S. C. SUPREME COURT DECIDES FOR HOLLINGSWORTH; IMPACT OF DECISION STILL UNCLEAR

South Carolina public libraries lost an important round in their battle for public support on May 18, when the South Carolina Supreme Court decided against a number of Greenville County agencies, including the county library, in the so-called Hollingsworth case. The center of the controversy involving the library was whether the library, while recognized as an educational institution, could be considered in the same category as public schools. The Supreme Court, in its decision, has declared, in effect, that "libraries are not schools."

The Hollingsworth firm had sought to recover property taxes paid under protest for the tax years 1977 and 1978. Hollingsworth had asserted that it was exempt from these taxes in 1977 because of the manufacturer's exemption set forth by the S. C. Code, which provides that "All additions to existing manufacturing establishments located in any of the counties named in this section shall be exempt from all county taxes, except for school purposes...." The 1978 exemption is set forth in Article X of the S. C. Constitution, which states, "...the exemptions authorized in this item for manufacturing establishments, and additions thereto shall not include exemptions from school taxes or municipal taxes, but shall include only county taxes." The Court declared that the language of a tax exemption must be given its plain, ordinary meaning, and must be strictly construed against the claimed exemption.

The Court's decision states, "We have reviewed the record, finding facts in accord with our view of the preponderance of the evidence, and conclude the taxes for the library and museum are not taxes for a school purpose nor school taxes. The library and museum satisfy recreational and social needs as well as educational needs. However, they are not schools and they do not serve a school purpose. We hold in order to qualify for an exemption as a school purpose or tax, the entity for which the tax is levied must be predominantly concerned with schooling. The emphasis on schooling is not present here."

In a memorandum set to all South Carolina public library directors, on May 29, State Librarian Betty Callaham stated, "The State Library is attempting to assess the immediate and long-range impact of this decision on library funding in South Carolina. We need information from the county libraries about any impoundment of taxes or reduction of funding resulting from the Hollingsworth case. The decision applies directly to libraries funded by a designated millage, but county officials may interpret it as affecting general tax collections."
Meanwhile, Greenville County Library has set about trying to minimize the impact of the Court's decision within its service area. The decision immediately affects some $500,000 worth of library funds. GPL Director Anthony Messineo immediately began a "media blitz" to publicize the library's plight, appearing on almost every radio and TV talk show in the city, and a full-page story on the situation appeared in a Sunday edition of the Greenville newspaper. GPL is hoping to counter most of the effects of the Court's decision by asking for a 1-mill increase in local taxes. Said Messineo, "The millage increase will alleviate the pain, but not completely." However, the Greenville Council is not inclined to raise taxes. According to Messineo, "They said they sympathized with our position, but would not go along with an increase in millage." The media effort, though, seemed to be having some effect, as it points out the effects on homework and other school assignments, as well as the effects on local businesses. Said Messineo, "Council seems to be reevaluating its position."

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR NETWORK STUDY

The South Carolina State Library has selected Metrics Research Corporation of Atlanta to conduct a feasibility study for a statewide library network. Requests for proposal for a networking feasibility study were issued in January. The Task Force on Library Automation and Networking met on April 24 to review bid proposals, leading to the decision to contract with Metrics. The proposal has been approved by the State Computer Services Management Division, and the State Library expects to sign a contract in late May. The study should begin in June and be completed within four months.

The network study is the first step in a planning and development process anticipated to continue for several years. The purpose is "to study the feasibility of establishing and operating a statewide library network for South Carolina by identifying the potential functions of such a network, the products and services to be derived from it, and the probable cost of alternative network approaches." The consulting firm will undertake to identify automation functions which should be carried out at the state level and those which are best managed at the local library level. It will identify ways in which public, academic, school, and special libraries can benefit from network participation and suggest means by which small libraries as well as large ones can share in network services.

The Metrics team will be headed by Dr. Robert M. Mason, President of MRC, whose background in industrial and systems engineering has been directed in recent years toward the economics of information services and systems. The project coordinator is Miss Hohnnie Givens, formerly librarian at the Austin Peay State University and Executive Director of the Southeastern Library Association. The principal consultant will be Dr. James E. Rush, formerly director of planning and research for OCLC, Inc. The consultant reviewers for the study include Mr. William C. Roselle, Director of the Library, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee; Joseph F. Shubert, State Librarian, New York State Education Department; and Dr. John R. Stevenson, former Chairman of the Richland County Public Library Board. The Metrics team most recently completed a network feasibility study for the State of Missouri. Dr. Rush also conducted the network study for the State of Indiana. He is a member of the Network Advisory Committee of the Library of Congress and Chairman of the Special Interest Group on Library Automation and Networks of the American Society for Information Science. He has written extensively and done consultant work in many areas of information science.

