SUMMARY REPORT - SCLA EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING - November 1, 1986

The first meeting of the 1986-87 Executive Board of the South Carolina Library Association (SCLA) was held on 11/1/86, with Barbara W. Jenkins, President-Elect, presiding. Thirty-five (35) members, comprised of the Chairpersons, Section Heads, and the newly elected officers, were in attendance.

All Chairpersons were advised to secure files of membership from former Chairs as soon as possible.

SUMMARY REPORT - SCLA EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING - November 1, 1986 (cont'd)

It was suggested that new SCLA membership cards be made similar to those of the American Library Association (ALA); the ALA cards are coded to denote the membership in different sections.

Reports from all Section Heads were requested to be forwarded to Katina Strauch by 4/15/87 so that they might be included in the upcoming publication of the South Carolina Librarian.

All members of SCLA were encouraged to forward newsworthy items to be included in News & Views to Mike Freeman, Co-Editor, at the University of South Carolina's Thomas Cooper Library, Reference Department, Columbia, SC 29208.

SUMMARY REPORT - SCLA EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING - January 23, 1987

The second meeting of the 1986-87 Executive Board of SCLA was held on 1/23/87 in the Board Room of the McNair law firm in Columbia, SC. Because of the inclement weather in the northwest part of the state, only fifteen (15) members of the Board were in attendance.

Below are summaries of the reports made to the Board by the Section Heads and others attending:

From: Angie Bardin, Vice-Chair, Special Libraries Section
The section is trying to start a newsletter to keep members informed and in closer communication. A luncheon meeting of special librarians in the Columbia area is being planned for February. Plans for a workshop on cataloging in special libraries are also underway.

From: Suzanne Krebsbach, Vice-President, SCLA
Suzanne met on 1/21/87 with Margot Dupuy-Howerton, Greenville County Public Library, the Local Arrangements Chair for the 1987 SCLA Conference. The conference theme under consideration is "The Constitution: Bicentennial and Beyond." Contracted dates for the conference are Wednesday, 10/14/87 through Friday, 10/16/87. The opening will be held at the Greenville Art Museum on Wednesday, 10/14/87. The main event planned for Thursday, 10/15/87, is a speech by Douglas Kiker, correspondent for NBC News. For the Friday morning breakfast on 10/16/87, the planned speaker is Lt. Governor Nick Theodore. Both Kiker and Theodore are natives of Greenville.

From: Virginia Maxim, Executive Secretary, SCLA
The SCLA Handbook is being completed and will be mailed to all members as soon as possible. Constitutional bylaws have been sent to the membership. Arrangements have been made for the SCLA Retreat on 2/21/87 at the Sheraton in Columbia, SC. The latest membership count showed that the current membership numbers 369, excluding honorary members.

SUMMARY REPORT - SCLA EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING - January 23, 1987 (cont'd)

From: Sherman E. Pyatt, Government Documents Roundtable
There will not be a spring workshop held in 1987. The roundtable is concentrating its efforts on a pre-conference program for the fall. Plans are underway to include SCLA GODORT and ALA GODORT in the program. All members are encouraged to renew their membership in the section.

From: Jane A. McGregor, Chair, Public Library Section
Membership in attendance at the SCLA Annual Conference approved a report from the Standards Committee, with an amendment, on minimum standards for public libraries. The report was subsequently approved by the State Library Board and distributed to county libraries. Three workshops for paraprofessional staff in public libraries are planned for May, 1987. The general topic will be "Interaction Between Public Service Staff and Library Users."

From: Jeronell White, Chair, Two-Year College Section
A meeting of the section officers was planned for 2/2/87 at the Midlands Technical College, in an effort to set goals for 1987 and to make plans for the conference and for a membership drive.

From: Leslie Barban, Chair, Junior Members' Roundtable (JMRT)
The main task facing the roundtable is to increase membership. Eligibility for membership in JMRT needs to receive wider publicity to help increase membership. A workshop is tentatively planned for May, 1987, and suggestions for the workshop are solicited from members.

From: Neal Martin, Southeastern Library Association (SELA), Representative
A training workshop for state association officers should be forthcoming in the spring of 1987. The workshop will be combined to include both SCLA and SELA members.

From: Katina Strauch, South Carolina Librarian, Editor
Ideas are being solicited from the membership for the 1988 ALA Annual Meeting in New Orleans, for a two-to-four hour program being developed on collection development. Members should send their suggestions for topic ideas to Katina at the College of Charleston.

Suzanne Krebsbach announced a full day seminar which she will host in Columbia, SC on April 14, 1987. All librarians are invited to join the seminar, which is being planned for records' managers.

A MESSAGE FOR PROSPECTIVE JMRT* MEMBERS

* Junior Members Round Table

"When I joined the Junior Members Round Table (JMRT) of SCLA, it was the first active professional move I made as a librarian. Now I am Chairman of JMRT, and I know how important it is for library school students and new professionals to become active in JMRT. Attending SCLA functions, and those of JMRT in particular, allows new librarians to get that first foot in the door and make good contacts for finding enjoyable and stimulating professional jobs in South Carolina. You make contact with a large number of diverse librarians all at once, and let those other SCLA and JMRT members know who you are too. You might find yourself interviewing with a librarian you met at the JMRT Luncheon at the Annual Convention (a highly-attended Convention highlight).

"You can discover important aspects of librarianship, as well as give you direct contact with more established professionals who know all the ins and outs of their field and of South Carolina's libraries. For new librarians, JMRT creates an atmosphere of innovation, creativity, and energy. The members are (for the most part) the most recently educated in the discipline, and are eager to learn more.

