FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Once again we are preparing for our annual conference. This year's conference at the Radisson Hotel in Columbia looks to be a real special one. Not only has Sarah McMaster, her committees and the various sections and roundtables done an excellent job of securing outstanding speakers and making arrangements, but it is a special occasion as we celebrate "75 Years of Leadership" to the library profession and libraries in South Carolina.

I urge you to plan now to attend as much of the conference in Columbia as you possibly can. Regardless of the type of library you work in or your area of specialization, there will be something for you. A special treat will be our conference reception at the Caroliniana Library. In a real sense we will be returning to the scene of the founding of our organization. You may see or hear the ghosts of librarians past there with us as we celebrate their foresight in the beginning of a library association in South Carolina in 1915.

I would also urge you to consider the special offer for membership renewal for 1991. As you will see on page 27 of this issue, a special discount will be available to those who pay their 1991 dues prior to the end of the 1990 conference. I would also like to remind our libraries that an institutional membership should be considered for 1990 - NOW. For the $100 dues, not only is the library supporting the South Carolina Library Association, but they receive a number of tangible benefits in so doing, not the least of which is the payment of conference fees for two of their staff or trustee members. In addition the library will receive its official copy of this newsletter.

SCLA's Executive Secretary Makes Changes in Her Life!

Question: Is Drucie Reeves, SCLA's Executive Secretary, Chief Cook, and Bottle Washer,

1. changing jobs?
2. getting married?
3. moving?
4. all of the above?

You guessed it, the answer is number 4. Now we know Drucie is a mover and a shaker, but this is getting ridiculous.

As of July, Drucie is the District Media Coordinator for Berkeley County School District. In addition, Drucie is in the process of moving to Goose Creek. Finally, Drucie and Tom Raines, Deputy Director of the Charleston County Public Library, plan to tie the knot on August 31.

Try reaching Drucie Raines (new name) at:
Berkeley County School District

SCASL AWARD

In addition to all of the above, in March Drucie received the 1990 President's Award from the South Carolina Association of School Librarians. This award was given to Drucie for her distinguished leadership in the field of librarianship, for her invaluable advice and input, and for her continued and dedicated service to SCASL.

Congratulations Drucie!

State Delegates Being Sought for White House Conference

The Delegate Selection Committee is seeking eight delegates and four alternates to represent South Carolina at the White House Conference on Library and Information Services. The Conference is to be held July 9-13, 1991, in Washington, D.C., with the theme: "Library and Information Services for Literacy, Productivity, and Democracy."

The South Carolina delegation will be equally divided among librarians, active library Trustees and Friends, elected or appointed government officials (local, state, and federal) and interested citizens. Priority will be given to persons participating in any of the Pre-White House Conference activities which will be held at the local and state levels during Summer and Fall 1990.

Delegates should be prepared for a commitment of time, participation, and becoming familiar with the issues involved, such as the roles of federal, state, and local governments in library services and the impact of changing technology on libraries. All delegate expenses for the Conference will be reimbursed by the South Carolina White House Conference Advisory Committee in accordance with State of South Carolina travel regulations.

If you would like to be a delegate, please complete the form on page 6. The information you provide on this form will be the primary basis for delegate selection, so we urge you to fill it out as completely as possible. The personal information requested will not be used in a discriminatory fashion, but will help the Committee to make the delegation as broadly representative as possible. All applicants must be residents of South Carolina. Application forms should be returned by November 9, 1990.

Statewide Teleconference on Library Services

The South Carolina Pre-White House Conference Advisory Committee cordially invites you to attend the Statewide Teleconference on Library Services Tuesday, October 30, 1990, 1:30-4:00 p.m.

A statewide teleconference on libraries and their importance for South Carolina's future will be held on October 30, 1990. Utilizing the facilities of the South Carolina ETV Network, participants will include Governor Carroll Campbell, Business leaders, government officials and any interested citizens. No advance registration is required, so interested citizens may plan to attend any of the teleconference sites listed on the next page. Members of the viewing audience will be encouraged to call in with their questions and comments.

Similar activities are being held all across the United States as a preface to the national White House Conference on Library and Information Services, which will be held in July of 1991, with the theme "Library Services for Literacy, Productivity and Democracy." South Carolina is allotted eight delegates to the national conference, and any interested citizen may apply to be a delegate.

Dr. Robert Wedgeworth, keynote speaker for the teleconference, presently serves as Dean of the School of Library Service at Columbia University, the oldest school in its field in the world. He served as the Executive Director of the American Library Association for thirteen years.

Please see Delegate Application Form on page 6.