The MRC team began work in South Carolina with a three-day orientation visit on June 3-5. The consultants conferred with State Library Staff, the State Library Board, the Task Force on Automation and Networking, and individual librarians representing the library community. Some fifty or sixty librarians from around the state were in attendance at the latter meeting. The team will return to South Carolina on June 21-22 for site visits in Greenville, Spartanburg, Greenwood, and Clemson. The team will make site visits to a number of South Carolina libraries in order to become aware of the diversity in size, services, and needs of libraries in the state. The members will examine potential sources of computer services within the state as well as services available from SOLINET and the Regional Support System.

After the completion of the feasibility study, the final report will be made public and will be the subject of numerous meetings with library groups over a period of several months. Metrics has been asked for a "phased plan"; that is, a step by step road map of task to be accomplished in preparation for the project and while enabling legislation is enacted.

LIBRARY ADMINISTRATION SECTION SEEKS CANDIDATES

Sue Husman reports that the Library Administration Section's Vice Chairman Elect, Carl Heffington of the Horry County Library System has moved to Georgia and has submitted his resignation to the Section. Election of a President for the 1982 year will be held at the N. C. Conference in October. Sue told N & V, "We appeal to our Section membership for names of people who would be willing to serve. Please let me know if you or someone you know who belongs to the Library Administration Section, would be willing to serve."

ABRIDGED MINUTES

SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Executive Board Meeting
May 8, 1981

The Executive Board of the South Carolina Library Association met in Room 218, College of Librarianship, University of South Carolina, on May 8, 1981, at 10:30 a.m. Those present were: William Summers, Gerda Belknap, Pat Scales, Donna Nance, Barbara Jenkins, Carol Duggan, Catherine Townsend (for Mattie Hemingway), Sarah Clarkson, Ann Burton, Susan Husman, Lea Walsh, Jane Mason, Ron Chepesiuk, Norman Belk, Larry Mitlin, John Sukovich, Tom Marcil, and Becky Holsinger.

Treasurer

Donna Nance distributed to the Board an amended report for March which indicated income to the Association of $3,497.39 rather than $5,111.39 that was reported at the last meeting. The May report showed income of $4,555.54 and expenditures of $5,604.16. Bill Summers reminded the Board that expenses will run ahead of income until membership dues and Convention receipts come in.
Any Section needing to make a request for money to send to NCLA at this time for Convention expenses should do so in writing since receipts are not available. This is necessary for the auditor. Also, Sections having joint meetings or workshops should inform her in writing if expenses are not to be divided equally.

1981 CONVENTION

Gerda Belknap reported that she attended a meeting of the Joint Conference Planning Committee in Charlotte on April 29. Most of the meeting revolved around planning and scheduling details for section programs.

Scheduling of programs has been a major problem of this Convention and will probably be so in the future because of the increased number of Sections and interest groups in the Association. Some streamlining may have to take place next year as far as programs are concerned. (Ed. note: Ms. Belknap has informed N & V that North Carolina Library Association will be sending a conference mailing later this Summer. Requests for rooms should be sent in as soon as possible—see the March/April issue of N & V for details and forms—but confirmation of rooms will not be sent out by the Charlotte Convention Bureau until September.)

SECTIONS AND ROUNDTABLES

College and University Library Section

Barbara Jenkins reported that the topic of the section's joint Convention meeting will be "faculty status for academic librarians." Richard Meyer from Clemson will be the speaker, followed by a panel of library educators from North and South Carolina.

Public Library Section

Carol Duggan reported that Peggy Sullivan, President of ALA, will be the Speaker for the Section's joint meeting at the Convention.

The NCLA Section has decided to participate in the "Swap 'n' Shop."

School Library Section

Kate Townsend, substituting for Mattie Hemingway, reported that Dr. Gerald Hodges from UNC-G will speak on management skills for school librarians (K-12) at the Convention. Visits to area schools are being planned.

Special Library Section

Sarah Clarkson reported that the survey of special libraries is receiving excellent response. If funds are available, the Section would like to publish a directory including profiles of each library.

The program for the Convention will include a talk by Martha Jane Zachart on special libraries in Britain and a bus trip to the Duke Power Nuclear Facility Library. Don Miles will meet again with the NCLA counterpart in June to finalize plans.

Two-Year College Library Section

Ann Burton reported that she and Nancy Rogan have been meeting with Charles Curran to plan a workshop for LTA's. The workshop, to be sponsored jointly by the Section and the College of Librarianship, is tentatively scheduled for early September. At this time, it is being limited to LTA's in the two-year colleges.