"If you're new to the profession, or new to SC, I strongly urge you to join JMRT for a good beginning in SCLA and all it has to offer. Join now, and attend our business meetings, workshops, and luncheons. A JMRT Workshop is being planned for the spring. And don't forget that JMRT has been the beginning for many familiar and proven leaders in SCLA, including Susan Hollifield (past president of SCLA) and Helen Ann Rawlinson (Deputy Director of Richland County Public Library). Please give serious thought to joining JMRT now. It's a great step forward for your career...."

--Leslie Barban, Richland County Public Library

STATE LEGISLATIVE UPDATE / LIBRARIES

On November 5, the Budget and Control Board (BCB) acted to confirm budget reductions which had been reported by the press for several weeks. The cut in 1985-86 appropriations amounts to 2.6% across-the-board except for certain agencies and programs exempted. The total reduction for the SC State Library's appropriation was $129,173, with $80,761 coming from state aid for public libraries and $48,412 from state library operations. The operations' cuts will be taken from the book budget and network operations.

The 1987-88 SC Budget recommended to the General Assembly by the BCB included an additional 2.2% reduction, or a cumulative cut of 4.8% for all agencies. For FY88, the reduction in state aid will be $149,098, and in state library operations $89,375, for a total cut of $238,473.

FEDERAL LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

For the sixth year in a row, President Reagan would eliminate Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) Title II Library programs. The President submitted requests to rescind all FY87 funds already appropriated for LSCA II construction, LSCA VI Literacy, HEA II-B Training and Research, and HEA II-C Research Library grants. The 45 legislative day period for congressional review of these proposals began on January 6, 1987; but, unless Congress agrees, funds will then be released.

1987 SCLA PLANNING RETREAT HELD FEBRUARY 21

The 1987 SCLA Planning Retreat was held on 2/21/87 at the Sheraton Columbia Northwest (Columbia, SC) to discuss the theme of "Relevancy." Forty-two (42) members were present, and the meeting began at 9:30 A.M. and lasted until 12:05 P.M. President Barbara Jenkins presided, and the group ranked the discussion topics in order of importance; the members then discussed the topics, and many good suggestions were made from the discussion groups to the attendees.

The topics, ranked from most important to least important by the group, were:

- Government & Community Organization
- Mentoring in SC Libraries
- Recruitment
- Political Networking
- Defining the Place of Support Staff in SCLA
- Performance Measures
- Enhancing our Journal (SC Librarian)
- Assisting JMRT

Some of the more interesting suggestions were: develop a Speakers Bureau (recruitment); develop a Support Staff Round Table (support staff); publish documents/paper from workshops in SC Librarian (enhance journal); compile a list of funding sources (govt/comm. organ.); and, appoint an Advisory Board to work with JMRT (assist JMRT).

Some of the Standing Committee chairs present at the retreat reported on their goals and objectives to the attendees. The President stated that the Planning Committee would meet and further discuss the goals proposed by the groups. The highest priority would be given to the most important and most feasible suggestions, and work on those would begin immediately.

TAKE TIME TO READ
National Library Week
April 5-11, 1987

The power and pleasures of reading and the library are celebrated with the 1987 National Library Week theme "Take time to read," which also salutes "1987 — The Year of the Reader" proclaimed by the Library of Congress's Center for the Book.

Take time to start planning now and use this NLW Tip Sheet to help make every week special at your library. Start by checking out these month by month promotion ideas.

JANUARY: WARM UP TO THE LIBRARY
Generate some lively conversation this winter with a "Let's Talk About It" reading and discussion series. More than 30,000 adults in 30 states have participated in this exciting program first developed with funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities. In 1987, the "Let's Talk About It" program materials, including brochures, posters and promotion kit, will be for sale to libraries nationwide for the first time. Choose from six themes:
* Making a living, Making a Life: Work and Its Rewards in a Changing America
* The Way We Were, the Way We Are—Seasons in the Contemporary American Family
* Not for Children Only
* Being Ethnic, Becoming American: Struggles, Successes, Symbols
* What America Reads: Myth Making in Popular Fiction
* Individual Rights and Community in America

For more information contact: Sandra Cooper, Let's Talk About It, American Library Association.

FEBRUARY: LOVE MY LIBRARIAN!
Sponsor a "Love my librarian" contest open to all ages and all types of entries — essays, sonnets, pictures. Announce the winners at a Valentine's Day party. Everyone wears a "Love my librarian" tag. Best entry wins a big box of chocolates. Have a demonstration of how librarians find the answers to all kinds of questions. Follow up with a Trivia Contest.

MARCH: THE LIBRARY MEANS BUSINESS
Take time to manage time. Plan a program on time management with local experts sharing their insights (company presidents, psychologists, educators).

APRIL: NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK
Launch National Library Week at your library or school with a special "Take time to read" program featuring local notables talking about and/or reading:
  a) their current or childhood favorites
  b) books which they consider important/have made a difference in their lives

This could also be a sort of read-a-thon spread out over a day or the entire week. Or, try a lunch hour program with several people reading or talking about their favorite books for five minutes. Invite the mayor, school superintendent, principal, star athletes, radio and tv personalities, local authors, newspaper editor, other VIP's to "Take 5 to read." Have sack lunches for sale. Print a special bookmark with names of readers and their books to publicize your event. Use for give aways, autographing.

Remember: School Library Media Month
TAKE TIME TO LEARN TO READ

VOLUNTEER HERE Launch a literacy campaign in your community. The Kemper County Public Library, in Meridian, Miss., launched theirs during NLW '86. There are an estimated 29 million adults in this country who can't read well enough to hold a job -- or read a story to their children. Your library can help. Recruit volunteer tutors, develop a collection of special materials for beginning adult readers, cooperate with other community literacy programs. Develop a special promotional campaign using the media. For free packet of helpful information, contact the Coalition for Literacy, American Library Association, 50 E. Huron, Chicago, IL 60611.
