanta, Georgia 30322. Checks should be made payable to Emory University and noted for the Evalene Parsons Jackson Lectures.

FIRST EDITION CONSTITUTION AUCTIONED FOR $155,000

NEW YORK (UPI)—A first printing of the U. S. Constitution, annotated by one of its signers, sold at auction Tuesday in only two minutes for $155,000—the highest price ever paid for a historic U. S. document.

The winning bid for the Constitution and several pages of notes written by signer Pierce Butler of South Carolina, was put in at the Parke-Bernet Auction Galleries by rare-book dealer Hans Kraus of New York. It was more than five times the galleries' $30,000 estimate of the value of the papers.

Kraus outbid Louis Feldman, another New York dealer, who offered $150,000. The sale took only two minutes.

The document, which once belonged to Butler, was one of eight copies of the Constitution known to exist. The South Carolinian had jotted various notes in the margin, and another 40 pages of his notes were included in the sale.

"It's a tremendous purchase," Kraus said. "Such a thing has never come up at a public sale before and never will again. All the other copies are in the Library of Congress and public institutions."

The document Kraus bought was part of an edition printed in Philadelphia during the constitutional convention of 1787. Copies were distributed to the delegates while the committee on style was at work on the final version which was ratified.

Butlers' marginal notes included a comment on a fugitive-slave law which he had written, a draft copy of which was included in the manuscript notes.

SLB PERSONNEL PROJECTS

Intern Program

As in the past eleven years, the State Library Board in cooperation with 15 county and regional libraries and one institutional library will sponsor the summer intern program. Twenty-one college students will have the opportunity to learn about librarianship while earning. The project is designed for young people who have not yet made a commitment to a future career.

The sponsoring libraries and their interns are: Abbeville-Greenwood Regional Library—Joyce A. Hannah, Winthrop College; Anderson County Library — Ellen E. Moore, Winthrop College; Beaufort County Library—Francoise M. Hipp, University of South Carolina; Colleton County Memorial Library—Carolyn T. Howell, Columbia College; Florence County Library—Laura Jane Lewis, Winthrop College; Greenville County Library—Sydney M. Timmons, Salem College (N. C.) and Henry Donald Sellers, Furman University; Horry County Memorial Library—Nellie E. Elam, Maryville College (Tenn.); Laurens County Library — Lidie D. Owings, Columbia College; Lexington County Circulating Library—Jan M. Fulcher, Furman University and Susan E. Husman, University of South Carolina; Oconee County Library—Sandra Diane Franks, Erskine College; Pickens County Library — Nancy F. Simmons, Clemson University and Joyce E. Bowen, Johnson C. Smith University (N. C.); Richland County Public Library—Carolyn Beth Gobble, Winthrop College and Kathryn L. Koon, Newberry College; Spartanburg County Public Library—Judith E. Abner, Limestone College and Wanda D. Ragan, Appalachian State University (N. C.); Sumter County Library—Judith L. Schweitzer, University of South Carolina; York County Library—Mrs. Judith M. Neelands, Winthrop College; Horger Library, S. C. State Hospital—Virginia B. Wolfe, Duke University (N. C.).

SOUTH CAROLINA HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The following students were elected officers of this association March 29, 1969, at Olympia High School:
President: Betty Jeanne Barrett, A. C. Flora High School, Columbia.
Vice-President: Virgie Shumpert, Pelion School, Pelion.
Secretary: Judith Williams, J. L. Mann High School, Greenville.
Treasurer: Barbara Dunn, Bishop England High School, Charleston.
Reporter: Barbara Handback, Clinton School, Clinton.

Churches, schools, libraries and public institutions may request a set of 12 different Bible pages from Stanley S. Slotkin, 2260 Cahuenga Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif., 90028, IF THEY WILL DISPLAY THEM. Individuals may order the set for $3.00. The sets are mounted—each page on a reproduction of the title page. Mr. Slotkin estimates that he will give away some $3 to $4 million worth of old Bibles. As of March 21, 1969, when an article on his generosity appeared in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette he had worked his way through about 1,500 of his 200,000 Bibles. All date before 1800. He states: "I donate 12 mounted pages to any church, hospital or organization that will display them." (Editor's Note: seems worth a try!)

PALMETTO CENTER RECEIVES BOOKS

Under Title IV-A of the Library Services and Construction Act the State Library Board is authorized to administer a program for the establishment and improvement of library services in state institutions. On July 9 the Palmetto Center for the Rehabilitation of Alcoholics in Florence was added to the institutions benefitting from the program. Marie-Therese Boyer, SLB staff member who is directing the program, delivered 629 paperback books to the Center. These books were carefully selected to meet the reading needs and interests of the patients. This is an experiment to determine the role books can play in the rehabilitation of alcoholics. The books are on specially constructed mobile shelves, which at present are located in the lounge and an all-purpose room to make the books easily accessible.

Other South Carolina State institutions participating in the program are: State Hospital, Columbia; Central Correctional Institution, Columbia; School for the Deaf and Blind, Spartanburg; Crafts-Farrow State Hospital, Columbia; the Retarded Children’s Habilitation Center, Summerville; the South Carolina Sanitorium, State Park and the Crippled Children’s Home, Florence.

SOUTH CAROLINA ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL LIBRARIANS

Officers elected March 21, 1969 for 1969-70 include:

President: Mrs. Esther Glymph, Library Supervisor, Cherokee County Schools, Gaffney.
Vice-President: Mrs. Mary Clark, Librarian, Camden High School, Camden.
Recording Secretary: Miss Mary Frances Griffin, Library Supervisor, State Department of Education, Columbia.
Treasurer: Miss Helen Brown, Librarian, McCormick High School, McCormick.
AASL Representative: Mrs. Betty Foran, Library Supervisor, Richland District #1 Schools, Columbia.

BEQUEST TO STATE LIBRARY BOARD

In her will Mary E. Frayser provided funds to the State Library Board to be used at the discretion of the Director and the Board Members. The sum, $1,638, will probably be used as a nucleus for a scholarship fund for graduate training.

Miss Frayser who for almost 50 years gave her unflagging interest and support to the development of library service in the state, died January 9, 1968. She was an active member of the State Library Board from its organization in 1929 until 1950 when she was made an honorary life member by Governor Thurmond. She served as president of the Board from 1941 to 1950.

(S. C. State Library Board’s NEW for South Carolina Libraries, August, 1969)

Since the October, 1968 issue of The South Carolina Librarian ALA has accredited the School of Library and Information Science of the University of Western Ontario, London, Ontario; the School of Library and Informational Science, University of Missouri, Columbia; L’Ecole de Bibliothéconomie, University of Montreal, Montreal, Quebec; and the Department of Librarianship, San Jose State College, San Jose, California. This brings the number of library schools offering programs accredited by ALA to 48, the highest number yet recorded under the Revised Standards of 1951.