Library Administration Section

Sue Husman reported that Carl Heffington had resigned as Vice-Chairman of the Section since he had accepted a new position in Georgia. Nominations will be requested from the membership in the next newsletter.

Ruth Katz from the UNC Library School will speak on grant writing at the joint Convention meeting.

Public Services Section

Lea Walsh reported that the Convention program will be on "Time Management" because of the strong interest expressed by the NCLA Section officers.

The On-Line Users Interest Group will have a luncheon meeting on October 7.

Technical Services Section

Jane Mason reported that the subject for the Convention meeting will be "networking," and Joe Huiet from UNC-CH will talk about the Research Triangle Library Network.

A workshop dealing with authority files is tentatively being planned for the fall.

Government Documents Roundtable

Norman Belk reported that plans are complete for the joint workshop with the On­ Line Users Interest Group on May 15.

Stephen Patrick attended a workshop in Chapel Hill sponsored by the Virginia and North Carolina Documents groups. He taped a portion of the meeting dealing with re­sponsibilities of regional libraries, and a duplicate of the tape will be sent to Frances Ellison, Chairman of the Committee for the Study for a Regional Depository Library in South Carolina.

The spring issue of The Documents was published in April and contained many items of interest for the state's documents librarians.

Margaret Lane, Chairman of ALA GODORT'S State and Local Documents Task Force, will be the main speaker at the Convention meeting; a discussion on state documents by Mary Toll and Mitchell Reames will follow.

Archives and Special Collections Roundtable

Ron Chepesiuk reported that the workshop on "Organizing Local History Collections" at Winthrop College on May 30 will include sessions on topics such as oral history, conservation and security, exhibits, etc. It is hoped that the workshop will also attract members and financial resources.

A second issue of the newsletter will probably come out in the fall.
The Convention program will include speakers from the Smithsonian Institution, Winthrop College, and the South Carolina Department of Archives and History. There will be an exhibit of historical materials relating to SCLA.

Trustees Section

Norman Belk presented the report for Edwina Tripp which stated that work was progressing on the manual for trustees. It should be ready in time for the Convention.

The President-Elect of the American Library Trustee Association, Nancy Stiegemeyer, will be the main speaker at the Convention.

A meeting of the upper-state trustees this spring did not materialize, but those in the Pee Dee met on April 29.

OTHER REPORTS

ALA Councilor

Carol Duggan reported that she would attend the ALA Annual Conference in San Francisco, June 27-July 2. She also thanked the editors of The South Carolina Librarian and News and Views for running the ALA membership promotion ad.

Editor, SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARIAN

Larry Mitlin advised the Board that the deadline for the fall issue will be July 15 so as to insure publication before the Convention.

Planning Committee

Tom Marcil advised the Board to submit suggestions to the Planning Committee since they would be meeting soon. The feasibility of a membership survey will be discussed since it was proposed last year.

Publicity and Awards Committee

Becky Holsinger, reporting for Ilene Nelson, stated that the Committee is investigating the possibility of using the Grolier exhibit at the South Carolina State Fair again in 1981. The Committee only has funds enough to pay the exhibit fee of $200 and asked the Association to provide about $600 to underwrite the cost of promotional materials. Because of the present state of Association revenues at this time, the Board agreed that it might be unwise to encumber any further expenses. Bill Summers asked that Sections consider the possibility of providing contributions from their funds and said he would work with the Committee to find other sources.

In response to the notice placed in the March-April News and Views, three nominations had been received for the Friend of Libraries Award.

Plans are being made for a joint program at the Convention. There will be a panel discussion on "crisis public relations."
New Business

1982 CONVENTION SITE SELECTION

Bill Summers reported that the Myrtle Beach Hilton had expressed a desire to host the 1982 Convention and that they felt a November date might result in lower prices. He concluded, however, that, because of the expense involved in the Charlotte Convention, Myrtle Beach might not be the ideal site for the next year. He asked the Board's authorization to look further into having the Convention in Columbia instead. A MOTION to that effect was made by Gerda Belknap, seconded and carried.

Bill further suggested that a date early in October would be better since SELA was scheduled for early in November. A MOTION made by Sarah Clarkson and seconded by Jane Mason authorizing him to secure a place and date was carried.

COMMUNICATIONS TO THE ASSOCIATION

Bill Summers read a letter from the Peace Information Exchange Task Force of the Social Responsibilities Round Table of ALA requesting information concerning peace advocacy groups in the state. No action was taken.

He also read a letter from ALA asking that the Association assist in publicizing a policy statement regarding instruction in the use of libraries. Copies of the policy were given to the News and Views editor and sent to the Bibliographic Instruction Interest Group.

Communication was also received from the State Library advising the Board that the State Library would be participating in a trustee education project being promoted by the American Library Trustee Association. No action was taken.