A TRADITION OF LEADERSHIP

SIXTY-FOURTH
ANNUAL CONVENTION

October 17-19, 1990

Radisson Hotel
Columbia, South Carolina

CALL TO CONFERENCE
Message from the vice-president. . .

Your President, Vice-President and Executive Board members have been hard at work planning a special conference for you this year. The theme A Tradition of Leadership celebrates our 75th year as an association.

Three pre-conference programs will get us off to a great start. Then don't miss our exciting general session speakers, the informative programs planned by the sections and round tables, or the latest products brought to you by our exhibitors. Ride a vintage Columbia trolley car from the Radisson to the South Caroliniana Library, site of this year's special 75th anniversary convention reception.

Set aside Wednesday, October 17th through Friday, October 19th for fun, fellowship, and professional development. See you in Columbia!

PRECONFERENCE WORKSHOP ON
LIBRARY ARCHITECTURE AND INTERIOR DESIGN

The goal of the workshop is to examine library architectural and interior design, its current status and future trends. Concerns most expressed by librarians will also be addressed. Questions will be invited.

F. EARLE GAULDEN. A principal with the architectural firm of CRAIG, GAULDEN & DAVIS, INC., Mr. Gaulden has had extensive experience with the architectural design, renovation and/or expansion of approximately 22 public, college and university libraries in the southeast. He was the recipient of the S. C. State Library's Public Service Award for "creating buildings which are aesthetically pleasing as well as functional in design." His library designs have earned for him certificates of merit from the S. C. Chapter of the A.I.A.

DAVID LEROY MICHAELS. With his wife, Andrea, Mr. Michaels is a principal with the interior design firm of MICHAELS ASSOCIATES DESIGN CONSULTANTS located in Alexandria, Virginia. His firm has been commissioned to do the interior design for approximately 55 public, college and university library construction projects throughout the southeast and the nation. In addition, his firm has done space planning studies for 27 libraries. Both he and Mrs. Michaels are involved in a number of committee activities of the American Library Association.

THE WORKSHOP IS CO-SPONSORED BY THE PUBLIC LIBRARY SECTION AND THE TRUSTEE SECTION OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

REGISTRATION FEE: $20.00 (Includes continental breakfast and lunch)
LOCATION: Radisson Hotel, 927 Assembly St., Columbia, SC 29601 Phone 803-799-8200
DATE AND TIME: 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, October 16, 1990

AUGUSTA BAKER is a famed storyteller as well as an author and professor. A native of Baltimore, Maryland, she holds bachelor's degrees in education and librarianship from the State University of New York. She has served as Coordinator of Children's Services at the New York Public Library and has also been a teacher and librarian. She has edited several books and co-authored with Ellin Greene, Storytelling: Art and Technique. Mrs. Baker has served as chairperson of the Newbery Caldecott Award Committee of the American Library Association and was the recipient of the Clarence Day Award in 1974. She holds honorary doctorates from St. John's University and the University of South Carolina. Mrs. Baker is primarily interested in using storytelling to bring children and literature together. She is currently a professor and Storyteller-in-Residence at the University of South Carolina.

TOM FEELINGS, renowned artist and illustrator, was born in Brooklyn, New York. He attended the School of Visual Arts in the 1950's. He has worked as a freelance artist publishing in various black newspapers and Look magazine. In 1964, he went to Ghana, West Africa, where he worked for the government magazine The African Review, taught illustration, and was an art consultant for the government publishing house. In 1966, he returned to the U. S. and illustrated fourteen books between 1966 and 1977 including To Be a Slave, Black Pilgrimage, Moja Means One, and Jambo Means Hello. Awards and honors received by Mr. Feelings include Caldecott Honor Books in 1972 and 1974, Brooklyn Arts Books for Children, Horn Book Award, runner-up for the Coretta Scott King Award in 1978, and a nomination for the American Book Award in 1982.

CYNTHIA GRAHAM is a native of Charleston, South Carolina and received her Master's from the University of South Carolina-College of Library and Information Science. She is Branch Head of the John L. Dart Library in Charleston and is working on a history of Black Charlestonian authors and literature.
Archives and Special Collections

ERNEST M. LANDER, JR., professor emeritus of history at Clemson University, is the author and editor of numerous books on the Palmetto State, among them A History of South Carolina, South Carolina an Illustrated History, and The Calhoun Family and Thomas Green Clemson. He has also served in leadership positions of the South Carolina Historical Association, the Southern Historical Association, the American Association of University Professors, on editorial boards of journals, and in local and state historic preservation groups.

On-Line Users Group and Resource Sharing Round Table

SANDRA WILLIAMS is the senior Marketing Representative for OCLC Services with the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET). In addition to marketing and providing membership information to potential SOLINET members, Ms. Williams is a key SOLINET liaison with OCLC and represents the network at national and state library association and user group meetings throughout the 10-state Southeast region and the Caribbean.

Technical Services and Government Documents Round Table

MICHAEL GORMAN is Dean of Library Services, California State University at Fresno. He is the author/editor of numerous books, articles, and reviews including Convergence: Proceedings of 2nd National LITA Conference, Oct. 1988, Boston, MA; Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, 2nd ed. rev.; with Paul Winkler, Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, 2nd ed. In addition to serving on American, British, and international committees, Mr. Gorman has presented papers on academic libraries, public service and technical service relationships, library cooperation, and library leadership. For his contributions in cataloging and classification, Dean Gorman received ALA's 1979 Margaret Mann Citation.
College and University Section and Public Services Section

ABIGAIL LOOMIS has a solid background as both a university lecturer and as an academic librarian which aptly lends itself to her present position as Coordinator of Library User Instruction at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Much of her library career was spent at Northern Illinois University where her years of service were a progression from Library Technical Assistant to Reference Librarian to Coordinator of Library Instruction. Similarly, her long list of accomplishments in librarianship both as a writer and a speaker reflect a wide variety of interests such as issues regarding library support staff and library history in addition to bibliographic instruction and information literacy.

Public Library Section and Trustee Section

JOHN JAKES was born in Chicago and began writing professionally during his freshman year at Northwestern University where he was studying acting. He decided to trade the stage for the typewriter when he sold his first story for $25. He enrolled in the creative writing program at DePauw University, graduated in 1953, and earned a Master's degree in American literature from Ohio State in 1954. In March of 1973, Jakes began work on The Kent Family Chronicles, an eight-volume series depicting the nation's history through the lives of a fictional family. All eight volumes were best-sellers. North and South, the first book in Jakes' celebrated trilogy, was published in 1982; all three books were number one best-sellers, and two were made into major miniseries. His meticulous research and vibrant depiction of our nation's past led the Los Angeles Times to dub him "the godfather of historical novelists." Jakes is a member of the Authors League, the Dramatists Guild, American P.E.N., Western Writers of America, and Mystery Writers of America. He has received honorary degrees from Wright University, Winthrop College, and DePauw, where he was a trustee for eight years. He is actively involved as a director and actor in several community theatres, including Hilton Head Island Community Playhouse. Jakes and his wife, Rachel, split their time between Hilton Head in South Carolina and Greenwich, Connecticut.

Library Administration Section

PAM BARRON is Assistant Professor at the University of South Carolina, College of Library and Information Science. She has a BA from the University of Florida and MLA and PhD degrees from Florida State University. As content and research supervisor, she helped develop "Jump Over the Moon," an award-winning 15-part telecourse on children's literature. Dr. Barron is active in many professional associations both as a member and as a program presenter.

SECTIONS

College & University Libraries
This Section and the Public Library Section will co-sponsor the Convention program, but the joint workshop being planned must be revised because the proposed speaker requires a fee in excess of our budget.

Chair, Mitzi M. Jarrell

Library Administration
The Convention program will focus on weeding and determining the age of a library's book collection.

Chair, Faith Line

Public Services
Plans are being finalized, with SCYPS, for a September 28 workshop on Curriculum-Based Instruction and Information Problem Solving.

Chair, Phillip Powell

Services for Children & Youth in Schools & Public Libraries (SCYPS)
The Section's Convention program, being co-sponsored by NMRT, will feature August Baker, Tom Feelings, and Cynthia Graham on the "Black Experience."

Chair, Karen E. Matheny

Special Libraries
The Convention program will be a panel discussion on the acquisition process in libraries. With the SC Chapter of SLA, the Section will keep up to date and expand a directory of special libraries in South Carolina.

Chair, Jack Hurd

Technical Services
On May 21, thirty-four people attended a very successful workshop on desktop publishing. The Convention program, being co-sponsored by GODORT, will feature Michael Gorman on "Librarianship 2001: the Tradition Continues."

Chair, Cynthia Yarborough

Trustee
A total of 381 lapel pins were purchased by 38 libraries for the "Year of the Trustee." The Trustee Section will join the Public Library Section in co-sponsoring a Convention program.

Chair, Claude Blakely

COMMITTEES

Awards
Over 700 fliers have been mailed announcing the nomination process for Outstanding Librarian and Friend of Libraries awards. Plans are underway for the Awards Breakfast at the Convention. See article on page 24.

Chair, Norman Belk

Constitution and Bylaws
The description of the Resource Sharing Roundtable has been reviewed and is ready for inclusion in the SCLA Handbook.