NEW DUES PROPOSAL

Gerda Belknap distributed to the Board a compilation of other state library associations' dues structures in the Southeast, and she noted that most were based on salary levels. She felt that the Board needed to look at the present dues structure now rather than send it first to the Planning Committee so that any necessary action could be reviewed by the membership before the 1981 Convention.

Discussion revolved around the question of a graduated structure as opposed to a fixed charge. Comments also dealt with the level of service the Association should be providing. Sections seem to be doing well financially and are sometimes being asked to help the Association in its program. Some projects have been carried out because of the goodness of outside sources. Questions were raised concerning the effect on the total number of memberships if dues were increased.

A MOTION was made by Gerda Belknap that the Planning Committee be instructed to develop a new dues structure that would bring in at least $12,000 to the general fund in 1982; that the schedule be made available to the Board for a mail vote by July 15; and that it should be voted on by the general membership at the 1981 Convention. The discussion that followed indicated that most of the Board favored a fixed dues structure, although some consideration might be given to a reduced amount for those on low or no income and for trustees, as well as the possibility of larger amounts for individuals or organizations wishing to be "benefactors." The motion was seconded and carried. (Ed. Note: The question has been sent to the Planning Committee for further investigation.)

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 12:00 n.

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

The Graduate School of Library and Information Science at Simmons College received notification of three (3) HEA Title II-B Library Training Doctoral Fellowships (including tuition and stipend) from the U. S. Department of Education, Office of Libraries and Learning Technology.

The purpose of this grant is to encourage qualified minorities and women to pursue the Doctor of Arts degree in Library Administration. Candidates must be U. S. citizens and admitted to the Simmons D. A. program. The fellowship period may begin either in the fall semester, September 1981, or in the spring semester, January 1982. For further information, please contact the Fellowship Project Director, Robert Neville, a native of Greenwich, Connecticut, recently joined the College of Charleston Library's staff as Head Cataloger. Mr. Neville holds a B. A. from Dickinson College and received an M.A. and M.L.S. from the University of Maryland. He was formerly associated with the University of Connecticut at Stamford as a cataloger.

Joyce Crawford Wright, Administrative Librarian at Voorhees College has been appointed to The Academic Status Committee, Association of College and Research Libraries. The committee is charged to investigate all aspects of the status of academic librarians; to develop standards, guidelines, procedures, and programs for the attainment, retention and improvement of this status and to recommend appropriate action and/or policy on matters in academic libraries insofar as such matters affect the status of academic librarians.

Voorhees College Library has received from The Church Hymnal Corporation a complete set of The Prayer Book Studies Series. The series contains approximately five hundred volumes, and contains the developmental material of the Book of Common Prayer. The corporation has also given an award of $5,000 to the library to purchase new books. The Church Hymnal Corporation is a contributing affiliate of The Church Pension Fund of New York.

Ann Hardy Burton (Midlands TEC-Beltline Campus) is doing volunteer work at the Earle E. Morris, Jr. Alcohol and Drug Addiction Center in Columbia. Says Ms. Burton, "I'm trying to teach young adults how to cook." Ms. Burton reports, "The Center relies heavily on volunteers to assist in all phases of its operation, and one area in definite need of assistance at this time is their small library, especially cataloging and serials." Ms. Burton says that anyone interested in donating a little of their time can get in touch with Karen Connel at the Center (610 Faison Drive, Columbia, 29203; Telephone 758-4689.)

ABOUT THE LOGO: BACK TO THE DRAWING BOARD

We've had a number of people comment about the new mast (two or three, at least), and we want to express our thanks to Arie Koelewyn for his help and technical advice.
in cleaning up the appearance of N&V.

We have also had a number of questions about the new logo. We tried to include it in the mast, but Lou Whitmore called us a few days after we mailed our last issue to her with the bad news that the printer was unable to use the logo with the offset press that prints N&V. It seems that it just did not print well, and the only alternative was to go to a much more expensive printing process. In fact, as we recall, there was some difficulty in including the logo on SCLA's new stationery, as well. We'll keep trying, though, as the logo represents the Association, and it should be on our publications.

RETIRED RECENTLY -- RETIRING SOON?

The South Carolina Library Association awards HONORARY LIFE MEMBERSHIP to SCLA members who retire and who have maintained an active, paid membership in the Association for a period of ten (10) consecutive years prior to retirement.

If you personally are one, or know of someone, who has retired or will retire this year please notify either SCLA President Bill Summers or SCLA Executive Secretary Lou Whitmore (Lexington phone: 359-5375). This information will help in gathering names for the HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS who will be inducted this year. Lou Whitmore's mailing address is: Route 3, 160 Irwin Road, Lexington, SC 29072.