Chair, Barbara Yonce

Continuing Education
Please send completed evaluation forms on workshops to Jane Mason. Ideas for publicity and checklists in helping plan workshops are available upon request.

Chair, Jane Mason

Library & Personnel Standards
American Libraries now lists our minimum starting salary. The Ad Hoc Committee on Interlibrary Loans should make a report at the September Executive Board meeting. The Committee has drawn up short, medium, and long-range activity plans in accordance with SCLA's planning document.

Chair, Linda Allman

Planning
A preliminary draft of the 1990-92 Long Range Plan was circulated to the Executive Board prior to this meeting. It is a refinement of the previous three year plan with revisions and some new statements. The final report will be presented at the July Executive Board meeting.

Chair, Maureen Harris

These reports have been condensed from reports submitted to the SCLA Secretary at the May Board meeting.
Roundup

Archives and Special Collections
About 40 people attended the April workshop on "Is Your Collection Secure?" The Convention program will feature prominent South Carolina historian, Dr. Ernest Lander, speaking on how libraries can better meet the needs of researchers.
Chair, Dennis Taylor

Government Documents
A workshop in August or September will highlight state government databases available for public access or referral with online demonstrations. The Convention program will be co-sponsored with the Technical Services Section.
Chair, Stephen Smith

New Members
A script has been written and slides have been collected for a promotional presentation to be used at the Convention. A September 7th workshop, co-sponsored by the Technical Services Section, is being planned on employee appraisals.
Chair, Patricia Luken Smith

Online Users
The Chem Abstracts workshop planned for May was cancelled because of not being able to meet the $2,200 guarantee. Other dates are being considered.
Chair, Mary Reimer

Resources Sharing
The Convention program will be co-sponsored with the Online Users Roundtable on OCLC's EPIC online search system.
Chair, Lisa Ridenour

ETC.

ALA Councilor - Frankie Cubbedge
The State Chapter booth at the ALA Convention was to feature displays on legislative and trustee items. Frankie asked the Board for a $10 donation to help offset the cost of the booth. This was approved unanimously.

Federal Relations Coordinator - Jim Johnson
Twelve people attended the National Legislative Day in April, met with all of our Congressional delegation, and received a good response. They received encouragement that LSC Title I & II would be funded despite the Administration's recommendation of zero. All six of our representatives made speeches on behalf of libraries for the second consecutive year.

Executive Secretary - Drucie Reeves
Provided mailing labels to sections and others as requested and prepared several mailings. Changed database as requested by Executive Board for better retrieval of statistics. Making extensive corrections on the Handbook. Met with the Conference Planning Committee.

Presentation Skills for Librarians Workshop

Co-sponsored by the Public Services Section and the College & Universities Section, Dr. Sherron B. Kenton of Emory University will lead a workshop on "presentation skills for librarians."

It is scheduled to take place on September 14, 1990 at the South Carolina State Museum in Columbia. A program similar to that which will be presented was described in the Spring 1990 issue of the Southeastern Librarian in an article titled "It's Not What You Say: Presentation Skills for B. I. Librarians." Dr. Kenton has been asked to broaden the range of the program to address the needs of both public and academic librarians.

In this time of heightened public awareness of library services and a greater emphasis on lifelong learning through information literacy programs, librarians are finding themselves communicating with groups of all types more and more frequently. This could be an excellent opportunity to hone those presentation skills and learn from an expert ways to become a more effective communicator.

Registration forms should be in the mail by mid-August. If, as you read this, you have not received a form, contact Phillip Powell (College of Charleston) at 792-8006 or FAX: 792-8019.

SCSC Library Exhibits Display at National Convention

A user survey conducted by the Miller F. Whittaker Library was the subject of an exhibit displayed at the national convention of the American Library Association held in Chicago, June 23-28, 1990. This exhibit was presented by Ms. Theodosia T. Shields, Assistant Professor and assistant Coordinator of Collection Development, who submitted the initial proposal in January.

The Poster Sessions are bulletin board displays of research, program and problem solving ideas, and have been a popular addition to the American Library Association conference program since 1982. The sessions provide an opportunity for selected librarians to present their research findings and innovative programs. Of the numerous applications received, this exhibit was selected. It is also the first time that South Carolina State College has ever participated in the Conference's Poster Sessions.

The user survey was conducted during the weeks of April 12-18 and June 22-27, 1987. The purpose of the study was to investigate patterns of use of library resources and services. The survey was also coordinated by Ms. Shields.

Dr. Barbara Williams Jenkins, Dean of Library & Information Services and Mrs. Patricia M. Stukes, Reference & Information Specialist also attended the conference.
